Welcome Alumni
To The 1948 Homecoming

Eastern Washington vs Central Washington
"SAVAGES" "WILDCATS"

Rodeo Field
Ellensburg, Wash.
Homecoming Greetings:

I am happy to join with the students and staff in extending a warm welcome to alumni and friends on this Homecoming occasion. This is your day and the welcome sign is out on every door on the campus. The football game today is with Eastern which has always been a rival that has stimulated general interest. This game is the climax of the 1948 football season and I trust that the same good sportsmanship prevails as has characterized the rivalry between these two colleges in the past. Two fine teams will meet today so we expect to witness many exciting performances.

May this be a pleasant homecoming day.

Robert E. McConnell, President
Central Washington College of Education

CRIMSON "W" CLUB WELCOMES ALUMNAE

The "W" Club, the athletic award winners organization at Central joins the entire college in welcoming you back to the campus. The events of this Homecoming weekend are planned, practiced and put on for you, the alums, in an effort to renew old memories of your past days here at Central.

Not apart from the other events is this contest between Central Washington Wildcats and Eastern Washington's hard-hitting Savages this afternoon. E.W.C. is a big, tough, fast ball club and is a definite favorite. However, Central has a particular advantage today. That advantage is the support we have received from you, the alumni, throughout this season. Your support has been a definite contribution to a successful football season for the Wildcats.

The "W" Club wants to thank all you alums for your support and urges that you keep up the good work, not only this football season, but the rest of the school year and coming years as well.

In conclusion we only ask that you observe the ball game today. We are confident that it will well show you how your appreciated backing makes for a fighting Central squad.

Robert G. McCullough
Pres. of "W" Club
1948
Homecoming Queen

On behalf of the students of Central Washington College, I would like to extend a sincere welcome to all former students, alumni, and visitors on our campus this weekend. With the wonderful cooperation and spirit of the student body, we know that this will be the most outstanding Homecoming in the history of our school. We hope that you have enjoyed the activities planned for you and will continue to participate in our Homecoming events.

The Evergreen Conference

The Evergreen Intercollegiate Conference, one of the biggest little-college athletic leagues on the coast, is off to a flying start in this, its first year of operation, and—backing up this statement is the terrific football record its members have piled up in winning 14 out of 18 games against non-conference opposition.

Formation of the new conference took place late last spring, with seven schools making up the charter membership. They include: Central Washington College, Eastern Washington College, Pacific Lutheran College, St. Martin’s College, Western Washington College and Whitworth College, all former members of the old Washington Intercollegiate Conference, and College of Puget Sound, formerly of the Northwest Conference.

An eighth member, University of British Columbia, has been granted membership into the conference, and it will commence Evergreen competition during the coming basketball season. U.B.C. is currently engaged in Northwest conference football action but will switch to the Evergreen grid schedule in 1949.

Having the honor of serving as the conference’s first president is Leo Nicholson, Central’s long-time, successful director of athletics. Perry Mitchell, prominent coast athletic official and a Renton publisher, is commissioner of the conference.

The name of the conference was taken from Washington, the “Evergreen” state, and all the members with the exception of the University of British Columbia, located in British Columbia but very close to W.W.C. and Bellingham, comprise our state’s fast-growing smaller colleges which may give way to the bigger colleges in size but more than make up for it in spirit.

The Evergreen conference is definitely big-time on a small-college scale but watch it grow in power and prestige with each coming year of red-hot action in all the major sports.

Pre-Game Statement by Coach Shorty Luft:

On behalf of the Central football squad I wish to extend a welcome to the Central Alumni on this Homecoming. I am ever mindful that I am fortunate to direct football here at the College and it is with a great deal of pride and joy that we, the coaching staff, can present to you a group of men who have paid the premiums in football. Premiums are paid in the form of strenuous and often punishing physical effort, in loyalty and cooperation, and in the subordination of self interest for the good of the team.

We meet a fine and capable opponent in Eastern. Their 1948 record has been impressive and up to the present, the Savages must in their final game emerge victorious in order to remain in the title race. Although Central’s title aspiration was throttled by the slim margin of defeat a week ago—The Wildcats, who ask no quarter, will be out to make this a homecoming long remembered by its faculty, students, patrons, and its alumni.

Wilbur E. Luft, Football Coach

CENTRAL’S COACHING STAFF
Ralph Grant, Shelley Kem, Head Coach Shorty Luft, Arne Faust

Speaking for the team, I would like to welcome all of the alumni back to Central for homecoming. This year we have the largest enrollment in the history of the school and they have all pitched in to help make this the biggest and best homecoming yet. I can assure you the team will do its part.

Our opponents for the homecoming game are our traditional rivals from Cheney, the Eastern Washington Savages. They boast a big line and fast backfield, and are rated as one of the best small college teams in the nation.

We here at Central hold no fear of them. Although our team is small in comparison, it is a tough, scrappy outfit, and so far has held its own with the best in the conference. Win, lose or draw, I can promise you a good ball game, and the Savages a busy afternoon.

Captain Bob Osgood
"The Wildcats of Central Washington are one of our toughest opponents from year to year, and we are not excluding today. This is their Homecoming and they will be fired up, but we have had a very good year, with the exception of our game with the College of Puget Sound, and our boys will be all out to keep that record as clean as we can, even with that one loss. I have always enjoyed my competition against the Wildcats, and I am sorry that this will be my final appearance against them in Collegiate competition."
—Leonard "Bud" Thrapp, Co-captain

"Today marks the end of the season for the Savages, and we hope to end this season the same way we started it. With a win. To date, we have played eight games, and have been defeated in only one, giving us a record of seven wins against one loss. We are going to strive to make this eight wins against one loss, at the expense of the Central Washington College Wildcats."—Donald Rosbach, Co-captain.
