Japanese authority speaks On Far East problems

EXPERIENCE with undeclared wars, revolutions, military uprisings, murders, intimidation by hand gre nades, poisonings and sword slashing. mixed with earthquakes, tidal waves, typhoons and cholera epidemics have been part of the colorful life of a foreign correspondent, James R. Young, who will tell of his 13 years in Japan when he speaks at the college auditorium at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, January 13.

Known as Jimmy Young throughout the Orient, where he operated a news service bureau, managed an American newspaper, sold color comies and worked on a Japanese newspaper, the world heard much of his last year when he was imprisoned by Japanese police for 61 days in solitary.

Young commented, on arriving in New York, that he prefers to observe Japan's action in this country "where you can get habeas corpus and a bail bond!"

ARMY INDUCTION RULES DRAFTED

Credit rules and fee Rebates established

MEN STUDENTS leaving school for the armed forces will be granted special considerations in regard to credit given for work completed and fees rebated. The Board of Deans has issued the following regulations. 1. All young men who are subject to call should find out from the draft board the probable time when the call for induction into the armed forces will come. If the probabilities are that the call will come before six weeks of the quarter have passed, then it is better not to enroll. If the likelihood is that the call will be deferred at least until the middle of the quarter, then the person is advised to register.

Credit Given

2. If a young man has decided to enroll upon the information secured from the draft board and is called either prior to the middle of the quarter or after the middle of the quarter, but prior to the close of the quarter, then the college authorities will endeavor to secure deferment either to the middle of the quarter or to the

H. J. WHITNEY RETIRES AS COLLEGE DEAN

Muzzall, Barto assume Deanship duties.

The duties of H. J. Whitney, dean of instruction and registrar of CWC, will be divided and the position of dean will be discontinued upon Dean Whitney's retirement from those positions in June.

Dean Whitney is retiring at his own request, from administrative duties at the end of the spring quarter. He will remain as professor of mathematics.

With the abolition of the office of dean of instruction, the other responsibilities of this office will be assumed by an executive committee headed by President R. E. McConnell and including Muzzall, Barto, Dr. E. E. Samuelson, director of student personnel, and Kenneth Courson, business manager.

Commenting upon Professor Whitney's retirement from administrative duties President McConnell said, "Mr. Whitney has been a very successful administrator and a valuable and loyal colleague. I shall miss him in administrative circles, but I am happy that he has consented to remain as a teacher. He will continue to serve on important faculty standing comof Washington colleges who will attend.

Student officers of 13 Washington colleges and universities in addition to CWC have been invited. Each school has been asked to send five representatives: student prexy, social commissioner, AWS prexy, newspaper editor, and one member-at-large.

COUNCIL GROUP STUDIES CONSTITUTION CHANGES

THE AS COMMITTEE for drafting CWC's revised Constitution met during the last week of the Autumn Quarter to discuss two suggested revisions submitted by the faculty.

The first proposition, asking for more student participation in planning the social program for the year, was offered as a result of the confusion and criticism surrounding the PLC-CWC game in Yakima and conflicting dates for dances and other social events.

The second proposal recommended a provision which would limit the number and nature of offices a student may hold during one year. It was suggested that a point system be installed.

Dating Bureau Project · Under Serious Study By Officials

by Staff Neophyte

FEAR THAT the official requisition system now in effect in the College Business Office will be instituted in boy-girl relations on the campus was expressed early this week by the "Men CWC female constituency. were scarce enough last quarter, but with Japan calling all eligible males, we must take some sort of drastic measures to get a date," laments one Acme of Feminity.

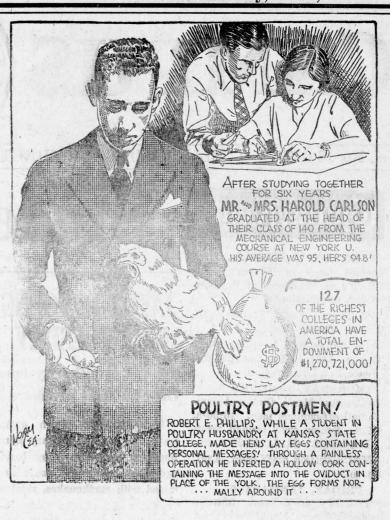

Philosophers, commentators, prophets, yogis and recruiting stations are being consulted at this time, in an attempt to plot out the amatory curve for the next quarters of the school year. From these figures, then, will be determined the mechanics, extent, and regulations of the requisition plan.

Date Bureau Plan

Far-seeing observers forecast a completely modern dating bureau, managed by the Off Campus Women. Standards may include (1) all requests must be filed two weeks prior to time date is planned; (2) non-tolo dates will be frowned upon; (3) requisitions must be signed by housemothers and nightwatchmen; (4) masculine protests will not be accepted. If I were the male element, I would demand a blanket deferrment on the grounds of institutional degeneracy: the college going to the dogs, as the case may be.

THE CAMPUS CRIER

In The Side Pocket...

by "Sauce" Feroglia

THIS IS PROBABLY the shortest-lived column of 1942. Uncle Sam has cracked his finger at this writer and consequently this will be his first and last effort of the new year for the good old CRIER.

GEMS OF ADVICE FROM A DRAFTEE: To Phil Sarboe and the football Squad: Forget the setbacks of '41 and look forward to a more successful campaign next season. Your style of play can win in this league, Phil, and I'll bet my tin hat that you're rubbing elbows with the leaders next year.

To "Nick" and the Basketeers: Your biggest threat should be Cheney, but keep your eyes open for St. Martins, who may be the big surprise this year. Russ Wiseman may make the fans forget all about Don Sorenson, the great center of last year. Wiseman is big and aggressive enough to give his opponents some torrid evenings. L. G. Carmody should crack the All-Conference this year if he cotinues the pace he set the latter part of last season. Seems to me that we have the league's best passer in Jack Hubbard, and the former Everett star may very well be the most important cog in the Wildcat drive for the pennant.

To the Students: Take the wraps off those cheering voices and shake the roof this winter. Frankly,, your efforts at the football games were disappointing. You have good cheer leaders, Mr. Dennis has a great band, and you have a swell bunch of guys to yell for, so let's hear you go "all-out" for noise. In the process show some consideration for the opposing team and the officials. Don't let our basketball season be the "birth of the boos."

Ellensburg fans will be looking at one of the best bascketball players in this league or any league when John Katica of St. Martins trots onto the college floor next Friday. The "Slippery Slav" is a tough opponent to check, and whoever draws the assignment this weekend will have to be in high gear every second. If he is still as good as he showed last year, Katica can write his own ticket as far as All-Conference berths are concerned.

CUSHION SHOTS

Reports from Washington State say the Cougars have a sharpshooting team but lack of height may edge them out of the championship picture. . . . Oregon State takes the nod from this corner to capture the Northern title if they don't trip on the Huskies. . . . Don Harney is the most improved player on the Wildcat squad. . . . "Poot" Williams, former CWC basketball star, is on his way to Texas for further training in the Naval Air Corps. . . . The Wildcats' captain of last year, Mickey Rogers, is at Sand Point, also training for the Naval Air Corps. . . . I'm sorry that I have to leave before I tried to fulfill my promise to that large group of men who were interested in starting baseball here on the campus. . . . Don't give up the battle yet-lay your plans before the student council. . . . Betcha that Tommy Bridges caps the Conference 440 this year; our golf and tennis teams retain their titles; the Japs don't answer the bell for the sixth round; the Wildcats take two from St. Martins.

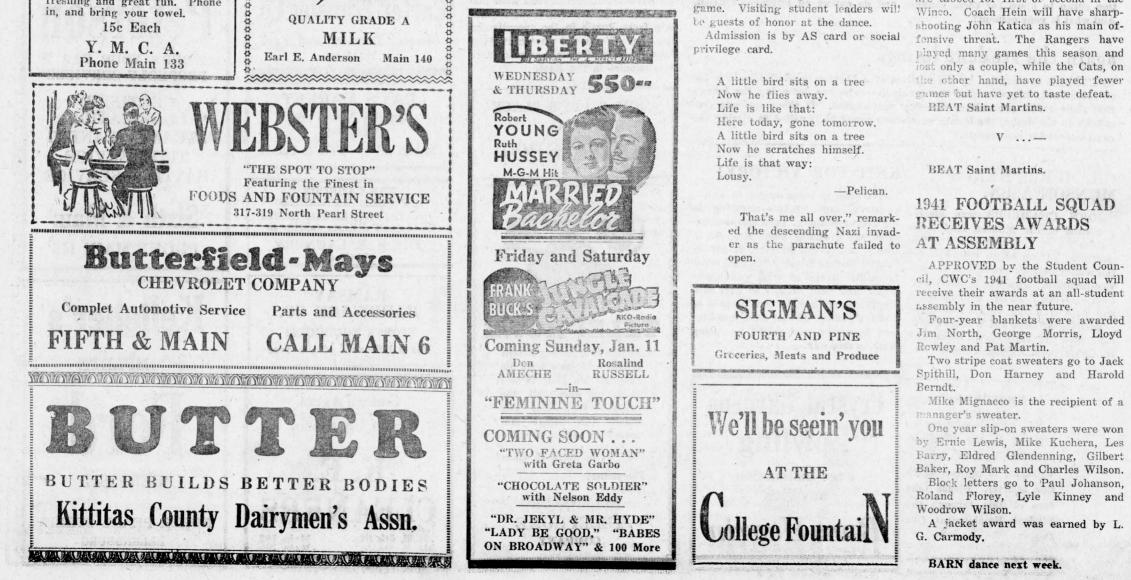

NICK AND PHIL. Mr. Leo Nicholson and Phil Sarboe-CWC's basketball coaching staff.

Just Between Us CWC Tackles Saint Martins In Weekend Ball Game

DARK HORSE of the intramural basketball league is likely to be the Off-Campus Locals. Although low on talent this outfit will be able to put a team on the floor averaging well over 6 feet. Cal Bradbury, Hank Occhsner and Kerwin Thompson are well over the 6 foot mark and Beck Hubbell and Chuck Wilson also tower near 72 inches.

A SCHEDULE has not been drawn up yet because it is probable that many men will not be back this quarter and some teams may be more af fected than others. As soon as a survey can be made as to the relative

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED for the names of those journalists who will write for the CAMPUS CRIER this quarter. The first staff meeting, at which this space will be filled is Thursday, Jan. 8, at 4 p. m. in A401, editorial rooms. All interested students, in addition to present staff members, are asked to attend.

to the student leaders

ATTENDING the student problems confer at CWC this week end we say welcome. There is every reason why this meeting, first of its kind in the state, should be but the forerunner of a permanent organization to further Washington intercollegiate relations, a neglected phase of our present college life. May you find both value and pleasure in the conclave.

the faculty is at fault

FOR CHEATING among the students. Students will cheat if given a chance. The faculty should see that such opportunities do not occur. Standardized tests should not be used quarter after quarter. Research papers should not be allowed to roam at will among the students. Testing rooms should be more closely supervised. The problem arising from student janitorial help should be studied.

campus gossip returns

TO THE CRIER this week. Last year a similar feature was discontinued because good taste was overlooked and the personalities angle carried too far. At the last CRIER staff meeting, over the silent opposition of the editor, it was decided to renew such a column because of public demand. We are curious to know what your opinion is on the issue-Does the reader interest value outweight the semi-slanderous element?

quality and not quantity

MUST BE our aim henceforth. The CAMPUS CRIER will be a five-column paper until our finances cease to be such a problem. This means that we of the staff must condense news and brighten up our features to maintain coverage and reader interest. With next issue we also adopt a new publication date, Wednesday instead of Thursday. We do this to give a better coverage to Wednesday and Thursday events. We are revising our publication setup to allow for these changes and do expect an improved CRIER. And what is your opinion?

again the student lounge

IS CALLED to attention by the medium of a "Letter to the Ed." It is for us students to impress upon the unruly few who are damaging the lounge that their antics are neither amusing nor wanted. If these students (socalled) do not desist, the lounge committee would be justified in closing the room except for club events.

PULSE Of Our Times by Ray Whitfield

OUR WAR with Japan came with such suddenness that it left us little time to consider exactly what the consequences of the squabble might be. The punching we absorbed at Pearl Harbor has wrought up public emotion to a pitch where intelligent reasoning has been befogged. Yet the consequenes of defeating the Japanese in the Far East may lead to no happy conclusion.

Already we have failed to learn from the history of the beginning of the Russo-Japanese war that we should be on guard against surprise attack. Now let us learn one from the conclusion of the same war:

President Theodore Roosevelt by "shaking the big stick" called a halt to the war just at a time when the tide of battle was swinging to the Russians. He deemed Japan a more desirable eastern neighbor than Russia.

Provided Russia comes into this war, she will be in a position to make demands upon Japan for part of the territory Japan has taken from China. This game Japan played successfully against Germany at Versailles. Even if Russia does not enter our war with Japan, there is no reason to believe that she has suddenly become so virtuous that she will filch no more Chinese soil.

With our ex-protege gone wrong, Japan, loses her power in the East-and when Japan loses this war she loses all-Russia will be a greater threat to our interests than Japan. Russia has vast supplies of raw materials; Japan has few. Russia has greater man power than Japan. Russia has made light of Chinese territorial integrity. Russia dreams of WORLD revolution. Most important: Russia has the only army ever to stop the full fury of the Nazi juggernaut. Despite the surprise at Hawaii and regardless of the fate of the Philippines, Japan remains unproved as a first rate military power. Japan is now a less potent neighbor than Russia. What would Russia be if she were victorious in Europe?

With all his bluster Teddy Roosevelt demonstrated that his vision was far-sighted in 1905. Let us hope that the administration will read their history books before they accept much help from Russia in the execution of this war. We do not want hatred for Japan to make Russia a supercharged expansionist in the East.
