MY CLASS A-400

Foreword

It is with great pleasure that the staff presents the 1956 edition of the HYAKEM to the student body of Central Washington College of Education.

With the education of every man, woman, and child in the world foremost in everyone's mind, the staff felt that this is the time to bring forth a book with "EDUCATION" as a theme. So with this in mind the staff went to work on the theme of education . . . free education for all regardless of religion, race, or creed.

It may seem the cartoons are harsh, but if we, the people in education, can't laugh at ourselves first, then we are lost. For through humor as well as through serious thinking, many battles are won.

Dedication

. . . FREEDOM OF EDUCATION
. . . FREEDOM OF THE PRESS
. . . FREEDOM OF RELIGION
. . . FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY

WITHDRAWN

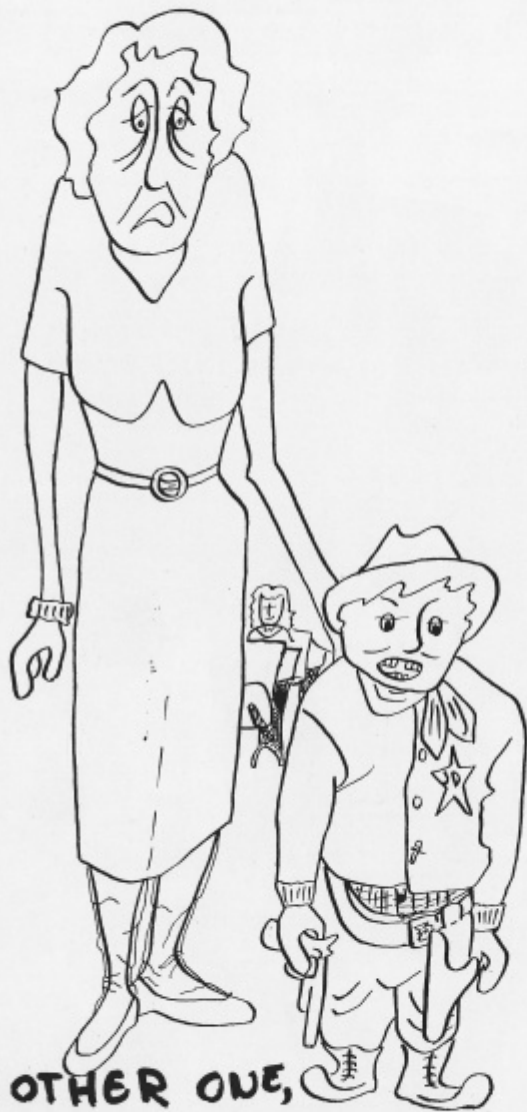

The four great freedoms . . . and to the first of these — Freedom of Education — and to all those in the field of education we dedicate this book.

With so much emphasis placed on the importance of an education, it is the general feeling that those people — the educators of our great nation— deserve a tribute.

With great pride, the editor extends the thanks of every man, woman, and child to all those in the profession of teaching. First to the instructors of C.W.C.E.; secondly, to all the teachers in the state of Washington; third, to all who teach in this great nation of ours, and last, to all those who profess the right to the four freedoms all over the world.

Thanks, thanks for a job well done!

AN OTHER ONE,
THAT MAKES 48

I SAID "EINSTEIN AND HIS THEORY! PHOOEY!"

President's Message

The custom of publishing a yearbook each college year seems to me to be a fortunate one. No other publication leaves as clear a record of the activities of the year as does the yearbook. I have discovered that, when we hold reunions of any of the classes, the yearbook serves as the greatest source of information about students and their colleagues. In future years the yearbooks serve as albums to which one may turn for records and pictures of college people, college buildings and college events.

The 1956 Hyakem will be cherished by all of those who were on the campus during this year. I am happy to join with the staff and the students in complimenting the Editor on the production of this fine volume. Likewise, I join with others in extending best wishes to the seniors who are leaving the campus for their careers.

Robert E. McConnell
President

One of the oldest and most cherished of college traditions is that of the college annual. Throughout the nation college students have been busily working on their yearbooks. Here at Central we are ready once again to turn the pages of our Hyakem, which brings us the reassurance that the good times and friendships of our college years will not be forgotten but will live on in this CWCE family album of memories.

To you, our graduating seniors, we extend our good wishes for success and happiness in your chosen fields.

To our Hyakem editor, Richard Wining, and his loyal staff, and to their adviser, Miss Bonnie Wiley, we extend our sincere appreciation for the many hours of labor so cheerfully given to produce this very fine yearbook.

Annette H. Hitchcock
Dean of Women

As the final days of your college life draw near, it is with mixed emotions that you now reminisce. The kaleidoscopic panorama of achievements and failures, of joy and unhappiness, of friends and of events now lies behind you. All of these things are meaningless mementoes of the past unless with them you have acquired the logic and vision and understanding that will enable you to make your life and this world as you want it to be.

I have confidence in your ability to do this. My very best wishes go with you.

Hundreds enjoyed an outdoor lunch at the rodeo field during the Fresh Orientation rodeo.

Freshmen initiation week was filled with activity from sunrise to sunset.

The freshman girls just could not get enough business to keep them busy.

The luncheon menu at the rodeo field included everything from beans to barbecue burgers.

Freshman Class

Central is proud of its little ones, the freshman class. From the day they first got here they have earned and kept the unofficial title of "The Friendliest Class in the Friendliest College."

Spoon-playing Alden Esping was elected freshman president early in the year and competently led his class to high esteem. Others also elected as leaders of the group were Terry Jansen, vice president; Virginia Calli, secretary; Nellie Punch, treasurer; and Joy Barsotti and Dan Bosler, social commissioners. Dr. Mayberry and Dr. Rodine were co-advisers for the class.

The freshmen first proved their merit by displaying both spirit and sportsmanship throughout their trying initiation by the sophomores, and again when, although organized only a few days, they took an active part in Homecoming by preparing a skit for stunt night and by entering a float in the parade. A while later the youngest Centralites successfully sponsored a dance, the "Drumstick Rag," complete with live music. The year has been full of the freshmen's activities, each one helping to raise and round out their fine reputation.

But the year has passed, and Central has elevated its bright-faced freshmen to the second rung on the ladder of higher education, the sophomore class. Still fun-loving but definitely wiser, Sweecy's Class of 1959 has taken the first step toward becoming a group of fine and friendly college graduates.

P.T.A. MEETING?
NATURALLY I'LL BE THERE.

The S.G.A. Council joins me in thanking the administration, faculty and students for what we feel has been a highly successful year. Although this year's council was not able to accomplish all that it set out to do, still, a good number of changes have marked our term as a progressive one.

It is our sincere hope that as time progresses each new successive student government will become just a little better than the one before it. After all, good student government denotes good leadership, and good leadership is one of the primary aims of modern education.

We extend the seniors our very best wishes as they graduate and depart from the campus. May they have successful years ahead.

Our sincere appreciation goes to the Hyakem staff members for giving so generously of their time and effort to create this splendid yearbook. Best wishes for all!

Walford N. Johnson
S.G.A. President

A.W.S.

This year has been a most successful one for the Associated Women Students. It was successful in that many students have had the opportunity to help plan and participate in the activities of A.W.S. this year.

Appreciation is due all the students and faculty members who so generously gave of their time and efforts to help carry out our activities.

It has been a pleasure working with such a co-operative group of women as were on the council this year.

Honor Council – Inter-Club

The chief judiciary body on campus is the Honor Council composed of three men and three women elected by popular vote of the student body. The job of these students is one of the most important jobs on campus. Cases are referred to the council by the house councils and deans.

The Inter-Club Council is composed of social commissioners or representatives from all organizations, dorms, and classes on campus. The Council meets to plan and discuss Central's social events. All campus activities must be approved by the Council, which then publishes the quarterly social calendar.

Union Board

The Union Board played an important part in satisfying students' needs in relationship with the College Union Building. Dean Stinson, Dean of Men, was chairman of the Board. Other members included the Dean of Women, the CUB manager, and four student representatives.

Student-Faculty Coordinating Board

The Student-Faculty Coordinating Board, made up of students and administrators, had one main objective in mind—to promote better relationship between students and faculty members.

Finance Committee

Budgeting of S. G. A. money is the main function of the Finance Committee. Jerry Jones, S. G. A. vice president, was chairman of this committee and one representative was chosen from each class to form the remainder of the committee.

Election Committee

Colleen Moore, S. G. A. secretary, was chairman of the Election Committee which handles all S. G. A. election. Many tense hours are spent by students waiting for the Election Committee to count ballots after elections. A representative from each class works with Miss Moore on this committee.

Spurs

"Wherever you go, there is a Spur to help you," may be a good way to describe the work of the Spurs, a honorary for Sophomore women on campus. Their work began before school started and continued through graduation in the spring.

Appearing in white skirts and sweaters with a spur emblem, these "busy beavers" were seen ushering at assemblies, plays, teas, and at graduation exercises. They worked long hours during orientation week, sold sandwiches to boost their funds, held several dances, helped with the blood drive, and had charge of many registrations for meetings on campus.

Organizing and assigning duties to the group were: Darline Allen, president; Connie Nichols, vice president; Wilma Vice, secretary; Ilene Adair, treasurer; Pat Kelleher, historian; and Sylvia Stevens, editor.

Row 1: Larry Belz, Dave Perkins, Bill Raschkow, Dave Strayer, Larry Engelsen, Harry Collins, Robert Fromke, Frederick Kiser, John Mitchell.

IRC

Members of International Relations Club have been actively united this year under the leadership of Wally Sibbert, president. Assisting him have been George Worthington, vice president; Shirley Willoughby, secretary; Don Robertson, treasurer; Russ Jones, program chairman; and Pat Short, publicity chairman.

With scheduled meetings each second and fourth Thursday, this club has offered students an opportunity to learn more about the events that are happening in the world today. In addition, IRC sponsored a special REW discussion group under the leadership of Dr. Nicholas Gouharoff, and assisted with World University Service Week. The Model United Nations is of special interest to IRC members and they have a major part in helping with this group.

 Row 2: Ross Symmons, Chuck Yenter, Dan Organ, John Owen, Bill Scholen, Larry Griffith, John Weir, Mary Pennington.

Herodoteans

With Rollie Dewing presiding, the Herodoteans, a history and social studies honorary, started the year with an informal initiation and ended it with a bean feed. Other officers were: Carol Buckner, vice president; Juanita Danielson, secretary; and Phi Corkrum, treasurer. Mr. Barto and Dr. Mohler were advisers.

The Herodoteans are the oldest organization on campus and their constitution states that all members must have a minimum of fifteen hours in advanced social studies, with a grade of "B" or better in those subjects.

Faculty and guest speakers, as well as student discussions, were featured at the regular meetings. During World University Service Week, the Herodoteans sponsored a white elephant sale.

Whitbeck Shaw

The Whitbeck Shaw Club was organized in 1935 for students majoring or minoring in geography. It was named for Ray Hughes Whitbeck, University of Wisconsin professor, and the late Dr. Reginald Shaw of Central.

More recently the club was expanded from majors and minors to students interested in the study of the world and its geographical conditions.

Activities for Whitbeck Shaw consisted of six illustrated lectures and a spring quarter field trip.

Leadership of the club was under Charles Booth, president; Myron Radelmiller, vice president; and Donna Bell, secretary-treasurer.

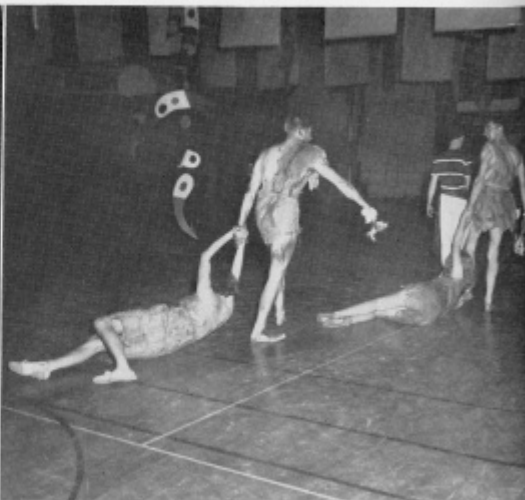

Row 1: Mr. Howell, Dick Wining, Pat Short, Larry Bowen, Nancy Stevens, John Connot.

Maskers and Jesters

Reorganized this year, the Maskers and Jesters had as their president, Dick Wining; vice president, Jack Turner; secretary, Joanne Risdon; treasurer, Pat Short and as fun masker, Larry Bowen. Their faculty adviser was Mr. Norman Howell.

After the homecoming game, a coffee hour was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howell for past and present members of the drama honorary. Other plans for the year included a spring social, the annual double bill, and the Beaux - Arts Ball which they co - sponsored with Kappa Pi.

Members for this organization are selected on a point basis for work done in the field of drama.

Do-Si-Do

The Women's gym was a bee hive of activity every Wednesday night as the Do-Si-Do'ers took over for an evening of fun and entertainment. Decked out in cottons and levis, thirty to forty folk and square dance fans turned out to "shake a leg" to Jack Garvin's calling. Miss Anna Pavloff was adviser and helped with instruction of the new dances learned by the group.

Other activities were held besides the regular Wednesday night get-togethers. A Christmas party was held at which time the fellows and gals turned in their dancing shoes for an evening of caroling and games, followed by refreshments. During winter quarter, the Do-Si-Do Club sponsored a Wednesday night mixer to raise funds.

Crimson "W"

The aim of the Crimson "W", which is composed of all varsity lettermen of Central, is to be of service to the school. Working as a very closely knit unit, they sponsored many activities. These included the selling of homecoming football programs, the presentation of a "W" Club Smoker at the end of winter quarter, and the traditional initiation picnic the end of spring quarter.

Officers who served during the year were: President, Yarl Jensen; Vice President, Fred Barber; Secretary-Treasurer, Jerry Tilton; and Social Commissioner, Chuck Burdulis.

Row 1: Beverly Farmer, Verna Osborne, Diane Chapman, Sharon Hodges, Marjorie Turkovich, Rosemary Murray.
Row 2: Marilyn Trolson, Karen Bainton, Marjorie Sweet, Marjorie Gilkison, Dana Byfield, Nellie Punch, Thelma Meilleur, Marlene Mansperger.

Pep Club

First among those to stand when the Central fight song was played were the members of the Pep Club. These girls were enthusiastic rooters at every game, besides heading many activities throughout the year.

Although smaller than usual, the group began the school year by decorating goal posts at football games and marching as a drill team in the Homecoming Parade. They also led several pep rallies.

Crimson and black pompoms that decorated many rooms on and off campus were sold through Pep Club. This vigorous organization sponsored a mixer, a "Y" night, and the traditional "Hardtimes" dance.

Officers for the year were Beverly Farmer, president; Verna Osborne, vice president; Dana Byfield, secretary; Marjorie Gilkison, treasurer; and Dianne Chapman, social commissioner.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

QUEEN CAROLE

Transferring to Central this fall from the University of Washington, lovely Carole (Read) Dallman soon won the hearts of a great number of students. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Read of Seattle, Carole became the bride of Milton Dallman during the summer of 1954. Sunnyside, Washington, was the birth spot of Carole on October 3, 1935. Queen Carole graduated from Highline High School and will graduate from Central next June with a Home Economics major in education.

(Gown from Morgan's)

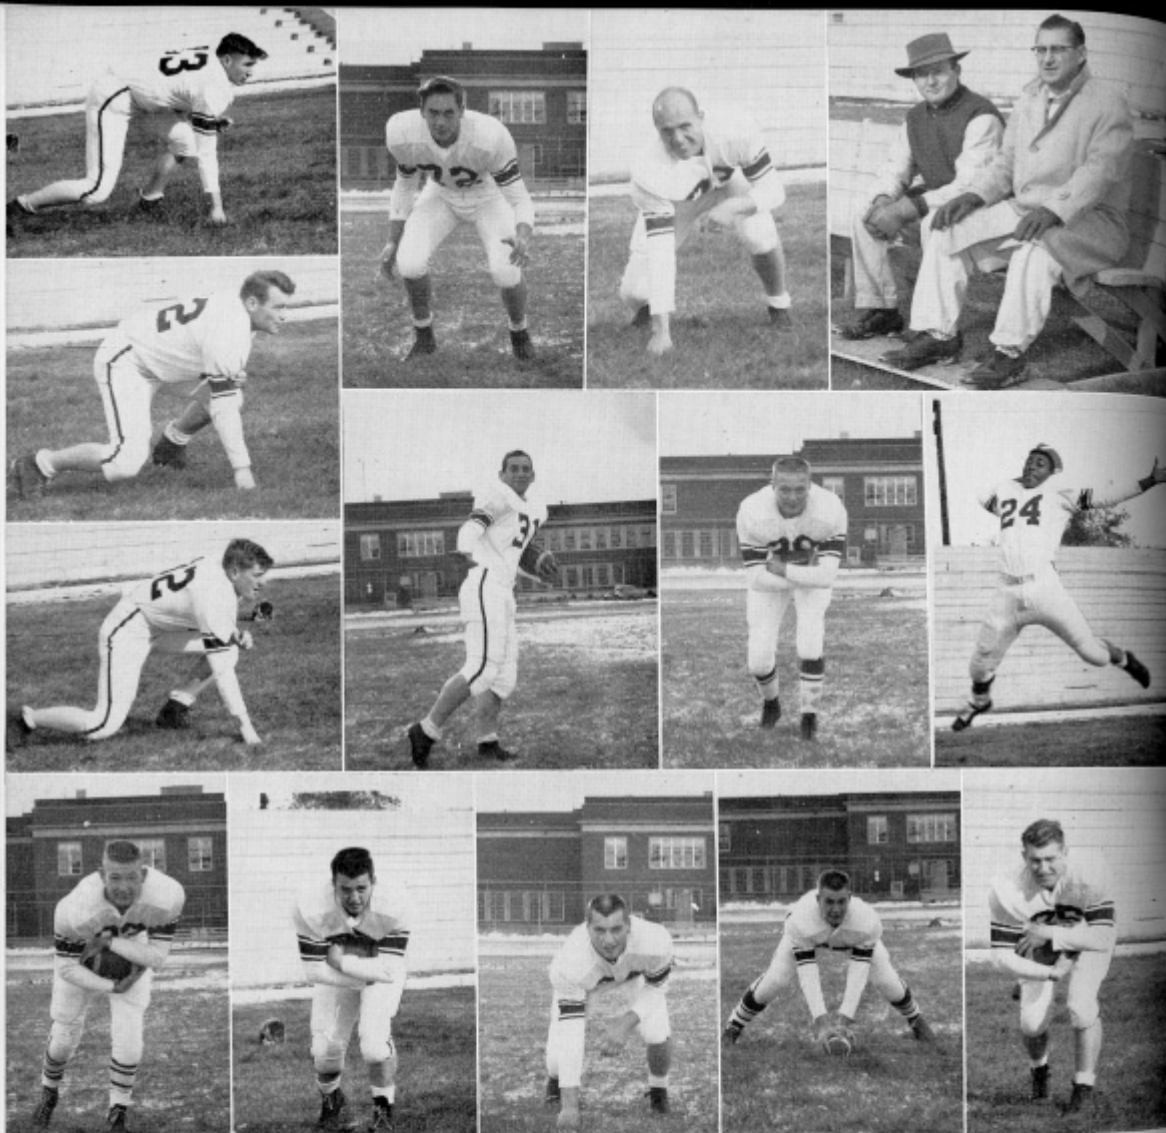

PRINCESS SHIRLEY

Princess Shirley transferred to Central her Sophomore year from Memphis State College. Born in Martin, South Dakota, April 8, 1935, this beautiful blonde has traveled many of the states with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dike Willoughby, and now calls Merlin, Washington, her home. Shirley graduated from Selah High School and will receive a B.A. in Primary Education from Central next June.

PRINCESS ELSIE

Omak, Washington, was the birthplace of lovely, petite Elsie Emert on June 4, 1935. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Emert, Elsie has spent all her life in Omak and graduated from Omak High School. Elsie attended the College of Puget Sound before transferring to Central, where she will graduate from Central this summer with a B.A. in Primary Education.

Football

Central's 1955 Wildcat football team ended its season this year with a 2-4 league record in the Evergreen Conference and a 2-6 total season's record.

The gridiron boys had an outfit with fine potentialities and all-around strength, but could not get their machine rolling until the final two games of the season, when they swamped the University of British Columbia and Western Washington. In conference play they were never defeated by more than 15 points.

Central dropped its first contest to Whitman, 26-7, in Ellensburg before the start of Fall Quarter, and lost its second pre-conference tussle to Lewis and Clark at Portland, 41-13, the next week.

Whitworth came to Central on October 18 and defeated the Wildcats 21-6; the Pirates went on to capture the Evergreen Conference title. At Tacoma Central dropped a close one to Pacific Lutheran College, 30-13, and lost at Rodeo Field to the College of Puget Sound during the annual Homecoming tilt, 15-0.

The Cats dropped one more, as Eastern Washington upset the Cats 19-6 at Eastern's Homecoming festivities, but finally broke into the win column the next week at Vancouver, B.C., as they downed the University of British Columbia 28-6.

Closing out the season was a home game with Western on Ellensburg's cold, frozen Rodeo Field. The Cats poured on the steam in that one to win, 32-0, and take fifth place in the conference.

The Cats were popular as a homecoming ball club this year — four of their six conference tilts were homecoming affairs. Pacific Lutheran, College of Puget Sound, Eastern Washington, and British Columbia served as homecoming opponents in four consecutive games.

George Argelan, the Wildcats' hard-charging guard, was placed on the All-Conference All-Star second team, and Dale Lanegan, center, Don Lyall, tackle, Jim Bagget, end, Bill Harriman, quarterback, and Don Pierce, halfback, were given honorable mention on the All-Conference team.

Lyall, from Richland, Pierce, from Seattle, and Harriman, from Ferndale, were all seniors on this year's squad. Other seniors who were of great value to the Cats this year were Don Trombley, halfback from North Bend, Dave Matheson, fullback from Seattle, and Jerry Tilton, end from Wapato.

Captaining the Cats this year were Harriman and Lyall. Trombley was presented the Inspirational Award at the end of the season, and John Liboky, a junior from Ellensburg, won the Rowely Blocking Award. Jim Thrasher, a freshman from Pe Ell who held down the starting fullback position, was elected the outstanding freshman player.

Drama

The Little Theatre was the setting for the fall quarter dramatic production. Not only was it adapted for the Little Theatre but also for the season. "Time Out for Ginger" by Ronald Alexander was the story of a young lady who turned out for football to prove to the world that girls are equal to boys. What's more, she proved it but found that to attract boys, young ladies just did not turn out for football.

As Ginger, Cynthia McCament convinced the world she was right. Led on by her dotting father, Bruce McAlpine, she made the team and was soon the star player. It took a number of people to untangle this unfortunate girl's life, among them, Lizzie, portrayed by Sharon Saeger, a wise and unselfish housekeeper. Others in the cast were Gladys Coe, Mother; Norma Woodard, Joan; Irene Cich, Jeannie; Jim Clark, Eddie; Tom Kartak, Tommy; John Connot, Mr. Wilson and Ed played by Dean Tarrach.

Central Singers

With an enviable reputation to live up to, the Central Singers started another year of hard work in the fall of 1955. The product of much practice was Mendelssohn's "Elijah," which was staged at the end of fall quarter for the Christmas season.

Immediately the Choir began work on new repertoire. The touring choir of 75 members was chosen; this choir includes 40 music majors and 18 music minors. During winter quarter the Choir was asked to open Religious Emphasis Week at the Kick-Off Assembly; it also presented an hour-long program at an all-college assembly.

Spring quarter the Touring Choir took two-day trips to neighboring towns and high schools. It also made a TV appearance on KIMA-TV. And all too soon another year had passed, climaxed by the annual Commencement concert, and vacation was at hand.

C.W.C.E. Band

The 1955-56 school year proved to be an unusually busy one for the Central Washington College of Education Band. The marching band changed its style from one of block letter and picture formations to that of precision drills. The climax of the football band season came at Homecoming when the band presented its precision drill routine to the tune of the "St. Louis Blue March." The football band traveled to Cheney for the Eastern - Central game.

The concert season for the band opened with the fall concert on December 8 when it presented an assembly concert for the students and townspeople. From February 13-17 the band toured cities and high schools of Western Washington appearing in 16 schools to play a total of 19 concerts. Upon the completion of its most successful tour the band played an evening concert for home consumption on February 21 in the college auditorium. On May 9th the band joined forces with the Ellensburg High School Band to present a joint concert, and ended the concert season in a joint appearance with the concert choir during commencement activities June 2 and 3. The band presented its annual "Band Blare" dance in the gym with music by the CWCEan's on May 15th, and climaxed the spring quarter with its annual picnic.

The Sweezy marching band plays a lively march as the crowd eagerly awaits the passing of the Queen's float. Queen Carole smiles and waves to her many friends while Shirley and Elsie wear their most beautiful smiles. Off-campus Men and Women's float took first place honors in the floats division.

"Blast the Loggers" was the theme of Maskers and Jesters' prize winning sign. Wilson Hall walked away with the first place trophy in stunt night competition.

In Memorium

On February 14, 1956, LaVonne Soule, classmate, dorm sister, and friend, passed away. It is only fitting, that this page be dedicated in her memory.

"Lollie," as she was affectionately known to all those who knew her, was an education major. We all feel that, somehow, in some way, she accomplished her aim. For what she taught, for what she gave, there is no degree. For Lolli gave herself as a friend; she taught us the meaning of perseverance, of loyalty, and above all, of friendship. Her life was short but it was filled . . . filled with faith . . . with hope . . . with charity.

It is often said, "Heaven rewards her favorites with an early death." We know that she must have been a favorite in heaven.

Lollie is gone, but her spirit lives on in the form of these words . . . PERSEVERANCE . . . LOYALTY . . . and, above all, FRIENDSHIP.

Sophomore Class

Back for another year at Sweezy, the class of '58 jumped into things feet first. They viewed the new freshmen with an "Oh you poor kids" look, and then went on to accept them quickly during and after initiation.

The sophomores entered into all activities, and were leaders in many of them. They sponsored a barn dance fall quarter, and the Cupid's Informal in February.

As the year passed, more and more of them settled into their majors, and by June of 1956 they were a really united class.

Guiding the class of '58 through its second year were Chuck Urdahl, president; Dick Wilson, vice president; Janet Caldwell, secretary; Marilyn Grove, treasurer, and Donna Nelson and Dale Mitchell, social commissioners. Adviser was Miss Sarah Spurgeon.

Junior Class

Looking forward to the '55-'56 school year, the Junior Class of 1957 began their year by very justly electing Harley Brumbaugh president. His companion officers were Dan Organ, vice president; Arlene Farrar, secretary-treasurer; and Carolyn Shoemaker and Chuck Utterback, social commissioners. Mr. Bruce Robinson was the class adviser.

The class entered into school activities immediately with their "Mow Down Them Loggers" sign for Homecoming.

After this festive week the Juniors settled down to their Junior Prom. Their goal was to obtain a big name band which they did. Count Basie and his orchestra was featured April 11 in the college gymnasium. No one will forget the fabulous Count Basie or his vocalist, Joe Williams. The Junior Prom was one of the most successful semi-formal dances of the year.

The Juniors didn't stop being active after one success. They sponsored mixers and Sweezy Day activities which were just as successful.

Now the year has come to a close and the Juniors are being graduated to Seniors. They are anxiously anticipating their next and final year at C.W.C.E. with the fresh eagerness of a class who has worked hard and succeeded and who will be looking for bigger tasks to accomplish in the future.

Sigma Tau Alpha

Sigma Tau Alpha is an organization for college girls who wish to retain their activity in Rainbow.

As a service organization STA assisted with freshmen orientation week, made placards for the Homecoming Banquet, and participated in the other Homecoming activities. During winter quarter, the group co-sponsored a Wednesday night mixer with Chevaliers and spring quarter helped with the Mother's Day activities.

An initiation was held each quarter for new members. Officers elected for the year were Beverly Loudon, president; Patsy Martin, vice president; Wilma Provost, secretary; Darline Allen, treasurer; Jama Goodman, chaplain; Roberta Pickering, social chairman; Kathryn Campbell, musician; Jan Norling, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Powell, adviser.

Ron Frye, Wayne Heisserman, Knowl Gaskin, Herb Kramlick, Pat Short, Bill Bergama.

Chevaliers

A new-comer to the organization circle main purpose of the group is to promote the Court of Chevaliers. Organized this year, the on campus is the Central Washington College advancement of DeMolay. Investitures were performed throughout the state with DeMolay groups in other cities. A number of functions were held on campus and several of these were the combined efforts of Chevaliers and Sigma Tau Alpha.

Officers were: Myron Rademiller, commander; Ron Frye, vice commander; Wayne Heisserman, executive secretary; Knowl Gaskin, sergeant-at-arms; Arthur Ladd, adviser.

Row 1: Pat Roberts, Bev Crumpacker, Darlene Brown, Marjorie Turkovich, Huberta Peacock, Elaine Johnson, Marilyn Scheda.

Women's Recreation Association

The sponsoring of women's intra-mural sports was the main feature of WRA's program for the year. Competition between the dorms was remarkable when the women took over on the maples, field, and court. Teams of volleyball, basketball, softball and badminton players battled for top honors in these sports.

The group strived to promote better fellowship and sincere interest and sportsmanship in the activities by giving each member an opportunity to take part in group and individual activities. Other activities were important to these girls also.

Helen Argus served as president. She was assisted by Beverly Loudon, vice president; Beverly Farmer, secretary; and Peggy Watts, treasurer. The physical education women faculty members served as advisers for this lively group.

Phremms

A Frosty Frolic, a World University Week booth, and the annual car wash highlighted the program of the year for the Phremms, a professional organization for all women physical, health, and recreation education majors and minors. Included in the program for the year were a film and a talk on Outdoor Education, a sports style show, and a talk "Feminizing Your Facilities."

Officers for the year were: Marjorie Wade, president; Darlene Brown, vice president; Beverly Crumpacker, secretary; Beverly Loudon, treasurer; and Clara Brown, publicity chairman.

Sigma Mu

Highlight of Sigma Mu's activities for 1955-'56 was the annual inter-dorm choral competitions in December. A high percentage of campus groups entered the contest, and Sigma Mu was able to combine them into a striking program — one attended by both townspeople and students.

Sigma Mu, in its twentieth year on the campus, is a nationwide music honorary. Central's unit, in addition to the choral competition, sponsored a Homecoming float, held an initiation breakfast, ushered at concerts, took roll at recitals, carolled at Christmas, acted as hosts to music groups performing at Central, and assisted at the high school solo and ensemble contests.

Officers for the year were John Mitchell, president; Gary Johnson, vice president; Kathryn Spurgeon, secretary; Bob Dalton, treasurer; and Colleen Moore, historian. Henry Eickhoff, assistant professor of music, was faculty adviser.

Kappa Pi

Filling out the slate of activities this year for Kappa Pi, art honorary, were lectures, the Art Bazaar, the Beaux Arts Ball, and exhibition of the Kappa Pi loan collection.

Members also began to lay plans for an art majors' lounge on the fourth floor of the Administration Building.

Heading the club were Kathy Arnoldt, president; Lynn Williams, vice-president; Peggy Wood, secretary-treasurer; and Phyllis Rockne, social chairman.

Row 1: Eunice Steele, Betty Ann Shultz, Maxine Emerson, Isophine Dorsey, Elaine R. Gibb.
 Row 2: Ada White, Laura Williams, Edith Brandt, Lura Bellamy.

Central Women Students

Central Women Students provides a fellowship for older women students on campus. Organized a year ago, this group has played a major part in campus activities since that time. Eunice Steele presided at the meetings. She was assisted by Betty Schultz, vice president; and Grace Montgomery, secretary-treasurer.

Entertainment and activities were numerous. Mary Mathewson presented pictures of her trip to Egypt and the Near East; correspondence was carried on with Margaret Frick, a former student from Hamburg, Germany; other guest speakers appeared at meetings. The group attended community concerts, supported World University Services and Religious Emphasis Weeks. An annual picnic was held in May, and a banquet closed out the year of activities for the group.

Vet Club

The aims of the Vet Club are numerous, varied, and constructive. The club was first organized during spring quarter of 1954. With the return of many G.I.'s to Central's campus it was definitely felt that an organization of this nature was necessary to help these veterans adjust to college life again or for the first time. The main requirement for membership is that each individual must have served at least six months of active duty.

The activities of the club are many and varied. Their main objective is to make the campus a better place on which to live for themselves and for others.

Officers for the year were: Royal Wise, president; Don Ellis, vice president; Myron Radelmiller, secretary; and Charles Finch, social commissioner. Eugene Kosy was faculty adviser.

Dad's Day

With wide open arms, the students of Central welcomed their Fathers to the campus for a week-end devoted solely to entertain them.

For some it was the first time they had ever been on a college campus; for others it was almost a homecoming for they had graduated from Central.

All learned that the students have time to play as well as study. Some may have gotten the idea that that is all college students do, that is to play. In the words of Mr. Barto, guest speaker, "Come anytime, come during the week, come and see, they really do work."

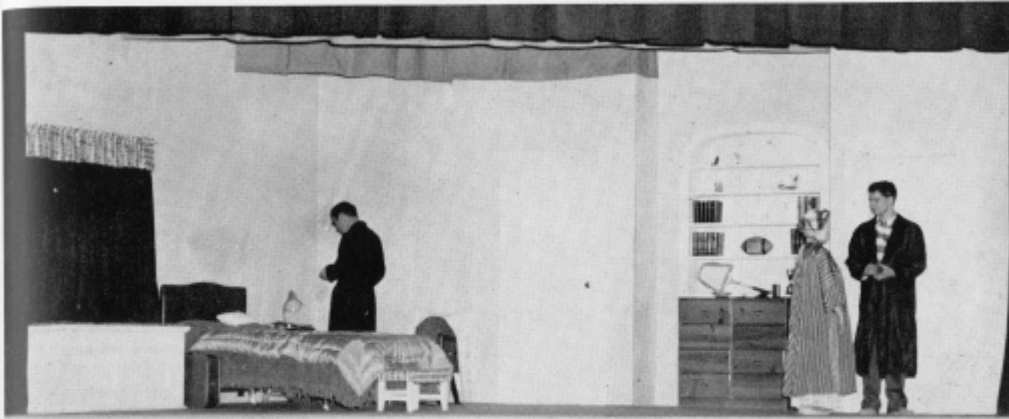

A word to fathers who will thumb through this volume. Welcome to Central, don't wait for an invitation to Dad's Day, the doors of our Alma Mater are always open to you—after all who pays the bills?

Drama

Wha' happened to the lights? Shades of the melodrama. During the winter quarter play, "The Silver Cord," a power failure caused half of the last act to be carried on in candlelight. The students of '56 will never forget this exciting dramatic production.

This very fine production under the direction of E. Allyn Thompson was staged in a double set. From the beginning until the final curtain was rung down the audience sat spellbound with players as they unfolded the tale of the age-old story of a mother's love and its near catastrophic influence on the lives of her children and the people about her.

Meria Lember as Mrs. Phelps had the audience in a torment of emotions as she connived to keep her two sons above and beyond the reach of the women they loved. One, Robert, played by John Draper, was held under her spell, while, the other, David, enacted by Jack Turner, managed to escape to make a life for himself and Christine, his wife, portrayed by Barbara Michaelsen. The featured player in this story of a mother's love was Hester, done by Barbara Harker. For her love was ended, but as she left the stage, one had the feeling she was destined for a greater future and a return to the world of reality.

Row 1: Mr. Reas, Wilma Vice, Deloris Shrable, Lella Dildine, Sylvia Ritchey, Molly Ann Clough, Shirley Willoughby.
 Row 2: Pete Summerill, Roger Salisbury, Stan Boyer, Brian Geralds, Joanne Scholer, Eula Dally.

Religious Emphasis Week—U. C. C. F.

The week began with a kick-off assembly featuring the Central Singers and a religious drama presented by the students. During the week, speakers were featured in various classrooms and at seminars and firesides. The week was climaxed by a Farewell Dinner on Thursday night for the entire committee and guest speakers. Wilma Vice was general chairman of R.E.W.

The United Council of Christian Faiths, made up of representatives from each of the churches in Ellensburg, concerned itself with setting up this year's R.E.W. during the first part of the year. Along with the sponsoring of R.E.W., the council presented a free film on campus during fall quarter. Many other activities gave this group a busy, but interesting year.

Basketball

The Central Washington College hoopster placed third in the Evergreen Conference during the 1955-56 basketball season. This was the second straight year that the Wildcats gained third place in the loop.

Central's 18-9 season's record boosted Coach Leo Nicholson's 25-year record as head basketball coach at Central to 406 wins and 180 losses. The 18-9 record included six wins and three losses in non-conference play and 12 wins and six losses in Evergreen Conference tilts.

During the Christmas vacation the Wildcat traveled to Alaska and played five non-conference games. The Cats dropped the University of Alaska, 87-56 and 98-66; lost to an Eielson Air Force Base all-star team 85-77; edged the Ladd Air Force Base all-star team 76-75; and walloped the Sportland AAL team of Fairbanks, 101-53, in a benefit game. The Sportland game did not go on the Wildcats' season record as it was a benefit game.

The Wildcats were in first, second, third and fourth place in the Evergreen Conference at different times during the season. They were in first after their first game with Western early in December, but then dropped to fourth late in January. During February they moved up into a tie for second with the Whitworth Pirates which they held until the last game of the season. Central and Whitworth met in the season's final and the Pirates' 73-55 win left them alone in second behind Pacific Lutheran, the conference champ.

At the end of the season "Jumping" Jack Brantner was selected by his teammates as the Inspirational Player of the season. Brantner, a senior forward, was the team's leading scorer with 411 points in 27 games. Don Myers, a 5'7" junior guard, was picked by his fellow hoopsters as the captain of the 1955-56 basketball squad.

Senior Class

My, how time flits by! When the seniors entered college as freshmen four years ago graduation seemed like eternity. Many pencils and erasers have been worn beyond use by these students. Millions of pages have been flipped in countless books and notebooks. Thousands of cups of coffee and many hours of sleep have been lost while studying for exams. This has all been given in exchange for a degree.

The class of '56 has been outstanding in academic as well as social affairs during the past year. Homecoming time saw the seniors present their float "Rock Around the Clock." The senior class informal was held April 20. A picnic was held during spring quarter and as graduation approached seniors started packing to leave for their chosen occupations.

The annual Senior Banquet was held June 2 and on June 3 the seniors proudly donned their caps and gowns and said "good-bye" to Sweezy — their home for the past four years.

Mel Beauchamp was class president. Others assisting him were: Bonnie Maitlen, vice president; Sandra Taylor, secretary; Phyllis Monasmith, treasurer; and Patti Clark and Walt Wilson, social commissioners. Dr. Newschwander served as adviser.

OLIVER BOND, B.S., of Sunyside, Washington, received his degree from Washington State College in 1951. He joined the army after graduating and later worked in Grandview, Washington. He studied at C.W.C.E. this year to fulfill the requirements for a B.A. in Education with majors in physical science and math.

ROBERT GALUSHA, A.A., B.A., received his degrees from Graceland College, Iowa, and C.W.C.E. in 1949 and 1954, respectively. He taught at Goldendale High School in Goldendale, Washington, until returning to Central to continue studies in math, science, and English.

JIM HABERMAN—

KENNETH H. JOHNSON, B.A., of Bellevue, Washington, received his degree from C.W.C.E. in 1954. Since then he has been teaching in South Kitsap. He attended Central this year to complete studies in chemistry, zoology, and geology.

RODNEY MAHAFFEY

EARL SOLIE, B.A., of Seattle, Washington, taught school at Granger, Washington, for one year, after receiving his degree from C.W.C.E. in 1951. He served thirty-three months in the Army and then returned to Central to complete his education in his major field, industrial arts.

MARY WINING, B.A., of Walla Walla, Washington, received her degree from C.W.C.E. in 1954. She taught high school mathematics in Raymond, Washington, for one year, and then continued studies in her major fields, mathematics and guidance and counseling.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, an education honorary, was founded on this campus in 1938. Since that time, the organization has shown a steady growth and has accomplished much in promoting professional standards among education students.

The theme for this year was "helping the mentally handicapped child in the classroom." Programs included speakers and films centered on this topic. Nathalie Heinz and Fred Duncan were chosen as delegates to the National Convention held March 15-17 at Oklahoma A. & M. The annual spring banquet concluded the year's activities.

Presiding at the meetings was Nathalie Heinz. Her right hand helpers were: Vice President, Joanne Scholen; Secretary, Carol Buckner; Treasurer, Frances Schuck; and Historian, Fred Duncan. Dr. Loretta Miller was adviser for the club.

Alpha Phi Omega

The Eta XI Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega was organized on the campus of CWCE in 1949 as a service organization of past Boy Scouts who would like to continue their scouting activities in college. It is designed so that past scouts on campus may meet and know each other and work together. Its aims are service to community, service to campus, and service to self.

Officers Jeray Holmes, president; Bill Bourn, vice president; Mike Lacey, secretary; Bill Raschkow, treasurer; and Tom Newall, historian, worked hard toward maintaining the goals set up for this organization seven years ago.

Much service was offered to the students by this hard working group of fellows throughout the school year. A mixer was sponsored, the annual "Handsome Harry" dance was held, and the boys took charge of cleaning up the grounds during the Sweezy Day activities.

Young Democrats

Young men and women interested in the problems of their government find their answers in one of the student political organizations on campus, the Young Democrats. They sponsor films, speakers, and panel discussions for the students interested in expanding their political views. This year with the help of the Young Republicans they sponsored a Political Workshop and held an election (mock) to find the feelings of the campus towards this year's national and state elections.

Heading this year's organization in the three key positions were Roger Salisbury, president; Eldon Peterson, vice president; and Fay McCasland, secretary-treasurer.

 Row 2: Arlene Van Winkle, George Worthington, Larry Bowen, Pat Dimoff, Stan Boyer, Dave Divelbise, Roscoe Dimock, Sharon Saeger.

Young Republicans

The Young Republicans, associated with the Washington College Republican Federation College League, completed a very successful year. A Political Workshop and a mixer were co-sponsored with the Young Democrats. Speakers and social activities were featured at meetings.

During winter quarter, a large representation from Central attended the State Young Republican Convention at Yakima. Ann Kean was elected state secretary at this convention.

This year the club functioned under the guidance of advisers, Mrs. Bonny and Dick Roberts. Officers were: Ted Wood, president; Charlene Cook, vice president; Ann Kean, secretary; Dolores Mueller, treasurer; and Don Robertson, social commissioner.

Recreation Club

Keeping the purpose of the Recreation Club in mind, which is to give Recreation majors and minors and others interested in recreation a chance to meet, exchange ideas, and gain experience in that field, the Recreation Club had another successful year.

Anchor man was Don Standley, president. Following him on the rope climbing higher and gaining much achievement in activities and fun were: Ira Jensen, vice president; LaVerne Roberts, secretary; and Dick Bounds, treasurer. Abe Poffenroth and Warren Tappin were co-advisers for the group.

The club sponsored two mixers, two all-college dances, and a co-recreation night at which students enjoyed volleyball, ping pong, basketball, tumbling, checkers, shuffleboard, and badminton.

The members also enjoyed several recreation films and speakers. The big event of the year was attending the "Ice Follies of '56" in Seattle.

Row 2: Bonnie Maitlen, Darlene Brown, Joe Venera, Ken Weaver.

Outdoor Club

The Outdoor Club continued its interest in hiking, skiing, mountaineering and practicing conservation principles. This year a new activity was added, which the club hopes may potentially develop into one of great importance. This new activity, which is mountain rescue work, was done jointly with the Kittitas County Sheriff's office and forestry officials.

The club held several ski races and overnight trips to Swauk Lodge and Ski Bowl. Speakers and demonstrations were witnessed at meetings and during spring quarter mountaineering instruction courses were offered.

Myron Rademiller was president, and was assisted by John Grove, vice president; Janet Norling, secretary; and Beverly Farmer, treasurer. Mr. F. Robinson was adviser.

Home Ec Club

To acquaint women with the opportunities in the field of home economics and to present new trends in that field, the Home Economics Club held meetings based upon all phases of homemaking.

Going outside Central for more information, Nathalie Hein attended the national convention in Minneapolis, and all the officers went to the state meet in Spokane.

Officers were Kathy Cadieu, president; Imogene Pownall, vice president; Shirley Kapp, secretary; Lois Bradshaw, treasurer; and Audrey Anderson, scribe.

Advisers were Miss Jeannette Ware and Mrs. Anne Morgan.

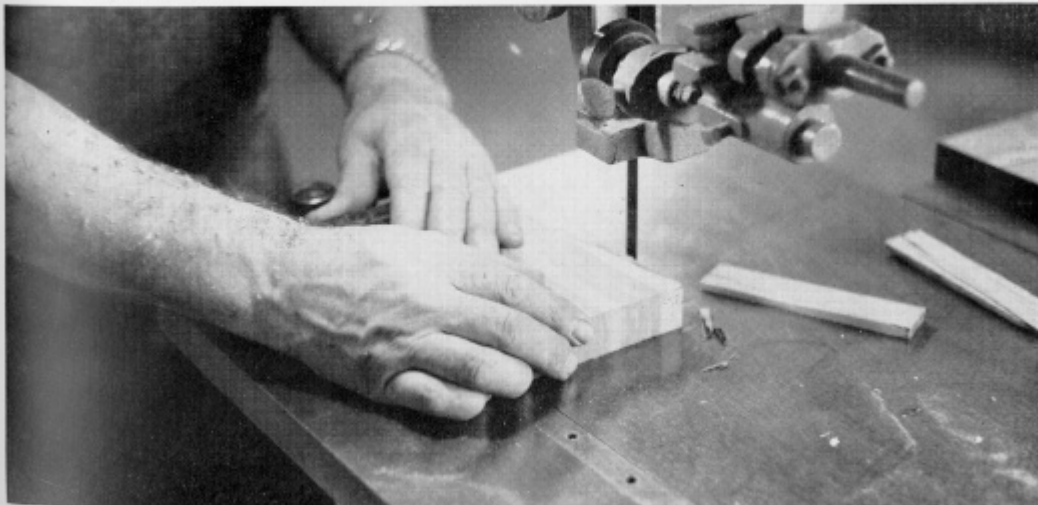

Row 1: Mr. Sogge, Ed Bettine, Bill Gallacher, Bill Tucker, John Liboky, Fred Barber, Melvin Beauchamp, Ken Landeis, Jim Ellis, Alonzo Stafford.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club, which is affiliated with the American Industrial Arts Association, was organized in 1949 and is made up of Industrial Art majors and minors. The main objective is to promote Industrial Arts Education.

Services were performed about the campus to further stimulate interest in the organization. Projects made and designed by the members were sold at the annual Christmas sale in the CUB. Other activities included speakers who provided members with the latest education information.

The officers were: Ed Bettine, president; Bill Gallacher, vice president; Bill Tucker, secretary, John Liboky, treasurer; and Maynard Worst, reporter. Wilhelm Bakke and George Sogge were advisers.

Dining Hall Committee

Satisfying the desires of students who eat in the dining halls was not an easy task. The Dining Hall Committee made up of representatives from each of the dorms, the dietician, and the Dean of Women, worked hard toward satisfying these desires.

CUB Recreation Committee

The CUB Recreation Committee was organized by the SGA to improve Central's recreation program through more extensive use of the CUB. The group successfully achieved its objectives and earned the appreciation of the entire student body.

Dave Divelbiss was chairman and Loree Sliffe secretary for the committee.

Channing

Officers for the year were Don Lewis, president; Jack Turner, vice president; Mike Duran, secretary; and Vic Olsen, treasurer. Dr. Dan Oppleman served as faculty adviser.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship

Officers were: Pete Summerill, president; Brian Gerards, vice president; Shirley Summerill, secretary-treasurer; Joyce Leonard, social commissioner; and Dr. Kenneth Lundberg, adviser.

Row 1: Dr. Lundberg, Pete Summerill, Brian Gerards, Shirley Summerill, Mary Zurfluh, Eula Dally, Marilyn Troison, Sylvia Ritchey, Florence Erickson.

Sabre Flight

One of the newest organizations at Central this year was Sabre Flight, an organization for basic AFROTC cadets. Members of Sabre Flight were easily recognized by the blue and white ribbon and white leather straps on their uniforms.

The Sabres activities for the year included a mixer, a booth for Sweezy Day, and a picnic.

Officers of the organization were Clifford Filleau, commander; Gary Larson, executive officer; Elmer Sagara, adjutant; Darrel Fustnow, operations officer; Richard Gray, comptroller; Donald Mitchell, public relations officer; and Dale Mitchell, sergeant-at-arms.

 Row 2: Glen Martin, Chuck Burdulis, Larry Downey, Eob Michelsen, Ed Faust, Russell Jones, Ross Simmons.

Arnold Air Society

Arnold Air Society is a national society for advanced AFROTC Cadets. Its purpose is to further the mission of the Air Force at the college and university level by encouraging greater teamwork, development of technical knowledge, cooperation, and esprit de corps. This organization was named after the late General H. Hap Arnold, Commanding General of the Army Air Forces during World War II. Central's chapter is called the James Kelly Squadron after a local World War II hero.

An initiation dinner was held during fall quarter at the Hi-Ho Cafe. The main event of the year was the sponsoring of the annual Military Ball during spring quarter. The meetings of the group were held every two weeks with occasional guest speakers.

Captain W. V. Williams is adviser for the group. Officers were Don Lyall, Commander; Allen Wall, Executive; Dwight Derrick, Operations; Larry Pinnt, Recording Adjutant; Jerry Jones, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Hyakem

Another deadline, another section of the book done. Deadlines are a staff's swear word. But, when a thing is done and done well there is this thought— I was a part of that and maybe my part helped to make it just that much better. As editor of this year-book I want to take this opportunity to put in writing my thanks to the staff for a job well done. THANKS!

To the graduating seniors as you depart from the campus, remember that wherever you may go, whatever you might do, your annual, THE HYAKEM, is your guide back to a world of memories, fond memories of a dance, an organization you belonged to, or your classes so dilligently attended. So go— go to your new life and remember us as we remember you. Best wishes for the future and much happiness in your lives.

To you, the underclassmen, we will extend our arms in welcome as you return to campus next fall.

THE STAFF

Dick Wining, Editor
Paul Lambertsen, Associate Editor
Maryjo Woodhead, Mounting
Nancy Grow, Mounting
Lynn Forbes, Copy
Miss Bonnie Wiley, Adviser

There are many duties to perform when one is a staff member of a publication. For instance, Paul and Lynn puzzle over a senior's activity sheet, while Pat Gauss types copy. The entire staff is called in to prepare one of the many letters sent out to the entire student body. But sometimes there is time to rest, as Maryjo is doing, with a cool refreshing drink. And over all, hovers the never-ending duty, mounting. Then comes proof reading and finally, the word goes out — the book is done.

Crier

"Ah-so 'tis Friday mornin'. Every soul rush to pick up honorable copy as one campus newspaper, The Crier."

Roger Asselstine, editor of said newspaper is to be commended for the fine job he has done this year. His capable stiff, too, is to be commended for its fine job. Sylvia Stevens, associate editor, left for greener pastures after winter quarter and was replaced by Sharon Saeger.

Editing a newspaper, writing stories, and attending to other various duties connected with a newspaper may seem like a snap to those who have not done so but it isn't. It takes time—time from social activities, time from study hours, and even time from classwork to put out a good paper.

So to the staff of the Campus Crier and its adviser, Miss Bonnie Wiley, congratulations for a job well done!

A never ending job is this publishing a newspaper. As soon as one edition is out the staff goes madly out to set up another. Sharon Saeger took over the duties of associate editor spring quarter. Roger Salisbury and his staff did a fine job of gathering ads and keeping the business end going. But there were times, as one can easily see, that a reported just gave up and took time to rest.

Munson Hall

Girls reigned at Munson Hall this year for the first time in the dorm's history. The day dreams of Munson's men of the past finally came true — only the men are no longer there to enjoy them.

Loree Sliffe was president of the newly-converted dorm. Assisting her were: Pat Kelleher, vice president; Elsie Emert, secretary; Katherine Lucas, treasurer; and Joan Stevens, social commissioner. Mrs. Fisher held the position of house mother.

The girls changed the general theme of activities from that of previous years to a full-scale, feminine calendar of fun. They held a formal initiation and followed that with a Homecoming skit and float. Christmas brought the inter-dorm choral competition. Munson entered this in full force as true carolers. The "Peppermint Palace" dance was a pleasant success for the girls a few weeks later. Munson Hall sponsored a "Snack Shack" for University Service Week, held firesides, and completed the year of activities with a picnic.

Row 1: Mrs. Church, Dorothy Barich, Jan Kittleson, Darlene Pawlak, Jama Goodman, Marilyn Hauck, Donna Wallace, Gladys Coe.
 Row 2: Loleta Farrar, Mary Bryan, Katy Mousel, Sylv'a Larrigan, Barbara Karstens, Trina Hoisington, Marilyn Olberg, Ilene Adair, Linda Williams, Anne Kean, Sandra Sells.

Kamola

Kamola Hall welcomed new and old students back fall quarter with a freshly-painted look. The brick room was covered with a new ceiling, and the familiar balustrade was removed to provide additional space on the second floor. Changes occurred among the women also, with the addition of wing leaders to House Council being tried on an experimental basis.

Activities in which the hall participated were Homecoming, choral competition, an all-college winter quarter dance, "Monkey Business," and a spring formal.

House officers were Dorothy Barich, president; Jan Kittleson, vice president; Darlene Pawlak, secretary; Marilyn Hauck and Donna Wallace, social commissioners; Jama Goodman, treasurer; Katie Mousel, scribe; Marilyn Olberg, SGA representative; and Gladys Coe, freshman representative. House Council was also supplemented by ten wing leaders.

Mrs. Margaret Church served her second year as housemother. She was assisted by Ilene Adair and Marilyn Olberg.

Row 1: Mrs. Thorn, Shirley Larkin, LaVerne Roberts, Donna Bell, Patty Thomas, Carolyn Todd.

Sue Lombard Hall

With Shirley Larkin at the helm, Sue Lombard Hall was successfully guided through a year of activities. Handling other duties were: LaVerne Roberts, vice president; Donna Bell, secretary; Patty Thomas, treasurer; Carolyn Todd, social commissioner; and Patsy Martin, courtesy chairman. Mrs. Thorn was house mother.

Let it not be said that this dorm was not active! After frosh initiation and the traditional progressive fireside, the girls of Sue Lombard sponsored several other firesides, an all-college dance, a mixer, a tea and several open houses. During Homecoming, the girls all pitched in to win second place with their skit, second place with their sign, and still another second place award for their entry in the parade.

Under the direction of Kathryn Spurgeon, the girls of Sue won first place in Sigma Mu's annual choral competition at Christmas time. Top honors were also conquered by this group of lassies for having the best decorated dorm during the Christmas season.

Rounding out the year of activities was the traditional tolo and a dorm picnic.

Row 1: Miss Gould, John Strugar, Jacquie Hudson, Mary McMorrow.
Row 2: Larry Mayberry, Lois Bradshaw, Dean Wake.

Off-Campus

The Off-Campus Men and Women have proved themselves to be one of Central's most active groups. They began the year by receiving first place for their Homecoming float, which was planned and built under the chairmanship of Don Baker, and by participating in Homecoming Stunt Night.

Presidents John Strugar and Betty Jean Clemons arranged for their group to sell popcorn at the basketball games, to edit the FUSSEY, and to work on World University Service Week. Off-Campus also sponsored the beautiful May Prom and held a private fireside.

Other capable leaders of the organization were Irv Ely, vice president; Jacquie Hudson, secretary; Mary McMorrow, treasurer; Larry Mayberry and Shelly Devena, social commissioners; Dean Wake and Lois Bradshaw, SGA representatives; Miss Helen Mary Gould and Mr. Sabin Gray advised the group.

Wilson Hall

Opening its doors for the first time this year, Wilson Hall quickly took its place in activities with the rest of the dorms.

Initiation of freshmen, an open house, and a fireside were some of the first social activities that Wilson Hall sponsored. First place honors were taken by the boys during Homecoming with their stunt. Other activities included an all-college dance "Fall Fantasy," a private formal, and several firesides. Second place honors were taken by these fellows in the interdorm choral competition. The school year was concluded by the election of officers and a dorm picnic.

Elected to govern the 101 occupants of Wilson Hall were: Don Lyall, president; Dan Organ, vice president; Dave Ellingson, secretary; Art Martin, treasurer; Jerry Parrish and Dick Wilson, social commissioners; Don and Dale Mitchell, MIA representatives; Don Robinson and Gene Luft, historians; and Dave Carnahan, John Chan, Dean Bunce, and Larry Downey, sergeants-at-arm. Jim and Joan Hoon were house counselors.

Kennedy

Taking over Kennedy, formerly a women's dorm, one hundred men spent the first few days admiring themselves in the full-length mirrors and trying out the hair driers. Then, settling down to business, their frosh won the tug of war.

This was the first in a long string of accomplishments for the newly-organized dorm — third place in Homecoming sign competition, first place in choral competition, sponsorship of one of the largest mixers of the year, and many victories in the MIA program.

Taking the lead in bringing Kennedy into competition with the older dorms were Chuck Booth, president; George Worthington, vice president; Walt Barnard, secretary; Ray Western, secretary; Bill Leth, SGA representative; Chuck Urdahl, social commissioner; Jim White, assistant social commissioner; Jim Rusnak, fresh-man representative; Fred Hauff, MIA representative; San Yates, program chairman; and Jerry Yeager, Chuck Finch and Bob Booth, sergeants-at-arms.

House counselors were Lou and Frances Richards.

North

North Hall began its year by turning thirty-three bewildered high-schoolers into North Hall gentlemen. Immediately following initiation, the dorm concentrated on Homecoming activities. Both the sign and the float were centered around a musical theme, and the skit was a take-off on the Ed Sullivan TV show.

Spooks and goblins took over at the first dorm fireside the latter part of October. Fall quarter brought the annual North Hall Crazy Hat Dance, and with it colorful headgear. High spot of winter quarter was the all-college "Winter Wonderland" formal, again held in the CUB lounge.

Dads' and Mothers' Days were celebrated by dormitory open house. The North Hall boys wound up the school year with a picnic at Lake Chelan.

House counselors were Don and Shirley Hayes.

 Row 2: Bruce McKay, Jim Correy, Dave Niemiec.

Alford Hall

Small but mighty Alford Hall was the guiding light behind many campus activities during the year. Their destiny was guided by the following: President, Gary Irvine; Vice President, Dean Tarrach; Secretary, Ira Jensen; Treasurer, David Niemiec; Social Commissioners, Jack Turner and Bruce McKay.

Carmody

Dorm officers were Ed Sand, president; John Lester, vice president; Jack Lybyer, secretary; Don Sorenson, treasurer; Bob Hartman, social chairman; and Dave Peterson, MIA representative.

Row 1: Ed Sand, John Lister, Jerry Taylor, Don Sorenson.
 Row 2: Bob Hartman, Duncan Manning.

Row 1: Larry Engelsen, Paul McCulloh, Horace Nichols, Albert Marshall, Lynn Slocumb.
 Row 2: Bob Olson, Alvin Polson, Vern Zuehlsdorff, Al Lyall, Wayne Heisserman.

Montgomery

Officers were Paul McCulloh, president; Horace Nichols, vice president; Albert Marshall, secretary; Lynn Slocum, treasurer; Wayne Heisserman and Vern Zuehlsdorff, social commissioners; Al Lyall, MIA representative; and Al Polson and Robert Olson, sergeants-at-arms. Larry Engelsen was house counselor.

Munroe Hall

The men of Munroe Hall successfully entered college life with a purpose. The aim of the dorm was to try and make the pre-fabs a better place in which to live. Guiding this aim were Ted Cook, President Dick Rosencranz, Vice President; Secretary, Duane Landon; Treasurer, David Fitzgerald; and Social Commission-ers, Wally Sibbert and Wayne Heisserman.

 Row2: Bob Holtz, Paul Bedard.

Row 1: Clark Mace, Lowell Erland, Frances Tilton, Jackie Erland, Lillian Wooley, Don Brown.

Vetville

The Vetville housing project was constructed for married veterans after the Second World War, when a rush of married veterans entered Central to continue their education. This housing is now open to all married students whether veterans or not.

Clark Mace served as mayor for the fall and winter quarters and was replaced by Lowell Erland during spring quarter. Other officers of the active group were: Frances Tilton, secretary; Jackie Erland, treasurer; Lillian Woolley, historian; and Don Brown, social commissioner.

Business and social meetings, ground and building improvements, and social activities kept the Vetville residents jumping throughout the year.

Drama

Last spring quarter, the theatre in the round was the setting for the all-college play, THE MOLLUSC. This play was modernized from one written in the early 1900's by Hubert Davies. It was done by students in conjunction with the advanced drama course. Director for this three-act comedy was Dick Wining and technical details were handled by Floyd Gabriel. Faculty adviser was E. Allyn Thompsom.

Roles were very well handled by Sue Ryan, Roger Berghoff, Laura Overman, and Dean Tarrach.

The idea that a woman can control everything by her every whim was proven to be wrong. The characters were wound around her finger until a man found the secret of the eternal triangle.

Sweezy Day

Every spring for one day classes are dismissed and there is an air of gaiety about the campus. Studies are forgotten and everyone plays and has fun. A carnival is set up the night before with many attractions. During the day there are many activities in which to participate, games, student-faculty baseball game, and track. To cap the festivities, the all-college band sponsors the Band Blare.

A king and queen are selected and crowned sometime during the day. Also, there is the annual stunt night or talent show.

Baseball

Baseball during the spring of 1956 started with a doubleheader on March 31 in Yakima against the Yakima Junior College nine. The Wildcats played seven doubleheaders as they warmed up to defend the Eastern Division title they won the two preceding seasons.

Eastern Division Evergreen Conference action started on April 21 with a two-game stand against the Whitworth Pirates at Spokane. The Wildcats played 20 non-conference games and eight Eastern Division games, four each with Whitworth and Eastern, during the regular season that ended with two practice games against the Fairchild Air Force Base at Ellensburg on May 14.

Coach Warren Tappin had a talent-loaded squad as he had 13 returning letterwinners, including four pitchers. Several newcomers, trying their first hand at college ball, also looked good during the season.

Track

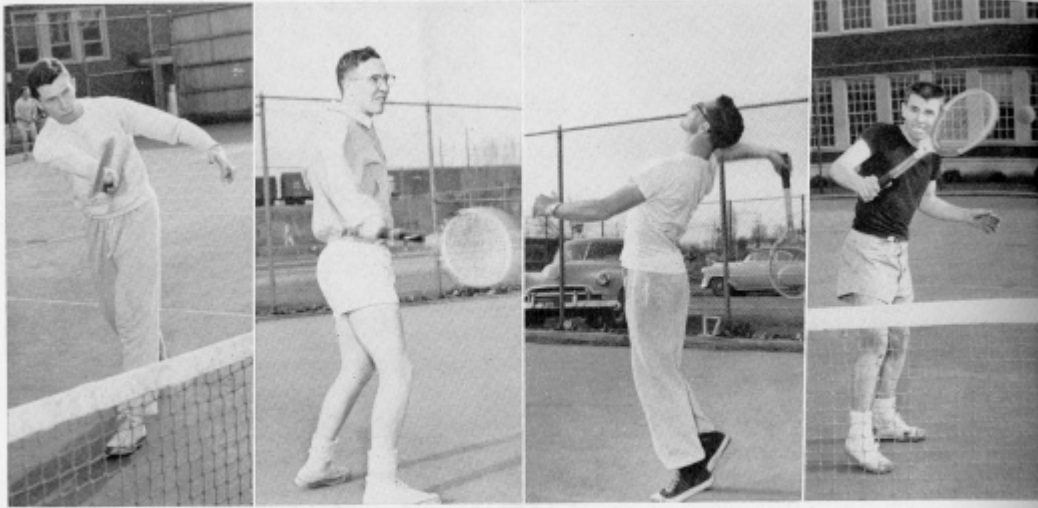

The track season started for Coach Monty Reynolds' thinclads on March 24 at the Washington State Invitational Indoor track meet at Pullman. Two of Reynolds' cindermen, Don "Speedy" Pierce and Gary Correll finished in the money for the Wildcats at the WSC meet. Pierce placed third in the 70-yard dash and Correll took third in the javelin. Two other Central runners, Larry Bowen and Dick Schutte, ran in the 600-yard run and the 1½-mile run respectively.

Coach Reynolds had 12 returning letterwinners back this spring for cinder duty. Pierce and Correll were the top returning point getters. Pierce placed fourth in the national NAIA meet in Texas last June with a time of 9.5 seconds in the 100-yard dash and Correll placed fifth in the javelin in the same meet.

Other returning cindermen were Al Youngblood and Jim Marta in the high jump, Walt Wilson in the two-mile, Gary Johnson and Gary Brown in the pole vault, Carlos Henry and Louis Schultz in the weights, Bill Bourn in the broad jump, and Phil Corkrum in the sprints.

Several newcomers looked good for the Crimson and Black during the spring campaign. Jack Bennett, a hurdler; Terry Jansen; Wayne Kenoyer, a weightman; Ron Johnson; and Tom Shellenberger, a pole vaulter, were the outstanding new tracksters.

Tennis

Central's tennis fortunes rested in the hands of Coach Leo Nicholson's four returning lettermen and several newcomers. Nicholson's racketmen warmed up for the Evergreen Conference tennis matches, which were held at Bellingham on May 18-19, by competing in nine matches during April and early May.

The returning letterwinners, who formed the nucleus of the 1956 tennis squad, were Bill Pearson, Bob LaLonde, Bob Allen and Aris Frederick. Stan Cowan, a member of last spring's squad, was also back for his second year of tennis at Central.

The Central racketmen played home and home matches with the College of Puget Sound, Pacific Lutheran College, Eastern Washington College, and Whitworth, and traveled to Western Washington College at Bellingham for a single match.

The District No. 1 meet of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, was held on May 25-26 at Renton. The national NAIA meet was moved this year from Abilene, Texas, to San Diego, Calif. The national meet was held on June 8-9. Coach Nicholson again this year made the trip to the national meet with the squad from District No. 1.

Cheerleaders

Let's give a great big yell — this time let's make it fifteen for the yell staff.

Rah-rah-rah-rah-rah! Rah-rah-rah-rah-rah! RAH-RAH-RAH-RAH-RAH!!!

This year's staff has done an outstanding job of leading the student body in yells and songs at the home games and sometimes we even saw them at games away from home.

Our capable girls are Arlene Farrar, Lolita Farrar, Donna Wallace, and Donna Jinkens.
