Season Outlook

Five of eight better players were graduated in '73, including Central's leading scorer and rebounder, three-time All-American Rich Hanson. Remaining is a young, yet potentially strong team.

Six-foot-seven forward Dave McDow and quick six-foot guard Remond Henderson (both frequent starters in '73) head basketball returnees. Also retained is forward Bill Eldred, a good jumper with inside board experience.

Transfer Ned Delmore, former scoring leader of UPS, has shooting and passing abilities which will benefit CWSC.

COACH DEAN NICHOLSON:

Overall win-loss record 206-64. NAIA District - 1 record of at least 20 wins in eight out of nine past seasons. Seven NAIA titles for District-1. Seven Evergreen Conference Championships, including last year.

Nicholson was NAIA Coach-of-the-Year in 1970. He was named a coach for the U.S.-Pan American Development Camp that same year. Since 1970, Nicholson has served as official NAIA representative to the U.S. Olympics Basketball Committee. In 1971, he coached the Olympic Development Camp, Colorado Springs. He also was there as one of eight U.S. Olympic basketball trials coaches, summer 1972.

Nicholson's Individual NAIA Stars:

Dave Benedict - 1967 All Tournament Team, Charles S. Stevenson Hustle Award of 1967, 1969 All-American Team; Mel Cox - 1967 All-American Team; Theartis Wallace - 1969 All-American Team; Dave Allen 1969 All-Tournament Team, Charles S. Stevenson Hustle Award-1969, 1970 All-American Team; Paul Adams - 1970 All-American Team; Rich Hanson - All-American Teams of 1971, '72 and '73.

COACH BOB GREGSON

CWSC swim coach since 1966. Win-loss record 85-10. All his teams won Evergreen Conference titles until last year when CWSC lost to Southern Oregon, the other strong District -1 team. The Wildcats had consistently held the top six places in NAIA nationals over the previous ten years.

TANK PROSPECTS

Gregson hopes the tankmen will regain their EvCo title this season. Led by All-American Joe White of Spokane and National backstroke finalist John Routh of San Francisco, the '73-'74 Wildcats will be formidable competitors.

Last year's handicap of a predominately frosh team has become this season's asset of strong sophomores who will be racing for Central two more years. Top returnees include sophomore record holders Ken Radon and Craig Brown.

Transfer students Fred Gasparach, specialist in 500 freestyle, and Dick Green, backstroker, both have swum faster than Central records. Freshmen Ed Walstead, Jerry White, and Joe Terhaar also have bettered Central times.

Another valuable addition to Gregson's squad will be champion diver Bill Campbell from Tacoma.

COACH ERIC BEARDSLEY

First and only CWSC mat coach. Overall record 97-67-4. No losing conference seasons.

Eight Evergreen Conference crowns--the only eight since wrestling was adopted by the league in 1965-66.

Beardsley was named NAIA national wrestling Coach-of-the-Year in 1971. That same year he coached Central to its first ever national title, the second national title ever won by a District #1 representative.

SEASON OUTLOOK

Last year's team captured second place in NAIA nationals with 48 1/2 points. Matmen who earned 38 of those points are returning. Among them: First-place champ Kit Shaw (142) and third-place winner Greg Gowens (134).

The Wildcats also are retaining all matmen of the '73 EvCo tourney team. Last year Central grabbed first with a narrow 8 1/2 point lead over Southern Oregon.

SOC, the formidable challenger, placed in all but one weight during the '73 conference tourney. Most of those matmen will face the Wildcats again this year.

Central Washington State College, a 350-acre campus, lies in the Kittitas Valley--major cattle country of Washington State.

The scenic valley is surrounded by nearby canyons, rivers, Wenatchee National Forest, and the Cascade Mountain Range.

Three blocks from the southern edge of campus is downtown Ellensburg, 14,000 population.

New freeways provide easy access for the 110 miles to Seattle, 35 miles to Yakima, 180 miles to Spokane, and 225 miles to Portland, Oregon.

Central is noted not only for exceptional teacher training, but also for excellent music and athletic departments.

In addition to liberal arts, vocational and pre-professional training are emphasized. (Pre-med students from CWSC usually rank in the top three percent of their medical school class.)

For students of languages, international housing is available. Students of creative arts may reside in communities designed for art, music and drama students.
