In 1983, CWU forfeited four games to Saint Martin's and withdrew from the NAIA national tournament after Saint coach Joe Meagher notified the Wildcats, prior to the District championship game, that Wildcat center Jerome Williams might be ineligible. The Saints never again beat a Dean Nicholson coached team, losing 16 straight, including a 122-66 decision in the "revenge" game before a sellout crowd the next season in Ellensburg. . . Except for the 1983 forfeits, the Saints have only once won back-to-back games against the 'Cats (1991-92) or back-to-back games at Lacey (1977-78) or Ellensburg (1980-81). CWU won 19 straight home games against Saint Martin's between 1932 and 1953. The 'Cats then put together a 29-game home-court win streak between 1957 and 1979. CWU won 14 straight at Lacey between 1979 and 1990 (though they later forfeited two of the wins) and 10 straight between 1941 and 1950. . . The two teams have played three overtime games with CWU winning in double overtime at Lacey in 1942 and 1995 and in single overtime at Lacey in 1984. . . CWU coach Greg Sparling is 21-5 against Saint Martin's, 11-3 at Nicholson Pavilion and 10-2 at Lacey. Sparling also coached two other games against the Saints in 1995 at CWU, losing 73-71 and winning 78-63, but officially Gil Coleman, who was hospitalized at the time, is credited with those two contests. . . Sparling is 4-2 against his former assistant Keith Cooper. Between 2002 and 2004, the visiting team won all six games in the series.

As members of the Evergreen Conference, CWU and WOU played home-and-home series between 1971 and 1978 and CWU won all 16. Even though there was no official conference schedule, the two teams met in 1984 and 1985 for the conference title. In the 1984 game at Monmouth, Jon Jordon, one of the top clutch shooters in school history, drilled a 22-footer at the buzzer to give the Wildcats a one-point overtime victory. . .Western Oregon's only victory at Nicholson Pavilion came in 2005. It also won in Ellensburg in 2005. . .Sparling is 11-5 against the Wolves.

(Review because of game added in 1983-84)

Western Washington has won the last seven games in Bellingham to tie up the all-time series in that city at 55 wins apiece. CWU has a 28-29 record (including one forfeit loss) at Carver Gymnasium, which opened during the 1961-62 team. . Western lost 24 straight games at Nicholson Pavilion between 1973 and 1988 and the Vikings all-time mark in the Pavilion is 14-48. .In addition to putting together a 24-game home winning streak against the Vikings, CWU won 13 straight home games over WWU between 1928 and 1939. The Vikings won four straight at Ellensburg between 1924 and 1927. . .CWU won 10 straight games in Bellingham between 1928 and 1936 and six straight between 1989 and 1991. . .The teams have played 11 overtime games with the Wildcats winning six. The Vikings, however, have won the last three overtime contests. Only one game has required more than one extra period, a 33-30 Western double overtime victory in 1927. . .Brad Jackson has an all-time record of 24-36 against CWU. He, however, has won nine of the last 11 and leads Sparling 13-12 in their head-to-head matches, including 3-1 in overtime contests.
