STAFF FOR YEAR BOOK IS CHOSEN FROM LIST OF TALENTED WRITERS

Jean McMurray of Aberdeen, Washington has been appointed by the Student Executive Council as editor-in-chief of the 1930 Hyakem, according to the announcement of Howard R. Porter, faculty adviser. The editorship of the year book is one of the outstanding honors of the school term to be conferred on a member of the student body. For the past several years the Ellensburg book has rated high in competition among the yearbooks of the entire nation, in 1928 winning the highest possible award of "All-American" rating.

Jean is well qualified to fill this responsible position having had excellent experience while a student in the Aberdeen high school. She served for two years as associate editor of "The Quinalt", the high school annual and also acted as associate editor of the school paper, "The Ocean Breeze." The year book won "First Class Honor Rating" during one year of her connection with it while the paper won an "All-American" rating. Besides being salutatorian of her graduating class, Jean acted as secretary. She also won one of the Weatherwax scholarship prizes.

Due to her excellent work on the Campus Crier last year, she was elected president of the newly formed Press Club, an honorary group made up of outstanding members chosen from the staffs of the two publications, the Hyakem and the Campus Crier.

Pete Wick, who hales from Seattle, will fill the capacity of associate editor. This is Pete's third year as a member of the Hyakem staff, having first served as a staff member on the yearbook of 1928, which won the "All-American" rating for college annuals. Last year he also served in the capacity of associate editor on the Hyakem.

The position of business manager will be filled by Ray Treichel of Everett who will have for his assistant, Frank Clark.

The other members of the staff have been tentatively chosen as follows: music, Margaret Sutter of Zillah, who besides being assistant editor of the high school annual there was editor of the school paper. Eugene Lee of Ellensburg will have charge of the Drama department. Mr. Lee is a member of this year's staff of the Campus Crier. The Society section will be handled by Dorothy Connell of Hoquiam, who had experience on both the annual and in the society department of the town paper.

Carl Jensen and Clifford Samuelson will have charge of the men's athletics. Both are experienced sports writers and have done quite a lot of this work before. Women's athletics will be under the direction of Marguerite Wilkie of Montesno. Margaret Taylor of Prosser and Valeria Marsard of Benton Cit will handle the organizations department. Thelma Stabence, member of the Hyakem staff of 1928, will handle the publications, and Lowell Hawley, Arne Randall and Warren Platt have been chosen as the art staff.

JOHN LOMBARD HAS INSPECTION TWICE A WEEK

Room inspection is to be held every Tuesday and Saturday in the men's dormitory. Harold Akam, president of the men's dormitory, made this plain to the boys at a meeting last Monday evening. "Some of the rooms are very untidy," he said, "and should be cleaned up at least on Tuesday and Saturday of each week."

Each room is to elect one of its occupants to be in charge of the room for one week at a time. This boy will be responsible for the room for his particular week and shall receive all punishments if the room does not pass inspection.

These rooms are to be inspected by members of the house rules committee, which includes Kent Caldwell, Roy Sandberg and Alvin Warwick. A severe physical punishment will be administered by this committee if the room does not pass inspection.

Freshmen Kids Have Play Night Saturday At Student Pavilion

Judging from the kiddish atmosphere and the general good time spirit displayed by every person present, the Freshmen Kid Party which was held in the student pavilion last Saturday evening, was surely a success.

Throng of little boys and girls dressed in their child-like costumes added much to the effect. Cute little romper suits and charming little party dresses were worn by the girls while their little classmates (male species) were quite becomingly garbed in little knicker pants.

The children became tired of dancing after an endless fashion so their teacher (whose name we won't disclose) rang her little bell and of course the children immediately assembled in their proper places for the opening ceremony of the night school. Much to their surprise, Miss Teacher asked that one student start a story and another follow and so on and so forth until the story had been completed. The purpose of this violent act was for the benefit of several distinguished visitors. The story as told by the youngsters was really marvelously done. It is so complicated however, that the writer finds it absolutely impossible to write a careful description or even relate a tiny portion, yet the title can be given. It was "The Three Bears."

Several members of the intellectual (teacher's pets) group, performed quite skillfully. A quartet gave several touching selections, which appealed to the musical trained ears of most of our most modern specimens of childhood. After a few contributions of various types of folk, stage, and toe gymnastics, school was dismissed and the children were surprised with a little dainty lunch, which surely touched their hearts clear down to the bottom of their shoe tops.

Now to get back to seriousness! Too much credit cannot be given to Gladys Stewart, the frosh social commissioner, who with the aid of her committees planned out the entire evening's entertainment, for it was n-tact in every detail. From the expressions registered on the faces of the students it was quite easily evident that the affair will be long remembered and one which is outstanding in freshman history.

Coast College Presents Glee Club In Church

The men's glee club of the college of Puget Sound presented a very interesting and well balanced program last Friday, November 15, in the auditorium of the Methodist church. This organization is made up of twenty-seven members and is under the direction of John Paul Bennett. Mr. Bennett is well known in the musical world and the concert here last week was a very fair example of his work. The program was varied, consisting of group and solo numbers of a wide variety of different types of musical selection. A comic opera using a woman's sewing club as a plot was well worth the admission charged to the normal school students.

There was a fair crowd made up of both townspeople and normal students.

WILDCATS CHAMPS OF NORMALS AGAIN

FASHION SHOW IS ON TUESDAY

The fashion show to be given November 26 in the auditorium will have entertainment features. Miss Miriam Terry of the music department has promised special music for the occasion. At the request of Miss Eleanor Leslie, sponsor of the junior high school girls club, the fashion show will be repeated on Tuesday from 11 to 12, and will be open to the public at this time. This fashion show is being sponsored by the art department.

KAMOLA FROSH PLAN FIRESIDE

Freshmen Girls To Sponsor Thanksgiving Party Sunday

The first freshman party, carrying out the Thanksgiving idea, will take place in the blue room of Kamola, Sunday evening, November 24, from 9:00 till 10:15 p. m. The hall at this time will be closed for the residents only. The party is to be given as a get-together affair before the girls leave for Thanksgiving vacation. The scene of interest will be around the fireplace, where various guessing games will be the main features of entertainment, will take place. A short program is being planned. Refreshments will be served. This will be the first fireside of the quarter.

Committee chairmen which are definitely planning the affair are: refreshments, Lucille Scroup; entertainment, Gladys Stewart; program, Marian Watkins.

"The freshmen are to sponsor this Thanksgiving party," says Mabel Skinner, social commissioner, "as the upperclassmen are engaged at the present time on Snowball committees."

CLASS CHANGES STAFF OF CRIER

Newswriting Class Receives Practical Experience In Editing

The present newswriting class under the instruction of Mrs. Dorothy Pearce has had much practical experience this quarter in journalism. Due to the fact that no editor was selected this fall, most of the members of the class have had the responsibility of being editor, associate editor or assistant editor. Head line writing, copy reading and proof reading have furnished an opportunity for some of them to get acquainted with the make-up of the paper and learn some of the technique of journalism.

A very definite plan has been worked out for the editing of the December issues of the Campus Crier. The class which consists of twelve members has been divided up into three groups of four each. Each group will select from its members the editing staff; they will have the whole responsibility of putting out the paper for that week without the assistance of the advisor, Mrs. Pearce. However, all members of the class will contribute news as reporters as has been done heretofore. Each paper will be graded; the grade received on the paper will constitute the final test grade of each one in the group who put it out. Several facts will be taken into account to determine the grade; the general appearance of the paper, make-up, quality and accuracy of headlines, mechanical aspects, and correctness of names used. In order to promote further interest in this final contest a reward of $5.00 is being offered to the group whose paper scores highest. The group whose paper scores lowest will have to contribute to the fund. (Continued on page four)

By scoring a touchdown in last three minutes of play, by a most spectacular four-man pass, Ellensburg Normal Wildcats won from Bellingham Normal Vikings, 6 to 0, in their homecoming game, played on the Waldo field last Saturday, to win the Tri-Normal conference championship for the fourth consecutive year.

With less than three minutes to play and 15 yards to go on the third down, Robinson carried the ball through tackle for the first part of a lateral pass, criss-cross, series play. When he was downed he snapped the ball to Exley on the 18-yard line who in turn passed to Erickson on a supposedly end run, but as Erickson was covered he passed back to Sterling, who was likewise rushed, but before being tackled made a long pass to Rogers standing over the goal line. Try for point failed and game ended a 6-0 score.

NORMAL GIRLS URGED TO SIGN SNOWBALL LIST

Approximate Number At- tending Dance Needed By Committees

Plans are still under way for the Snowball, the annual formal sponsored by the women residences. The dance will be held in the student pavilion on Saturday evening, December 7. All campus girls who are planning on attending the Snowball are urged to sign on the lists in Kamola and Sue Lombard halls as soon as possible; the off-campus girls should sign the list in the library. The committees are somewhat held back until this is done as an approximate number of those attending must be known.

All students enrolled in the normal school and all faculty members are invited to attend the annual dance. Any alumni girl who would like an invitation may get in touch with Miss Muriel G. McFarland, dean of women, Reva Presson or Mary Round, invi-

Thanksgiving Seems To Come Next On the Program For Many Students

Next week by this time normal school students, safe crackers and dogs, will have satisfied their craving for vitamins X, Y and Z.

Strange as it may seem, there are but three differences between Thanksgiving now and the Thanksgiving of our pilgrim fathers.

Firstly, in those days turkeys grew on trees. Secondly, in those good old days Normal school students didn't have to spend their Xmas money for railway fare. Thirdly, and lastly, but not leastly, women didn't smoke corn cob pipes at formal affairs in those colonial night clubs.

Like in the days of our pilgrim fathers, dad will take his trusty muscle loader out from under his silk floss mattress on the morn of Thanksgiving day.

Then he will sneak through the woods in his new Ford to hunt a "turkey shoot."

After much expert hunting and shooting, dad will probably bring home a nice, fat, freshly drawn turkey, bagged at the local meat market.

In the first half the Wildcats, five different times had the ball within their opponents ten yard line but were unable to score, due mostly to fumbles with the wet ball.

Starting with the second half it was Bellingham's game until in the middle of the fourth quarter when the Wildcats braced up and finally scored. During that time the Vikings staged a real drive and a touchdown was narrowly averted.

Throughout the game rain fell making an already soft field sloppy and muddy. Good football was almost impossible and a slippery ball made passing and punting dangerous.

Playing their last game of the season, and for some the last game under the Crimson and Black, the Ellensburg team as a whole was in their fighting and deserved to win. Erickson looked good in returning punts and considering the wet, heavy ball made some nice punts.

Exley played his usual hard hitting game as did McKay and Sterling. Robinson made some nice runs but had a hard time getting started in the mud. In the line Exley, Warwick, Rogers and Valdeson were outstanding. Gagnon, Guggenblicker, Phillips, Knowell, and Hiccox, all did their share of mud slinging.

STUDENTS INVITED TO CHURCH PARTY

An invitation to a party to be held in the Methodist church tonight, is extended to normal school students, by Miss Marian Watkins, social commissioner of the Wesley club. The party is to consist of a program, general merrymaking, and eats.

The Wesley club is an organization of young people, who attend the Methodist church. Every Sunday the League has a social hour from 5:30 until 6:30 and the regular meeting to discuss interesting topics from 6:30 to 7:30. Then most of the young people attend the church services which begin at 7:30.

Then comes mother's difficult task. Between "hands of bridge," she must see to it that Opal puts sufficient parsley around the bird.

Did you know that some folks can actually think of things to be thankful for after their Thanksgiving dinner. Other folks are on a diet.

Kent Caldwell, famous piano soloist, says that turkeys were made to be gobbled up anyway.

Bismark Hess, well known athlete, says that the reason he dislikes Thanksgiving is because it comes too often.

Scotty McDonald, howl chief, is trying to find out if it is good etiquette to accept two dinner invitations on the same day. Mr. McDonald has been figuring and studying night and day on this problem. He has finally come to the conclusion that he can't solve the situation, because he hasn't anything to solve with.

Well, stuff your gizzards to capacity, during your leave of absence. But don't come back until you can look a turkey square in the eye again.

In this institution there are dozens of students who do nothing but study alone. That in itself is a fine thing but to do it all the time is disastrous. College life offers a great deal more than studies alone. Of what use is mere book learning without the social graces to polish it off? What pleasures and happy memories will one retain without getting out and doing things; without participating in outside activities?

If you want to broaden socially as well as mentally go to games and yell, go to dances and dance, go to school rallies and assemblies! In other words take in everything that comes along and get the most out of college life. You get out of anything just exactly what you put into it.

A Fashion Chat With Miss Clause of the Fine Arts Department

High marks of the season:

The accessories, the shoes and the hands receive the emphasis of the formal winter mode. Milady's appearance must be a complete picture, with a frame, a background and a rich setting. She will weigh every detail of the ensemble and reject any accessory that does not help the general effect.

The very elite and classy evening gown of today has an unusual note of interest about it. If truly French, the note of interest is obtained through color, more than line. Colors and combinations are most effective. Right now it would be a pastel dress, with the accented or French note a much deeper and richer color. If the dress is a vivid color the highlight should tone in more with the hair of the wearer. A dress, other than black, which is rich in coloring is usually the most becomingly worn by the blond. Of course, black is always complimentary to the blond, especially when the accessories play up to the hair of the wearer.

There is no question about black being outstanding in effect if it is combined with purple. Plain slippers in a deep or glowing purple color with purple kerchief and accessories make the total ensemble distinguished and fascinating. While black is the most desirable color, pastel shades with the French accent is second in rank and the bright colored gown is last. The gown with the individual note is equally as good and as outstanding as the gown of high style if the ensemble is carefully worked out and well worn.

Lame, a French material, is sponsored by Patou as the newest and most outstanding for evening wear. It appears both in dresses and in wraps and is unusually smart. Light weight materials are alternatives—chiffons, combinations of Lame and chiffon, chiffon velvet, velvet and tulle; satin. The latter has a gold and silver trim. For high style and all around wear the moire shoe and the brocade material divide the honors. The latter has a gold and silver mixture or is flesh color. Brocades now are often in colored floral designs mixed with silver and gold and trimmed in silver or gold—the background probably white. Shoes may either be pump style or sharp style but the must have high heels. A raised velvet or merely plain et designs are modish. Flat crepe of good quality is permissible and has many possibilities in evening gowns.

We have not concerned ourselves with the line of the formal gown in this chat, because that, after all, depends upon the individual whim of the designer. May we suggest, however, that the long skirt, six inches below the knee is chic. The length should be six inches at the shortest point and perhaps graduate into a longer, flowing train.

Hi, Everybody!
Next week Thanksgiving will be observed.

IT WAS IN THE YEAR 1621 THAT THE PILGRIM FATHERS GOT TOGETHER AND CELEBRATED THE FIRST KIWANIS LUNCHEON.

They had sailed from England the year before when the King had caught them putting slugs in the collection plate.

They wanted religious freedom, so they came to the land of theme songs and beard-growing contests.

THE TRIP ACROSS THE ATLANTIC TOOK THEM THREE MONTHS BECAUSE THEY DIDN'T HAVE ANY OUTBOARD MOTORS IN THOSE DAYS.

This was quite a while before the United States was subdivided into forty-eight states and the city of Los Angeles.

And before Lewis and Clark made their famous trip down the Columbia river to the mouth of the Pacific ocean.

WE DON'T KNOW WHETHER THIS TRIP BY LEWIS AND CLARK WAS SPONSORED BY THE CAMPFIRE GIRLS OR THE BETHLEHEM STEEL CORPORATION.

Anyhow, it was quite a trip and it wasn't long before Yakima apples were known all over the country.

But to get back to the Pilgrim Fathers, we've got a hunch that they stopped outside the twelve-mile limit.

Risking being shot at by the Coast Guard, they continued on their way, and landed on Plymouth Rock.

DISAPPOINTMENT AND HARD-SHIP GREETED THEM FROM THE FIRST, FOR NOT A SINGLE MOV-IE CONTRACT WAS OFFERED THEM FOR THEIR LITTLE STUNT.

Only a bunch of savages peered curiously at them from behind the dense thickets.

It is not stated in the records as to whether these savages were Indians or a bunch of Elks on a convention.

Observing the knee breeches of the Pilgrim Fathers, the savages rushed forward to greet them, thinking they were a contingent of British golfers over for the National Amateur Golf Tournament.

THE PILGRIM FATHERS ADMIRERED THE NICE COAT OF SUN-TAN THE SAVAGES HAD, AND ASKED THEM HOW MANY SUNDAYS THEY HAD TO STAND AT THE BEACH TO GET IT.

However, the Pilgrim Fathers were not to be disheartened, and proceeded to hew the logs for their new cabin homes altho they were constantly in danger of being attacked by savage Ford dealers or life insurance agents.

The first winter was a tough one, not a radio or a pinochle deck was to be had.

AND THEY SPENT A LOT OF TIME DODGING THE GAME WARDEN WHILE THEY WERE GETTING VENISON FOR FOOD.

Meanwhile, in England things were were not going so good.

Sir Thomas Lipton had once more failed to win the Lipton Trophy for the sailing supremacy of the world and points west.

The English populace were disgruntled, demanded satisfaction, and told old King Jim to turn in his uniform.

In the excitement the king lost his head, and as far as we can ascertain he's still looking for his royal hat rack.

WHILE OLD KING JIM THE FIRST WAS BEING REMOVED AS THE OFFICIAL BENCHWARMER IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE, THE PILGRIM FATHERS WERE HAV-ING A MOST TRYING TIME TRYING TO WARD OFF AN ATTACK BY THE SAVAGES.

SEVERAL OF THE PILGRIM FATHERS HAVING ALREADY BEEN SHOT IN THE THICKETS.

But nothing happened, as the Chief of the savages had gone to Palm Beach for the winter.

When spring finally sprang, the Pilgrim Fathers were filled with joy because they could once more doff their red flannels.

AND WHEN THE CHIEF OF THE SAVAGES RETURNED FOR THE SPRING TURNOUTS, THE PILGRIM FATHERS DECIDED TO INVITE HIM OVER TO A BRIDGE PARTY, SO AS TO GET ACQUAINTED AND FIND OUT WHAT HIS RECIPE WAS.

Things materialized lovely. The Chief was greatly impressed, and began calling the Pilgrim Fathers by their first name and others, depending upon what kind of a hand he held.

Nevertheless, he left thinking that the Pilgrim gang were good scouts because they let him win and had given him a string of beads for half the state of Massachusetts.

HAVING GIVEN THE MADISON SQUARE GARDEN CORPORATION AN OPTION ON ALL HIS BATTLES, THE CHIEF DECIDED TO TAKE A FLING AT VAUDEVILLE UNTIL AN OFFER FOR BETTER SCALPS CAME ALONG.

Having thus averted any disagreeable circumstances by their tactful disarmament parley, the Pilgrim fathers proceeded to make use of the Chief's recipe by raising a bumper crop of corn.

When the harvest season was over and they had gotten all their corn poured into the cellar, the Pilgrim Fathers decided to get together in an offering of Thanksgiving for having been spared from book agents and the alluring offers of football coaches.

AND TO THIS DAY WE ARE OBSERVING THIS PILGRIM HOLIDAY SO AS TO PAY FOR THE BUTCHER'S NEW PACKARD. I thank you.

SQUADS REDUCED BY INITIAL CUT TO 15 PLAYERS

Tough Schedule Arranged Includes Road Trip For Holidays

With over a week of practice to become acquainted with his material, basketball coach Nicholson, made his first cut, reducing squad to 15 men exclusive of the football men who will be out next week. All members eliminated will still get a chance to play in either the super-varsity or freshmen teams which are entered in the city league and will also play high schools around Ellensburg and Yakima.

Those who survived the initial cut are McMahon, Grunden, Morgan, Isaacson, Smith, McPhee, Bechtold, May, Haney, Morrison, Bailey, Meyers, Arsanto, Rowe and Bridges. In addition to these are Rogers, Erickson, Exley, Warwick, Sterling, Gagnon, Phillips, Knoell and Lindquist from the football squad.

Nicholson has a wealth of good material to work with and has arranged some early games to prepare the team for a hard schedule.

New equipment has been ordered, including new suits and warm-up outfits for the players. Some new baskets, which are being installed, and a score board for spectators giving players and their numbers, a running score and the time to play.

A tough pre-conference schedule has been arranged giving them the benefit of 10 or 12 games before the regular tri-normal conference, including a road trip during Christmas into Oregon.

The first game is with Yakima Y. M. C. A., December 6 followed by two games at Whitman with the Missionaries on December 10 and 11. From there into Oregon to play the Oregon State Normal school at La Grande on the following day. Centralia and Yakima Junior colleges are next in line. During Christmas holidays a road trip including eight games will be taken, starting with two games with Washington State College on December 27, then into Idaho for two games with that state's university. From there they will travel in the Willamette Valley, Oregon, to take on Willamette University, Pacific College at Forest Grove, Linfield College and University of Oregon.

Girls To Take Various Tests

Motor ability tests, which are required of all girls in the school, are entirely different from last year's rope climbing, plank walking, ball throwing, jumping abilities. They are a variety of stunts testing balance, agility and limberness. Their success depends to some extent on former experience. They are taken under the supervision of Miss Mabel Alden, physical education instructor.

Tournaments Held In Tennis Classes

Tennis tournaments are in progress in all tennis classes this week. The finals will be played next week.

The archery class is also having a tournament during this week.

Games are being played in hockey, speedball and baseball classes.

W. A. A. is sponsoring these games and tournaments which are arranged by the heads of sports. Equal attention is given each sport this year instead of having major sports as formerly.

WILMARTH TELLS OF CHANGES IN W. A. A. SYSTEM

Miss Alice Wilmarth, head of the physical education department, spoke on the change of the point system at a meeting of the W. A. A. Wednesday, Nov. 13, in the green room of Kamola hall.

The organization is just the same as it was before only points will not be counted. What will count is attitude participation and good health.

Black blazers with a distinctive emblem were decided to take the place of white sweaters. White sweaters as athletic awards are going out in larger institutions. A black flannel blazer, belonging to Miss Mabel Alden, which will be on the order of our awards, was shown to the group.

A constitution committee to revise the present constitution include Harriet Bowman, chairman; Anne Holmes, and Gladys Levin.

To keep up the spirit of W. A. A. and to promote good times, an outing chairman will be elected each month to arrange hikes, breakfast hikes, all day outings, etc.

Heads of sports have been elected to arrange games. They are: volley ball, Margaret Short; tennis, Olrikka Ganty; baseball, Claudine Dudek; hockey, Norma Berglund; speedball, Vieno Pontinen; archery, Nell Evans.

CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE INCLUDES 2 NORMAL TEAMS

Representing the Normal school in a city basketball league, will be two teams, a freshman and a super-varsity team, under the coaching of Roy Sandberg. Each team is to play one game with all other entries at the rate of one game a week. Regular play will start December 2 and will run nine weeks, giving members of the teams a couple of weeks in which to get in condition.

Representatives of 10 teams met with President Waldron and Secretary Jesse Mills last Tuesday night in the Y. M. C. A. and advanced plans and rules concerning tournament play. Practice hours on the Y. M. C. A. floor will be determined by drawing of numbers placed in a box, at the next meeting of managers. A $20 forfeit fee will be deposited by each manager, this to be relinquished in case of default or violation of rules. Each backer of various teams is to furnish his team with suits, which have already been ordered.

An attractive trophy is to be presented to the team winning most games and will probably become the permanent possession of the sponsoring member with two successive seasonal championships.

This is the first attempt at an all city basketball league and if successful will be a permanent thing during the winters. It is hoped that it will give many men a chance to get some real exercise and recreation during the cold season, who would otherwise be playing in any gymnasium.

Girls Hike For Lost Treasure

About thirty-five girls participated in a treasure hunt sponsored by the W. A. A. Sunday afternoon lasting from 3:00 to 6:00. Following a map they progressed from place to place finding a series of envelopes guiding the group to such places as the Milwaukee depot, the graveyard, and finally leading up to the upper bridge where the buried treasure was dug up. The treasure, which proved to be marshmallows, were toasted over a bonfire. The search for the treasure included eight miles.

The treasure hunt was arranged by Gladys Levin, W. A. A. outing chairman.

Those who made posters were Lucille Scroup, Elizabeth Bonney and Marguerite Wilkie.

Who's Who LAURETTA COOK
"Oakville, Oakville, O. H. S.!" Yes, that's Laurretta Cook's voice you hear, rooting for her high school team. Laurretta is always present to help back athletics, whether it be for boys or girls. Her interest did not cease when she left the doors of Oakville high school; she is always one of the rooters for the "crimson and black."

Athletics have always held a foremost place in Laurretta's school life. As an active member of W. A. A. she wears a sweater which she won last year through good sportsmanship and her ability as an athlete. Anyone who has played on a team with her knows that, through her enthusiasm, they are able to win (ask any member of the volley ball class.)

Laurretta is noted for her leadership—and Sue Lombard has wisely chosen a president. She was valedictorian of her class; thus winning the W. S. C. scholarship; she presided at all meetings during her senior year as class president. Laurretta held the office of secretary of the A. S. B. and vice president of the Girl's club. Her knack for journalism put her on the year book staff as business manager. The Campus Crier at the present time profits by having her on its staff.

Home economics finds Laurretta as a major student. Her further interest is to be a dietician. Studies, social life, athletics and outdoor life all went their way into her college career. She is an all around student.

Campus Locals

Edwin Slocum, second year student, spent last Saturday and Sunday at his home in Grandview.

Harry Weimer, accountant at the business office, drove up to Bellingham last week end to see the football game.

Alfred Dumpert Chauncey Archibald Jensen is visiting with his brother Carl Regnald Percival James Jensen of W. S. N. S.

The Monday bridge club entertained their husbands at a bridge party in the Food Shop of Kamola hall, Tuesday evening, November 19.

Miss Vera Aroher and Carl Jensen motored to Sedro Wooley last week end where they visited the latter's parents. Saturday they attended the football game in Bellingham.

In a veritable sea of mud "Scotty" MacDonald, leader of "organized yelling" in Ellensburg State Normal, took charge of the Viking rooting section during halves and showed them what real pep is.

Willis McCoy spent the last week end at his home, which is near Lyle. Mr. McCoy, who is a first year student here, just recently recovered from severe scratches on his face, received while playing basketball.

Chuck Lederle, Louise Lederle, Nestor Lind, Harold Naubert, and Scotty MacDonald motored to Sedro Wooley where they visited at the home of Chuck's parents. They attended the football game in Bellingham Saturday.

PLANS FINISHED FOR SCHEDULES SAYS REGISTRAR

Elaborate and detailed plans for winter and spring quarter registration have been completed, according to the report from H. J. Whitney, registrar, and it will now be possible for students to plan their schedule for the entire year. They are thus aided in avoiding conflicts and complications which so frequently arise during advanced matriculation days.

"The study schedule for the second and third quarters of the present school year have been made out for the third year students and the registrar is planning to do this for all first and second year students," according to a report from the office of Mr. Whitney. "The student is asked to come to the office for consultation at the time appointed or request a more convenient time."

"After the trial study-schedule has been completed the student will then submit this schedule to the head of the department in which the student has chosen to do his major work. The head of the department will approve the schedule or make recommendations for changes. The card must then be brought back to the registrar's office with the signature of the department head."

"During the last week of the quarter all students will obtain registration booklets from Miss Muriel McFarland, dean of women, or B. A. Leonard, dean of men. They will then fill out the cards and pay their registration fees. Beginning with the winter quarter, after fees have been paid, fifty cents will be collected from students who change courses, unless the change has been recommended by the Registrar or by the head of the department in which the student is majoring."

New Building Has Noiseless Floors

The new building, which is nearing completion, will be especially noiseless due to the new composition floors. Tiletex will be used in all of the classrooms and the hallways will be laid with terrazzo flooring. No wood will be used for floors in this structure.

Work is progressing rather rapidly on the inside of the new building. Most of the plastering is done on the first two floors, and steam was connected last week end in order that the building can dry out and workmen can begin flooring the hallways. It is expected that classes will be able to meet in the new unit at the beginning of the second quarter. The departments of education, psychology, sociology, home economics, part of the health education work, and probably biology can be accommodated in the new building.

Valentine Party To Be Informal

On the evening of February 15, which incidentally is Valentine's day, the off campus informal will occur in the student pavilion. Living up to the precedent established last year, the music will be the best available and the decorations will be elaborate. The Saint Valentine motif will be carried out in the favors and appointments. Watch for this event.

LOCAL MUSIC NOTES

Five new keyboards have been purchased by the music department for the use of the piano class next quarter. These keyboards are standard size and are noiseless. This class makes it possible for the students to learn the piano-keyboard and be able to play enough to accompany the singing in their rooms when they get to teaching school.

There have been a few changes in the music schedule for next quarter. The men's glee club will meet at three o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday, and the women's ensemble will meet at four o'clock on Monday and Wednesday.

Those who desire to take these subjects are asked, by Miss Terry, to plan their schedules so that they will not conflict with these hours.

The girl's triple-trio will sing at the assembly Tuesday morning.

More violin players are wanted by the music department. All of you who play a violin and are interested in being in orchestra, see Mr. Pyle at once.

When the Pilgrims came to Plymouth. The time dragged slowly by— But now since we have airplanes— My word! how time does fly!

TAKE INVENTORY OF YOUR MAKEUP

No matter where you go you will find quite a number of individuals that think they are so much better than those around them. In this day of sex equality, and equal opportunities, I cannot conceive of anyone being better than their next-door neighbor. Perhaps you may retaliate by saying that wealth perpetuates class distinction; that the dollar is the supreme idol. True enough, to a certain extent, so far as the vital necessities for the subsistence of life are concerned; but the true worth of a man; his relationship to his fellow being; to society at large, is measured only by the sincerity of his friendship; the unassuming attitude he takes towards worthy accomplishments, personal, or otherwise.

An so, to those of you who think that you are better than anyone else, I want to ask these four questions:

Who do you think you are? Do you amount to as much as you think you do, or do you amount to as much as you really do?

Are you honest, and square with yourself?

Do you act natural, or do you try to "spread it on," and try to kid yourself, and others, into believing you are a superior being?

If you do, then my advice is to get next to yourself. "Snap out of it." Be frank and look at yourself as others might. Go to the mirror and size yourself up. Try to figure out, to realize whether or not you are cheating or overestimating yourself.

You may not be accustomed to observing yourself; but don't be surprised at what you see in the glass—we are all more or less funny, you know. Talk to yourself, laugh, scold, and criticize, but do not pity. Do you honestly see any reason why others should bow to your queenly mold; or your superior athletic ability?

We are all assembled from the same clay, and return to the same dust from whence we sprung. In Europe, when a king dies, his subjects know from infancy who is to be next on the throne. But in the United States, the boy in the slums has an equal chance with the millionaire's son to become the president of the world's greatest democracy.

It takes not one spoke, but many, to build the monstrous wheel that turns the years of life. You and I, as individuals, are merely insignificant cogs in the wheel, but by working together we form a complete unit. "Divided we fall, united we stand."

It isn't the outward show that counts, and looks do help, to some extent to make the man. After all, tho, it is the heart of a man, the internal self, the thoughts, the greatness of the soul, that holds the interest of an acquaintance after looks and clothes have attracted. Those are the real attributes that prove your worth to society. —R. N. Harding.

Club Members Are Breakfast Guests

The members of the Newman club were guests at a breakfast at the Catholics church on November 16 by the ladies of the parish. Club members who assisted with plans for the breakfast were: Mattie Theis, chairman; Laura O'Neil and Ida Thayer.

The members of the organization have decided to hold a "discussion club" every other Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing questions of current interest to the students.

The following people were appointed for the breakfast committee for December 8; Erin Dawson, chairman; Esther Furness, and Miss Hanson. At this occasion officers will be elected for the year. All club members were urged to pay their dues.

NORMAL GIRLS

The student pavilion is to be artistically decorated as a wintry scene. The ceiling will be worked out in a modernistic design; green pine and fir trees glittering with snow will characterize an atmosphere of a snowy winter; Jack Frost's clever window patterns will add to the decorations. With the aid of blue lights the cold effect of the "Snowball" season will be brought out.

The program will be in keeping with the decorations using the Christmas tree idea.

As yet the orchestra for the dance is undecided. However, the committee chairmen wish to take advantage of their opportunity in the selection. A clever dance feature will be included in the entertainment. Miss Olga Spirito, instructor in interpreta-

ASSEMBLY HELD FOR BENEFIT OF FRESHMAN CLASS

Representatives Of Various Clubs Discuss Campus Activities

To inform first year students of the various activities on the campus was the purpose of the first all-freshman assembly held in the auditorium at 10 o'clock last Thursday. Dean for women, Miss Muriel McFarland, presided over the meeting, giving a brief talk on the purpose of the assembly.

Clifford Samuelson, president of the Associated Student Body, gave a short talk to the underclassmen, telling of the desirable cooperative spirit being shown already by the freshmen. Christine Venera represented the Art club and gave an interesting resume of the purpose of that organization. She also called special attention to the Fashion show, which is being sponsored by the Art club and which is to be presented before the assembly on November 26. Mary de Jong spoke in behalf of Pi Omega, the psychology club and extended an invitation to any freshman interested to attend their meetings.

Kappa Pi was represented by Mrs. Pearl Jones, who told the group of the club for those interested in kindergarten primary work. Orlikka Gantry, in speaking for the Off Campus girl's club, not only extended an invitation to all girls not residing on the campus to become affiliated with the group, but urged them to attend the surprise party which was held on Craig's hill early this week. Margaret Short in speaking for the Women's Athletic Association, gave a splendid talk on the purpose of the organization and the requisites of membership. Lewis Argano described the work of the Little Art Theatre Guild, and urged the students who are interested in dramatics to acquaint themselves with the work being done by that group.

Scotty MacDonald, the quite skeptical, was desirous of trying the ability of the underclassmen in making noise. However, much to his surprise he was able to draw the conclusion that a great deal of the boom! boom! racket at our football games came from frosh rooters.

All girls received an invitation to become associated with the Home Economics club, by Beulah Gynn, their representative. Joe Miller concluded the talks given by the various club representatives with a careful description of the social and educational values of the club composed of students majoring in history, known on the campus as the Herodoteans.

Robert Boyle, president of the freshmen class took charge of the meeting for the remaining few minutes of the session.

PARTY PLANNED FAR IN ADVANCE

A tea dansante is planned for March 24 by the off-campus girls, and will be in honor of Kamola and Sue Lombard halls. It is offered as a gesture of friendship and goodwill and it is hoped that it will cement the relationship of the dormitories and the town girls. The event occurs on the first day of the school session in the spring quarter. It is also the first event to which the freshmen are invited and will serve to aid in introducing them to social life on the campus. While the dansante is still months in the future, it is to be an annual affair and one which all students should anticipate with pleasure.

SECOND MEETING OF PRESS CLUB HELD TUESDAY

The Press club, a new organization on the campus this year, made up of members interested in Campus Crier work or work on the school annual, the Hyakem, held its second meeting last Tuesday night, November 12. The chief purpose of the meeting was to discuss the constitution which was drawn up by Pete Wick, Thelma Stabence and Marguerite Wilkie.

The club decided up on the basis for membership. Each member must be nominated into the organization; he must have had one quarter of previous outstanding work on the Campus Crier or Hyakem staff; he must show an interest to help promote the success of these journalistic activities. The faculty advisors of the school paper and annual will be honorary members. This is a club which is an honor to belong to, one which is exceedingly worthwhile. As soon as it is a little more decided upon plans and more definitely organized, membership pins will be awarded.

At a meeting the members of the club talked of a social affair which they are planning to put on the first of next quarter, February 1 being chosen as the date. Plans will be worked out later. The social events are to be one of the outstanding features of the club.

STUDENTS ATTEND DANCE AT CHURCH

A dance held in the Episcopal Parish house last Saturday evening, November 16, was very well attended by the Normal students. There was a group of about fifty couples, of which approximately half were students of the normal school. The orchestra was composed of a group of young people under seventeen year of age. An admission of twenty five cents was charged. All who attended are said to have had a good time.

Freshman Girl Was Winner Of Trip To Chicago

Miss Iva Lynch, a first year student, has won a trip to Chicago to the annual 4-H Club Congress held there. The trip is offered each year by Montgomery, Ward and Co., to the most outstanding girl in home economics in the state.

Miss Lynch has a fine record of achievement in 4-H club work, having been a member for five years. She has done some creditable work in sewing and room improvement projects. She exhibits every year at the Kittitas county fair, the state fair and the western Washington fair carrying off her share of prizes. She won the state championship for two years in demonstration contests at the state fair. Miss Lynch won the state Farm Journal leadership this year offered to 4-H club members. This year she was awarded a silver loving cup offered by the Ellensburg Kiwanis club for the most outstanding senior girl in Kittitas county. She has attended the state 4-H club camp at Pullman for four years.

While in Chicago she will have an opportunity to see the International Livestock show, the stockyards and many places of interest in Chicago. She will leave next week, and join members from all western states on their way to the club congress.
