Dec. 3, 1967

Dear Carol and all:

We were shocked and saddened by the news of Ernest. We had been talking of both of you only a few days ago – remembering your visit with us while Bill's children were here. And how glad you both were to be with children again and how they responded to you. You have had many good years together, have done much for each other so now your loss is great. I know that you have others around to help you and you will have many wonderful thoughts of him as time goes by. You will be on our minds a great deal in the future and perhaps the thots will help me write to you more often.

Bless you my dear.

We are glad Blanche could come and stay awhile and that Vera and Lawrence are near bu. Nut the most help I'm sure is to have Joyce and Vernon and their families there to give you the moral support you will be needing.

We are sending a check to add to any memorial fund that may have started for Ernest. Use it as you see best.

We have spent a week with our two boys and their families over Thanksgiving – a very warm and joyous time together. We will not see them for Christmas – but probably be at home here.

As the holiday season and its pressure approach we try to do what we can and let the rest go. It should not be a rush season really and we are trying to copy Edna and Harold and their philosophy in our activities. This year I especially need to take it easy.

We are thinking of you and will try to write again soon. Our love to Joyce and Vera and theirs – and a great deal of love to you.

Carolyn and Boynton
