PRIMARY HEAD VISITS EUROPE'S NOTED SCHOOLS

Miss Meisner Tells Of Her Many Interesting Travels

President George H. Black has just received an interesting letter from Miss Clara Meisner who is on leave of absence to visit the various interesting kindergarten and elementary schools in Europe and who is soon to return to this country for study.

Miss Meisner left Ellensburg last August going direct to the International Education in Denmark. From there she went to Germany to visit friends and relatives and become acquainted with many interesting types of kindergarten and elementary schools. Her subsequent visits are sketched briefly in the following quotation from her recent letter.

"Just now I am on a steamer on the English Channel. Fortunately the trip is quite smooth today. It has been very rough recently.

"I have spent the last two and a half weeks in Holland and Belgium. Now I am on my way to see some noted schools in England and to visit a friend whose husband is rector of a fine old cathedral.

"My whole trip has been a very delightful one and so varied with its sightseeing, its visiting of friends and relatives, the conferences and the school visiting. I found the school authorities most cordial everywhere. It began very propitiously in Rome when a high school teacher who spoke Eng-

HEALTH ED. WORK HOLDS INTEREST

Corrective Gymnastics Proves Popular Class

Miss Alice H. Wilmarth holds two interesting classes every day at three and four o'clock respectively. The name is corrective gymnastics with particular emphasis on the "gymnastics." Although the class was limited to a select few who were assigned to this class there were a number who tried to join unasked. Needless to say they were refused.

In the next few weeks, Miss Wilmarth hopes to be able to turn loose a group of A-1 posture people. As yet they are still trying to do the "teddy bear walk" with their feet flat on the floor. If anyone should doubt the difficulty of this feat, they suggest you try it for a step or two.

Miss Wilmarth is being assisted by girls from her health education 101 class which specializes in just this sort of work. Incidentally they apply what they learn to themselves and they have their "pet" exercises, too.

Dropping Pin Causes Great Hubub At Very Late Hour In Men's Dorm

All the boys were gathered together having a big conference. That is, they were spending a quiet evening at home, talking of everything and everyone, cussing and discussing, singing and howling when their sleep was interrupted by someone dropping a pin. This deafening noise awoke everyone for miles around including Christian Irby. Ordinarily he is able to sleep thru the terrific din caused by the women of Kamola yowling and yelping at the moon every evening. Tonight was the night of nights, tho and evidently something was wrong, either he had gone to sleep with his nose in the pillow or else he was having soul-rending dreams. I think the latter was the case because he awoke with a huge smile and his face was twisted into a shape that looked like a cross between the face of an ape and a New York paper boy. When he opened his mouth to speak, a grue-

THRILLS PROMISED SKI ENTHUSIASTS

The ski enthusiasts of the Normal school will leave their studies Sunday to attend the annual ski tournament at Cle Elum. Judging from the reports of those who have attended previous tournaments, the spectators of this year's skiing contest will be those who are taking advantage of the opportunity to behold such a thrilling sport.

The course has been so improved that the jumps from one hundred to one hundred and fifty feet will be made by the professional jumpers who will gather there from all parts of the state. The spectators will be provided with real thrills while watching these men hurtle through the air and land gracefully on the hill below.

Those taking skis will have an opportunity to use them on the smaller courses in the vicinity. Plan to leave early enough to take in the amateur events in the morning which will be run off previous to the professional jumps. Now is the time for the ski enthusiasts to take advantage of a ski tournament so near at home.

VALENTINE BALL WILL BE STAGED ON FEBRUARY 15

Off Campus Girls Have Made Plans for Good Time

A good-time dance, "The Cupid's Ball" has been planned by the Off-Campus girls to take place tomorrow evening, February 15, in the student pavilion.

"Our dance is an informal affair," says the president, "yet we have tried to make it real interesting, attractive and enjoyable." Dates are not necessary in order to attend the ball. Everyone is to come and have a "good time." No special program will be offered other than the dancing of the evening.

One of the best orchestras obtainable is engaged for the occasion. Harrison Miller will furnish the music. A special feature will be singing by Mac Anderson, who is well known in Ellensburg.

As the name suggests, the decorations are to be carried out in the valentine motif. Big red hearts to bring out the significance of St. Valentine's day will be used. The woven effect to be used in lowering the height of the ceiling will add to the appearance of the pavilion and the decorations.

The various committees have been working efficiently on the plans for the dance in order that it may prove a success. A charge of ten cents is being asked for admission to cover the cost of refreshments.

COLONIAL BALL IS PLANNED BY UPPER CLASSES

Last Formal Will Be Simple, Yet Very Effective

The Colonial Ball, the last formal of the year which is sponsored by the sophomore and junior classes, will be held in the student pavilion, Saturday evening, February 22.

The date selected, Washington's birthday, is very suitable to bring out the colonial idea. The gym will be the scene of a typical, old colonial home with an old-fashioned garden. The decorations are to be simple, yet with an effective touch of beauty, according to the committees in charge. They will be different than they have been before.

The programs, carrying out the colonial motif, are planned to be square in shape with a black and white silhouette picture of a man and lady dancing the minuet.

A feature dance, the minuet, under the direction of Miss Olga Spirito, instructor in interpretative dancing, will be given during intermission. Four men and women, selected from the student body, will take part. According to the committee it is to be better than in previous years.

The music committee has selected the Canadians as the orchestra to play for the ball.

The patronesses and patrons for the Colonial are: President and Mrs. George H. Black, Dean and Mrs. E. A. Leonard, Miss Grace McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nicholson, Miss Nell Stewart, Miss Margaret Skinner, Neal McKay and Harold Akam.

Committees have made definite plans to carry out and as this is the last formal of the year they hope it will be just as successful as the two preceding dances of this kind.

ONE ACT PLAYS WERE GIVEN BY DRAMATIC DEPT.

Play Production Class Handles Entire Program

The students in the play production class under the direction of Miss Frances Frater presented three one-act plays last Friday afternoon, in the Little Art Theatre at two o'clock. The members of the class took full charge of the program. They directed the plays, cared for the properties, costumes, lighting effects, etc.

The plays that were presented were: "Overtones," "The Silver Lining," and "The Rising of the Moon."

The casts for the plays were: "Overtones": Harriet, Dorothy Connel; Hettie, Fay Scott; Margaret, Dorothy Robards; Maggie, Erja Loungren; Director, Margaret Johnson.

"The Silver Lining": Fannie, Mattie Theis; Richard, Clifford Samuelson; Cephas, Alma Beynum; director, Gladys Johnsrud.

"The Rising of the Moon": Sergeant, Scotty McDonald; Ragged Man, Norman Hume; Policeman B, Bernard Anderson; Policeman X, Daniel Jakey; director, Lois Watchman.

Edith Stratton had charge of all the properties for the plays. The play production class plans to present a similar program before the student body next month.

CRUSADE IS GROWING

Washington (IP)—Among the leaders in a new war on smoking, with the idea of bringing Congress to see its way clear to regulating or abolishing cigarette advertising, are Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Dr. William G. Lennox, of Harvard University, Senator Smoot of Utah, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of the Christian Endeavor, the Christian Science Monitor, the National Child Welfare Council, the Boy Rangers of America, and the northern wing of the Methodist Episcopal church.

W. A. A. DISCUSS SCHOOL AFFAIRS

A short meeting of the W. A. A., held in the East room of Sue Lombard, was called Wednesday evening by Catherine Stevens, president. Each girl paid her dues at roll call. The important question now before the student body of whether to discontinue interscholastic athletics or raise the student body fee was discussed. The members were in favor of raising the student body fee.

BERTRAM HAIGHT IS INTERESTING

An interesting demonstration of the French horn was given by Bertram N. Haight, French horn soloist, and a member of the Seattle symphony orchestra, at an assembly held Monday morning, February 10.

Mr. Haight played a group of familiar airs and then explained the history of the horn and its various uses. He demonstrated the use of the hand in making various sounds on the instrument.

Mr. Haight played another group of selections, closing with a beautifully rendered cradle song.

Miss Juanita Davies, of the music department, was Mr. Haight's accompanist.

KAPPA PI GIRLS HOLD MEETING

Miss Hebler Talks To Girls On Creative Education

The Kappa Pi girls held their weekly meeting Tuesday evening. Miss Hebler, the head of the training school, spoke to the girls on the Meaning of Creative Education.

She said that Creative Education was an outgrowth of John Dewey's principle "Reconstruction of Experience."

It is not only for information but to change the way of doing things. Present day practice is not up to present-day theories. The vocabularies of the teachers are very much changed. More self-expression and self-discovery is being used.

The child comes first always. His wants and his needs must be considered and met.

Self-expression and self-discovery considered first and the technique second.

The characteristics of Creative Education are: (1) Inventive, including uniqueness, originality, and newness.

(2) Complete representation of own ideas.

The arts such as music, painting, dancing and dramatics should be classed under the above head.

Miss Hebler also showed the girls a group of paintings and read some poetry.

After her talk a short business meeting was held, at which a business report was given of the pop corn sale, that was held last week during the basketball games. The sale proved to be a success.

The Kappa Pi girls are contemplating a party in the near future.

SCHOOL PLAY CAST SELECTED

Miss Frances Frater has announced that the following students from the training school will take part in the all-school play, "Quality Street," which will be presented to the public the first week in March.

Arthur, Paul Leffingwell; Isabelle, Jane Straw; Georgie, Chris Severson; Miss Beveridge, Frankie Berkie; another boy, Bart Camarata; Bill Smith, Clifford Perry.

These parts had not been chosen last week when the cast for the play was announced, so for that reason they are being given now.

NICHOLSON'S CAGERS TRIM BELLINGHAM TO LEAD LEAGUE AGAIN

The Wildcats annexed another tri-normal basket-ball championship last Tuesday and Wednesday when they defeated Bellingham in two games, the first by the score of 31 to 21 and the second by the score of 33 to 21.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT PROSPECTS ARE VERY GOOD

The following data have been compiled by the Appointment Bureau and will be of interest to those who plan to teach.

Probably not over ten per cent of the graduates of the class of 1928-29 (327 in all) were unable to secure positions.

Attention is called to the fact that a very large part of those not teaching had their preparation in the intermediate and upper grades. Of this group, over four times as many prepared for junior high school teaching as for primary, and three times as many for intermediate grades as for primary. The largest number unplaced of those who made preparation for junior high school teaching is partly accounted for by the fact that all the men make their preparation for this field of work and a large number of young women.

The situation seems to warrant the advice that more of our young women prepare for primary teaching. If this is done, the chances for placement become more nearly equal to all. The Appointment Office reports that several calls come for primary teachers, to which the reply was made, "No primary teachers available at this time."

The distribution of the graduates according to the type of position held indicates that about 38 per cent of the graduates of the class of this year will go into rural, one-room or two-room schools.

The salaries paid indicate that a graduate without experience can expect to receive in Washington about $110 for 9 months. The range is from $85 to $155 per month.

Graduates from advanced courses receive an average $10 more per month than graduates of the two-year course.

NEW THEORY OF LIFE

Leavenworth, Kans.—(IP)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former explorer and now serving a sentence in Leavenworth federal penitentiary for an adventure in the field of high finance, has, in the prison magazine of which he is editor, propounded a new theory of life, which he calls "the feeling perception." According to the former explorer, all sense in the human being is that of feeling.

Tuesday's game was a repetition of the first Bellingham game played in Ellensburg this season, the play was slow, Ellensburg was off form and showed the strain of their tour and of the fast game the previous night with the Supersarsity. The Viking, however, showed great improvement over their play here at the first of the season and the closeness of score indicates that the northerners were playing better ball and fighting harder than in their previous showing.

Bellingham got away to an early lead and it was only in the last few minutes of the first half that Ellensburg was able to forge ahead—then only by a narrow margin of one point. During the first half, many fouls were called. The game was quite rough and both teams were fighting to win.

As the second half opened the Wildcats began to find the hoop a little more regularly and from then on outscored the fighting Vikings, the final score was 31 to 21 for Coach Nicholson's cagers.

The second game played Wednesday was a faster game than that of the previous night. Bellingham was again out there fighting to win and contested the lead with Ellensburg for the entire game the score being 33 to 21 for Ellensburg.

Both the games were played on the (Continued on page three)

A Business Meeting Was Held And Interesting Reports Given

B. A. Leonard, chemistry instructor, entertained the Science club at a tea on Wednesday evening, February 5, in the Unit Dining Hall of Kamola.

After the tea Myron Lehne reported on iron, one of the most important metals that we have. There is a great abundance of iron on the earth. Aluminum is the only other metal which exceeds this amount, but this is not as practical. Iron varies in hardness, wire being among the softest used.

Although copper was the first metal used by man, iron was used in pre-

A Fashion Chat With Miss Clause of the Fine Arts Department

High Style as Seen in the Paris Opening

The last three days of January marked the Parisian calendar with reviews of the foremost fashions of the minute.

The jacket suits and the nipped-in waste lines were featured Thursday. Lingerie blouses and neckwear were good.

On Friday the Parisian courtiers emphasized the new prominence of the blouse. Suits and pajamas were also shown prominently.

Saturday was given over to creations from Delong. Pleats, dotted woollens and silks were cited. Polka dots are sure to have a future this spring, Miss Clause thinks.

The one important thing now is fabric. They no longer cling to their type. Silks and woollens are interchangeable.

Heavy dull crepes and satin are the heaviest yet most supple materials. Plain chiffon in tripled weight and new opalescent depth is used for afternoon blouses.

Taffetas and moires, as well, have deserted fashion in Paris. The Crepe-hele is heavy crepe veiling for afternoon and evening wear.

Some fellows have already had a tough enough break with the face issued them, without having it spread all over their pate.

AND THAT GOOD OLD STANDBY, DANTRUFF, IS NOTHING LESS THAN PULVERIZED HALLITOSIS.

We almost think it's Lon Chaney impersonating Rin-Tin-Tin.

THE ONLY THING THAT GIVES THEM AWAY, IS THAT THEY CAN'T KICK THEMSELVES BEHIND THE EAR LIKE RIN-TIN-TIN.

OF COURSE THAT SCIENTIST NO DOUBT WAS REFERRING TO THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

What an awful mess it would be if everybody should start thinking a hundred times more than they do now!

THE DUSTPAN DINTY AND DEYO

More dirt and gobs of it.

Bernard Anderson was standing on the side lines at the dance last Friday when another boy walked up to him and noticing some hairs on his shoulders, picked them off, asking whose they were.

Bernard: Oh, those are my dog's hairs.

Other boy: Huh, who is she?

Jackson: I say! How long did it take you to learn to drive? Sutter: Only four cars.

Mr. Quigley was giving the class a lecture on gravity.

"It is the law of gravity that keeps us on this earth."

"But please, Mr. Quigley," inquired Pat Rowland, "what kept us on before the law was passed?"

Mildred Blessing; "I wonder why it is a girl can't catch a ball like a man?"

M. Flani: "Oh, a man is so much bigger and easier to catch."

Now that long skirts are coming in style we wonder if Scotty McDonald will lengthen his kilts.

P. Burlingame: "This cold weather chills me to the bone."

L. Cook: "You should get a heavier hat."

Dot Connell seemed quite worried Saturday night when Goody insisted on going into the anti room during the game with Linfield. What was the attraction out there? She was sitting on the sidelines.

D. Axtelle: "Oh, I wish the Lord had made me a man."

R. Myers: "He did. I'm the man."

Miss Wilmarth: "Why must be always be careful to keep our homes clean and neat?"

R. Boyle: "Because company may walk in at any minute."

McKay: "Why are you mailing all those empty envelopes?"

Pete Wick: "I'm cutting classes in a correspondence school."

Mr. Sparks: "This is the third time you've looked at Spiller's paper."

Dixie: "Yes, sir—he doesn't write very plainly."

Eugene Lee: "You are a great man." R. Stovall: "I know it."

That popular song, "If I Had a Talking Picture of You," that we hear so much about was probably written by a single man.

Gladys Stewart: "Is this a Swiss cheese sandwich?"

G. Ward: "Yes, what is wrong?"

G. S.: "Where's the cheese?"

G. W.: "Oh, we're only serving the holes today."

C. Lederle: "Want to go on a sleighing party?"

J. Krekow: "Sure, who are you going to slay?"

Dale Yerrington: "I once loved a girl that made a fool out of me."

Elsie Hedlund: "What a lasting impression some girls make."

Dorothy: "They tell me you love music."

Exley: "Yes, but never mind; keep on playing."

Huntley: "Pop, does the Lord own a Single Six, too?"

Mr. McPhee: "Great Scott, no, son. Whatever put that into your head?"

Huntley: "Well, at Sunday school, we had a hymn that went, 'if I love Him, when I die, He will take me home on high.'"

Miss McMorrin: "Nell, what are the two genders?"

Nell: "Masculine and feminine. The masculine are divided into temperate and intemperate, and the feminine into frigid and torrid."

Miss Frater: "What's the difference between a drama and a melodrama?"

Mattie Theis: "Well, in a drama the heroine merely throws the villain over. In a melodrama she throws him over the cliff."

They say "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" but McKay does not seem to.

Oh well, there is always exceptions to the rule.

The dirt is swept for the week.

Hello Everybody!

A Philadelphia skin specialist says that after you're once bald, you stay bald.

He hasn't seen some of the fellows we know.

Sut and Jerry started out to see a movie in Seattle last Sunday, by the way Sut tells it, Jerry led him through every alley and street in Seattle before getting there. Remember the old maxim: "When the farmer comes to town—lookout!"

And the local boys made good. They sure did in the eyes of their parents in Bothel Monday night. The whole bunch played a fast game of ball. After the game in Bothel, all the boys and their parents were invited to a party at Kerm's place. The food was wonderful and the eating was terrific. McPhee and Elliot led the boys to the tape.

What is a team going to do? If you lose consistently then your backers fail you. If you win consistently the same thing happens. If that attitude doesn't change soon basketball games will be played by mechanical instruments instead of by a group of ten young men, out there fighting every minute.

The whole town of Anacortes turned out "en masse" at Bellingham to watch their native son go to work. He played in tough luck the first part of the game but soon found his stride. Park is a pretty smart ball player—even his Dad will admit.

And Art Isaacson was up to the game. He was sure a sight for sore eyes, yeh, he was after our signals again. He told Kerm to hurry and send his cords over to him because he had a job and needed them to work in. It seems that Kerm can never catch the cords without Vally being in them. That probably means that Art won't work in those cords. It's a shame, too, 'cause those ambitious streaks hit Art so seldom.

Bob Bailey was among the missing whenever we neared Bothel. He has a girl friend teaching school there and these re-acquaintances are to be looked forward to, aren't they, Bob? Why now he even shows the first symptoms of love and that's quite unusual for him because he seems so timid at school.

Doug looked like he had been mistaken for a young steer and was being taken care of at a slaughter house Monday night. He was blood from head to foot. It all came from the opposition, though. The opposing center probably got his fingers in Doug's mouth and you know what that animal instinct is when fresh meat is at hand.

WHO'S WHO

MARGARET S. JOHNSON

Who is the blue-eyed blond that is seen strolling over the campus on various occasions with an infatuated man at her side? Why of course, it is that famous vamp from Enumclaw, Margaret "Swede" Johnson. Margy's chief ambition is to be a teacher—well, we'll admit she could teach most of us a few things. She has a very apt pupil at present. It is rumored that she may have a bill at the business office next month for davenport rental. Oh yes, and speaking of davenports, those in the east room are looking rather worn.

Seriously though, Margy is a dandy sport and has just as many admirers among the girls as among the men. She is as responsible as can be found when it comes to committees. And at a party, well, she is just the life of them; for further information ask Mrs. Davis. If there is a good time to be had, Marg is in on it.

While in high school she was prominent in music and dramatics. At present she is majoring in music. She is also athletically inclined. Some of the things which she especially enjoys are basketball, tennis, skiing, roller skating—and long walks.

1929-30 BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

LINFIELD BOWS TO ELLENBURG IN FAST GAME

Exhibiting a defense that allowed only two field goals during the entire game and those coming only in the last five minutes of play, the local basketballers trounced Linfield College's speedy team in the last home game of the season by the score of 42 to 10.

Coach Nicholson's men got away to a fast start and kept up the pace throughout the entire game. Eight points were made in the first few minutes of play, Morrison sinking two field goals from the tip-off play which was followed by two more, one by Gagnon and the other by Bailey. The score at the end of the half was 18 to 5 for Ellensburg. The cagers from Oregon were unable to get into scoring position and had to be content with the 5 points—all coming from free throws.

The game as a whole was very fast. Linfield had a nice passing attack but could not seem to carry it past the first line of the Ellensburg defense, and when they did were hurried in their shots. The Normal showed better defense in this game than in any other seen in the gym this season.

Sutphin, Gagnon and Morrison were the high scorers for the evening having 13, 10 and 9 points respectively. A feature of the game was Sutphin's shooting from the sides of the court.

The score: Ellensburg, 42—Rodgers, Bailey 5, Haney 3, Gagnon 10, Morrison 9, and Sutphin 13, McPhee, Holstine, Ayling, Mills, Erickson 2.

Linfield College 10 — Wakeman, Cook 5, Darby 1, Warren 1, Hostetter and Hollingshead 2.

WHO'S WHO

DOUGLAS HANEY

Have you heard the story about the fellow who just about broke his legs on the end of the steel bunk when someone turned the sheets half under? Well, that is just what happened to Doug Haney, the six foot four inch representative from Enumclaw.

While attending Enumclaw high school it was claimed that he made more letters in sports than the Northern Pacific has box-cars. Being a versatile athlete he was a four year letterman in baseball and basketball, and a three year letterman in football. He was sent out of school in 1928 (because of lack of leg room) with the honor of all-county end in football and all-county center in basketball.

Due to the scarcity of good men at the University of Montana he enrolled there in the fall of 1928, making his number in football.

Hearing of the enlargement of the W. S. N. S. classrooms with better sleeping facilities, he enrolled here in the fall quarter to become one of our most valuable basketball centers. He ranks among the leaders in the scoring list and at present is making the five game road trip to the coast. Contradicting the theory that "the bigger they are, the harder they fall," no one yet has discovered Doug wearing out the davenport in either Sue or Kamola. The fair sex cast their eyes upon him admiringly but the illustrious giant remains aloft.

Say "hello" to Doug, but keep your head up.

Personal experience is the basis of all real literature.—G. Henry Lewes.

SPILLERS FIGHTS FAST SIX ROUNDS

Biff Spillers fought a fast six round draw in Wenatchee last Monday evening with Johnny Rennels of Omak. The fight was a thriller all the way thru, with both boys giving and taking everything that could possibly be known to fighters. "Biff" started off in a crouching position, while his opponent who had the reach on "Biff" fought in a wide rangy style, leading with a fast left which bothered Spillers tremendously. From the second round on, "Biff" changed his style to that fast and shifty way with which we are all familiar, planting stiff lefts and rights to Rennel's face and body. Several knockdowns occurred in the final rounds, with each battler receiving his share of the punishment, and both taking it gamely.

This bout was said by many to be the finest, cleanest, nerviest and best all round fight they had ever witnessed in any ring. Rennel's manager stated that in all his 167 fights in the ring and in his unnumberable acts of seconding he had never seen two boys put on such an exhibition of fighting and gameness, and this included most of the largest fights held on the Pacific Coast during the past ten years. Needless to say, in his next fight, Spillers will be billed as the main event.

AIR GENIUS CONVENES

Seattle, Feb. 14—(AP)—Robert L. Gault, famous air genius, arrived here today after an extended visit to central Washington where he has made an extensive survey of the hot-air fields. All freights running behind schedule, on account of unprecedented snow in the Pass, the idol of the Fiji Islands kept the reception committee waiting three hours before they captured him. He will remain in the city for a brief rest during which he will visit his old haunts on the Skidroad. Later he will convene with a group of local bankers to finance another expedition into the hot-air fields.

PREP STAR APPROACHED

Snoose Junction, Feb. 14—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports have reached the offices of the Daily Herring, local paper, that Roy L. Sandberg, star backward on the local high school basketball quintet has been approached by officials from Mollers Barber College who wish to obtain his services as janitor. The Sandberg youth has won considerable distinction as a combiantion tumbler and basketball player. Playing basketball between tumbles, or at such times as when he is not having floor inspection.

FLIGHT COMPLETED

Bellingham, Feb. 13—(AP)—Completing a record breaking non-stop flight from the Sandberg airport, Arthur (Whataman) Isaacson, premier flight master of Whatcom county landed here last week end. Captain Whataman Isaacson had been taking an important part in the big sports page investigation at the Sandberg airport, and in tuning up for his impending flight.

GUNMEN ESCAPE BEATING

Chicago, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Running amuck amongst a gang of Chicago gunmen here this afternoon, Albert Valdeson threatened to tear them to ribbons before the police arrived to protect the cornered gunmen from the vicious attacks of the blond tornado from the Northwest woods, where he is known as the Terror of the Northwest.

LIFE IS CALLED BEST TEACHER

Most Significant Things Not Learned From Books, Says Address

Education is not merely a matter of book learning. In fact, it is doubtful whether the most significant things are learned from books," asserts J. Mace Address, discussing mental health in the home in the February Journal of the National Education Association. "One learns by the responses which he makes to the world around him. We do not learn self control primarily by reading about it and committing to memory many facts about the nature of self control and its value, but by practicing self control. Similarly we learn honesty by being honest and courage by being courageous.

"More and more," says Mr. Address "we tend to realize that education is a matter of behavior. Our best schools are accepting this educational psychology but even those that do must realize that the school is in control of children not more than five or six hours a day. Less than 15 per cent of the child's entire year is in the school room."

Stresses Home Influence
Mr. Address believes the school can make no great progress in furthering the mental health of the child without the hearty support of the home, since so much of the child's time is spent in responding to influences outside the school.

The writer deplors the wellnigh universal failure of teachers today to know the homes of their pupils. He points out that the kindergarten was the first division of the school to realize the value of home cooperation. One reason for this was the theory of Froebel, founder of the kindergarten, that there could be and ought to be a school without books.

In the kindergarten the children continue their play life under the guidance of trained teachers who seek to correlate home experience with that of the school. Mr. Address recalls that in Boston all kindergarten teachers are expected to visit the homes of their pupils as part of their work.

He urges the continuance of this home and school relationship into the higher grades of the school, and encourages parent-teacher cooperation in associations and through exchange of visits on the parent and the teacher. The visiting teacher Mr. Address sees as a partial solution of the problem of bringing home and school closer together in educational purposes.

Washington—(IP)—A historic motion picture depicting the life of George Washington is being prepared under the direction of the Washington Society of Alexandria, Va.

The picture will begin with the arrival of the boy Washington at Mt. Vernon, the home of his brother, Lawrence, and will portray him in successive scenes during the fifty years he participated in the life of Alexandria.

NOTHING CERTAIN AS YET

Baltimore—(IP)—Present experiments have as yet realized nothing which can be said to be of any aid to cancer victims, according to Dr. Joseph Cult Bloodgood, professor of clinical surgery at John Hopkins University medical school.

lish was excused from her work in order to be my guide and so there have been all sorts of courtesies all the way. In the Hague the other day, one of the office secretaries was assigned to be my guide and we taxied about and even lunched as their guest. Finally the courteous guide even showed me the art gallery. Yesterday in Brussels Mlle. Mamaide, the head of Dr. Decroy's school invited me to lunch. So one could go on enumerating the many, many courtesies. I must say I am glad to have made these trips by myself rather than as one of a large group. The contacts have been so pleasant.

"The great art treasures of Europe have been a source of deep joy to me. I have gone again and again to the great art galleries in the cities and have enjoyed the beauty of architecture of the churches and other fine buildings. This morning in Brussels I made a return visit to the square on which the Gothic town hall, many fine guild halls and other architecturally lovely buildings are. So I am always taking "another look" and am always loathe to leave the fine things of each place. I must say I am greatly tempted for a while to stay on in Europe until next fall, but of course six months of travel here has been fine, too, and the stay in New York will be interesting. I see by my watch that we will be in Dover in an hour. I'll go on to London tonight. Kindest greetings to Mrs. Black and the faculty members I know."

Miss Meisner will be back in Ellensburg to resume her work next year.

historic times also. People then used charcoal to reduce the iron from the ore.

In 1735 reduction by means of coke and coal came into use. Later came the use of the blast furnace. In this process the slag floats on top of the iron. The ore is then taken out; the slag is then used in cement-making and also for some cheaper grades of glass. The gas is then utilized as power. It has been found that for every ton of iron refined there have been five tons of air burned.

out the ages were described by Mr. Leonard.

The making and tempering of steel were well described. One of the most important of these is known as the Bessemer process. It is more rapid and not as expensive as some of that heated to a certain color to obtain the desired degree of hardness.

If a small amount of copper is added, the iron is rendered more resistant to corrosion.

The many things about us that are made of iron are good indications of its great importance and value.

RADIO INSTALLED IN KAMOLA HALL

The "Radiola" now installed in Kamola is a result of the last meeting held in the hall. It is one of the several to be tried out before the purchase is made. A final decision will be made and announced later.

The girls decided to raise their house dues to one dollar and a quarter in order to have the starting of a regular fund. In this way one can be purchased the first of the quarter. A radio will mean much to the hall, although it may be controlled through regular music hours.

The girls were introduced to Miss Grace McArthur, the new dean of women, by Miss Muriel G. McFarland. She expressed her happiness to be with them. Miss McFarland gave an interesting talk about her future work as associate professor of home economics at the University of Idaho.

VALENTINE PARTY GIVEN FEBRUARY 7

Misses Claudine Dudek and Margaret Mabbot were hostesses at a charming valentine party given at Quigley's last Friday night. The valentine motif was carried out in effective decorations.

Clever valentine games and stunts were arranged for the guests. The valentine motif was further carried out in refreshments which were pineapple, ice cream, cookies, candy hearts and home made candy.

Those girls who attended the party were Faye Conaway, Alice Johnson, Lillian Mattson, Gladys Levin, Louise Hedrick, Helen Robbins, Kate Zauer, Vera Wilson, Mabel Wittaker, Esther Frase, Helen Vail, and Faye Olds.

STAFF ENJOYS THEATRE PARTY

The Ellensburg Theatre was the scene of a newswriting theatre party last Wednesday evening and "Sunny Side Up" was the feature. Those members who are on the present Campus Crier staff were eligible to attend. The party afterwards were treated at the N. Y. Cafe. It is planned to have some social affair every month for the staff members, according to Dorothy D. Pearce, instructor in journalism.

Members who attended the theatre party were Houston Allen, Goodwin Morrison, Helen McLain, Lauretta Cook, Denzel Parsons, Roswell Harding, Marguerite Wilkie, Dorothy Connell and Eugene Lee.

DEAN MCFARLAND LEAVES W. S. N. S.

Miss Muriel G. McFarland, former dean of women, left last Friday, February 7, to take up her new position at the University of Idaho. Miss McFarland will be associate professor of home economics at the University. During the school year she will have charge of the seniors in their student teaching in this major field. Part of her work will be in visiting the Smith-Hughes schools in the state. During the summer months, her headquarters will be at Boise, Idaho.

While here on the campus Miss McFarland was instructor in home economics and supervised teaching.

CLUB TO GIVE PROGRAM SOON

The Herodoteans, at their meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 11, completed their arrangements for their annual program at the Cove school. Mrs. Davis, principal of the Cove school, was present and helped them select the date for February 28. The club in working up this program are following out their custom of the last few years of giving a program in conjunction with the school children of the Cove school for the community.

The Herodoteans recently held an initiation at the home of Herbert C. Fish, history instructor. After the business meeting the old members were entertained at the expense of the initiates, who proved themselves worthy of membership in the club. Those initiated were Dorothy Axtelle, Mary Wasisco, Irene James, Willis McCoy and Robert Boyle.

A. S. B. SPONSORS COLLEGE PARTY

The all college, Valentine Card party will be sponsored by the associated student body, Friday evening, February 14, in the social rooms of Kamola hall.

Any student who does not know how to play bridge and would like to learn is urged to come. There will be tables for the beginners with proficient instructors to guide them thru their ever-occurring difficulties.

Committees in charge of the card party, as have been selected by Margaret Wegner, social commissioner of the A. S. B., are: Hostess and host, Orlikka Ganty, chairman; Ruth Edwards, Gladys Stewart, Maxine Prince, Clifford Samuelson and Myrtle Hunt.

The property and clean-up are: Hannah Weber, chairman; Beatrice Storey, Waneta Lentz, Emma Newman, Azalea Van Buskirk and Dorothy Connell.

JUNIOR HI NOTES

A very interesting and varied evening is being planned by the Dramatic club of the Junior High School under the direction and supervision of Ivan McCollom. Two one-act plays entitled "Nevertheless" and "The Dyspeptic Ogre," are to be presented. Mr. McCollom is assisted in these productions by Reva Presson and Mabel Skinner.

The orchestra and glee club will offer special music for the occasion. The glee club is now busily at work on a group of sailor songs.

The time for the entertainment has not been definitely decided but will take place some time in March.

The Dramatics club is working on two other plays "Square Pegs" and "All On a Summer's Night," which will be given in the near future at a Junior High assembly.

A very charming Valentine Party was held in the old gymnasium of the Administration building Saturday, February 14. The party was given under the direction of Mrs. Waldorf, assisted by several Normal school girls.

The Junior high school basketball team lost a very fast interesting game to Kittitas last Friday evening. The final score was 8-7. The team will play at Roslyn Friday, February 14.
