Campus Crier

Central Washington College

VOLUME 28—NUMBER 3

ELLENSBURG, WASH.

FRIDAY, OCT. 29, 1954

Issue Dedicated To Honor Class Members

This issue of the Campus Crier is dedicated to all the alumni of Central, especially to the honor classes of '29 and '44—to those class members who graduated 25 and 10 years ago, we offer a special welcome.

ROYALTY WELCOMES ALUMS as Queen Marie Fugate greets J. R. (Pete) Peterson, representative of the class of '29 and L. G. Carmody, class of '44 representative. Assisting with the greetings are homecoming princesses Leona Panerio and Patti Cole. This year's Homecoming festivities honor the classes of '29 and '44, graduates of 25 years ago and 10 years ago, respectively.

1954 Homecoming Features Stunts, Bonfire, Banquet, Dances, Parade, Reunions

Her royal Highness, Homecoming Queen Marie Fugate has two more days to reign over her subjects, the students and alumni of Central. The activities of today and tomorrow, the 29 and 30, will conclude the four day celebration.

Today a flagball contest will be held at 3:30 between the freshman and sophomore class. (Flagball is a modification of football.)

Journalism Minor Added at Central

Dr. J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction, has announced the addition of a journalism minor in the curriculum at Central. This minor in journalism may be obtained in the education degree or education program and the Arts and Science degree or the Arts and Sciences program.

The required courses for a journalism minor in the education program will be as follows: English 60, journalism; English 61, practical journalism; English 65, news-writing; English 67, editing; English 68, advanced reporting and feature writing; and English 131, high school publications. This will constitute a 15 credit minor.

In the Arts and Sciences program the required courses will be the same as the Education degree except for the omission of English 131. The electives for the 15 to 30 credit minor will be as follows: English 50, 52, 103, 131; Political Science 40 or 52; Industrial Arts 73, and Secretarial Science 55.

"The addition of this journalism minor should mean a great deal to the college students who wish to teach this course in high school or work on a local newspaper. Having a minor in journalism in their college program will be a strong recommendation when the graduate seeks such employment," stated Dr. Crum.

Patti Cole Names Walnut Grove Hall

"It was the first one we looked at," Landon Estep commented in reference to the new name, Walnut Grove, chosen for the pre-fab dance hall.

Patti Cole was the originator of the name and won two cartons of Chesterfield cigarettes. Five students judged the two wastebaskets full of discarded entries.

Cast Shows Variety Of Experience

Cast members of the fall quarter play, "On Borrowed Time," come to the Central stage with a variety of acting experience. The play will be presented in the college auditorium on November 22 and 23.

Ben Castleberry, Ellensburg, senior, plays the role of Gramps, who is thought to be crazy because he believes he has Death up a tree. Castleberry has appeared in the Central productions "Leader of the People," "The Mad Women at Challot," "Help Yourself," and "Glass Menagerie." Trina Hoisington, Selah, freshman, plays Marcy, the girl who "helps out."

Jeraldine Poland, Ellensburg, freshman is cast as Gramp's wife, Miss Nellie. She has appeared in an Ellensburg high play. Jan Donaldson, Yakima, senior is the designing Aunt Demetria, the constant foe of Gramps. Appearing in last winter's "The Importance of Being Earnest," she has also been in Yakima Valley Junior College and St. Joseph Academy plays.

Roger Asselstine, Sunnyside, sophomore, portrays the insane asylum director, Grimes, who comes to get Gramps. He was also in "The Importance of Being Earnest." Pat Short, Coulee Dam, sophomore, plays Dr. Evans, the family doctor. He has high school acting experience.

John Connot, Ellensburg, junior, is Mr. Brink, the agent of Death. He was a cast member of "The Importance of Being Earnest," and also appeared in a Central one-act play. Dave Ellingson, Tacoma, freshman, and Dave Patrick, Kittitas, sophomore, are workmen. They both have high school experience. Gary Ervine, Yakima, junior, plays the sheriff and has drama experience at Yakima Valley Junior College.

Lynn Randall, ten-year-old daughter of the Reino Randalls, plays Pud, the grandson of Gramps and Miss Nellie. Even Lynn is a girl of experience, having appeared in the Central play, "The Leader of the People."

First Student Recital Planned for Tuesday

The year's first student recital will be Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the CES auditorium, the music department has announced.

Next week's program will feature upper-class music students, while a recital will be held Tuesday, Nov. 9 for an all-freshman concert.

Freshmen Select Class Officers

This year's officers of the Freshman class are: President, Roger Salisbury; vice-president, Dale Mitchell; secretary, Donna Wallace; treasurer, Maxine Barrenshire; and social commissioners, Mary Pennington and Buss Filleau.

The freshman class met on Tuesday, October 11, to elect the above officers. Salisbury, appointed by the SGA, acted as chairman of the meeting.

Arlene Stokes, last year's freshman class secretary, Dennis Martinen, sophomore advisor for the freshman class, and Nancy Rickert aided in the first meeting of the year. Bob Dalton, co-chairman of Homecoming, gave the class an idea of what they were supposed to know about the Homecoming activities.

Also present at the meeting were Dr. M. T. Stinson, Dean of Men, Mrs. Annette Hitchcock, Dean of Women, and Mr. Robinson, last year's freshman advisor, who spoke a few words to the class.

The class is now working on a skit and a float for the Homecoming festivities.

'Desert Fox' Planned For Movie Tomorrow

"The Desert Fox," Saturday night's ten cent S.G.A. movie will be given in the College Auditorium at 7 p.m. The doors will be closed at 7:30.

The movie is a biography of General Rommel, one of the best known figures of World War II, who is played by James Mason. Other principals in the cast are Cedric Hardwicke and Jessica Tandy.

Sophs Choose Jim Webster

Jim Webster was recently chosen president by the sophomore class. He is taking over the duties of Dean Rau, outgoing president.

Other officers elected are as follows: Harley Brumbaugh, vice-president; Dorothy Barich, secretary; Jerry Ward, treasurer; Kathy Spurgeon and Nick Vandersta, social commissioners.

A sign for Homecoming was discussed along with the Cupids Informal and the annual sophomore tolo.

A committee was selected to represent the class in the controversy of standardizing commencement announcements and the group also discussed some projects to raise money.

LISTS WANTED

All organizations are asked to turn in a complete list of club officers to the office of the Dean of Women as soon as possible.

Dr. Lind Spends Summer in Illinois, Helps With Research Work for AEC

"I experienced a very inspiring summer because of opportunity of meeting and working with outstanding scientists from all parts of the country," said Dr. Edmund L. Lind, head of the Science and Math division, when asked about the research work he did this summer at the Argonne National Laboratory of Atomic Energy Commission at Lemont, Illinois.

At the laboratory Dr. Lind engaged in extensive study concerning various radioactive isotopes. One problem was separation of radio-active isotopes resulting from atomic fission. Other problems were in the field of Thermodynamics and also the use of radio-active tracer techniques.

The Argonne Laboratory has a number of departments, including Medico-Biological, Botanical, Chemical, Physical and Engineering. Dr. Lind was connected with the Medical-Biological group, and while at the laboratory was able to visit the other departments. He was particularly interested in agricultural research being done there. One project included "hot" (radioactive) rubber plants. By feeding radio active chemicals to various crops, a great deal was being learned about how plants use fertilizers to promote growth.

Dr. Lind also had the opportunity of visiting an atomic "pile" of a type somewhat similar to that which produced plutonium for one of the World War II atomic bombs. He conducted one experiment which he proposes to use in modified form in future classes in physical chemistry in order to acquaint students with tracer techniques which will become more and more important in future chemical technology.

Dr. Lind remarked that during his research in Lemont, which is situated near Chicago, the weather was very hot, and the temperature in June and during the Labor day week-end set record highs. He added that his summer activities consisted of a few days of pleasure, as well as the many weeks of work. On the way home he stopped off in British Columbia where his family met him for a few days of fishing.

Welcome, Grads! We Mean It

Welcome Grads! Two simple words said over and over again each year until they become almost a cliché and lose their meaning. You see this phrase from signs and displays, hear it sung at stunt night, read it in publications and hear it in addresses. But do you realize what the undergraduates mean when they welcome you back to campus?

They are saying, "thank you." Thank you for what you have done for their college. Thank you for improving the student government, bringing fame to its athletic department, living in your communities as good advertisements for Central Washington, keeping a high standard of service in your professions which makes Central graduates sought after for jobs. They thank you for the prestige, reputation and improvements you have given their college.

And they include a big "Hi" to you personally. We like you! We like to have you come back and tell us how the big world has been treating you and how our mutual friends are doing. You are our friends, some of you we have gone to school with, many of you we have heard of either from your school or professional record, and we are genuinely interested in you and your activities. We like to hear you talk about the old days and what Central was like when you were playing football, and on SGA council and working in the Chow halls.

They add that you are the nicest part of Homecoming. We all enjoy the activities and functions that come with Homecoming but it is you that we wait all year to see and hear and get to know. We say that we will do our best to show you a good time and make your stay here an enjoyable one. Its nice to have you back on the campus which is a part of you and of which you are a part.

Welcome Grads! We mean it.

I have noticed everyone is talking about it, asking what they could do to help and if there are any committees that they can serve on. The organized groups are making plans for stunt night and signs and a float and lots of work is going into these activities. If the same efforts are shown during this weekend then the alums can rest assured that they will have a wonderful homecoming.

I want to thank everyone for helping to make this a successful Homecoming and one that will be remembered by all the graduates... and the students too. The general co-chairmen, Nancy Stevens and Bob Dalton are doing a great job and the committees they selected are also doing fine work.

The rest is up to the students—to give the alums a big welcome. Let's show them we haven't forgotten them.

Ray's Daze

By STEBNER

Attention Girls: As the days grow colder one of these mornings a strange sight will greet you as you step on to the campus—about four hundred reasonable facsimiles of bears. Don't worry! These aren't bears nor are they the fifth regiment of the Russian Cossacks. They will just be the ROTC boys in their winter overcoats. CAUTION: These coats are large enough for two.

Attitude Poll?

Sophomore: "How did I get here?"

Junior: "Why did I come here?"

Senior: "How do I get out of here?"

I would like to issue a public statement at this time. Any similarity between the picture in my column and a living person is purely accidental, coincidental and is enough to cause mothers to take their children in off the street. If any of you think that picture is bad, you should have to look at it in the mirror every morning like I do.

Ray Stebner

Poem?

To all his friends he was a real square shnook.

Until one day he showed them the cover.

It was Marilyn Monroe—OH, BROTHER!!

Complaint?

I have yet to figure out why people go away to college and still they want to go home on the weekends. In past years people have complained that there isn't anything to do on the weekends, but they won't stick around so anything can be planned. What say we help CWCE get rid of the name "Suitcase College" this year. Remember that the prime requisite to any social function is people.

Cool?

Say fellows, you had better start getting some dates in mind. The first big formal of the year sponsored by the IK's will be rolling around in a couple of weeks. From what I hear they intend on having a band something like they had last year. I think most of you took in the dance last year will agree the band for that dance was real cool, crazy gone. (They played good too.)

Guamanian Makes Long Trip to Attend Central

It's a long school ride from the island of Guam to the mainland of the United States. And it isn't every person who, for the sake of education, is willing to take a jaunt of 6,179 air miles placing an ocean between him and his family. But 20-year-old Segundo Unpinco had done just that when he hung his Freshman beanie in North Hall this fall.

The price of college is coming high for Segundo. It means that the majority of four years of married life will be spent away from his pretty Guamanian wife, Remedios, and their month-old son. Already it has meant a flight by commercial airline via Hawaii, San Francisco and Portland.

Although geographic America is new to Segundo, the American people are not. Following the liberation of Guam by U.S. Armed Forces, the island schools were reopened bringing in American educators. One of these instructors is Bill Gleason, a former Centralite who recently received his Master's Degree in Education.

Segundo was a student in George Washington High School, Tumon, Guam, largest high school, when he met Gleason who was instructing a music course. Gleason turned out to be a one-man public relations committee for Central. It was his influence that started Segundo on his long flight.

If the world looked large to Segundo as he crossed the Pacific thinking about this place called Ellensburg where his former music teacher was guiding him, it narrowed down considerably when he walked into his first political science class. Sitting six seats from him was a person named Stan Gray—Gleason's brother-in-law.

Coming to the United States to go to school seems quite natural to Segundo. It has become almost a tradition for Gaumanian students. He speaks proudly of the fact that of the 200 graduates in his 1954 high school class, nearly one half are now enrolled in American colleges and universities.

Segundo plans to complete his first year of work at Central majoring in political science. His primary interest, however, is police science so he expects to transfer to San Jose State College next fall. His summers will be spent

Whitbeck-Shaw Club Climbs, Hikes, Eats

A field trip to the valley of the Teanaway River was taken by several members of the Whitbeck-Shaw Club last Saturday. Some climbing and hiking was done which served as an appetizer for their awaiting picnic lunch.

The officers of the club are: Bob Keikell, president; Bob Harper, vice president; Larry Steele, secretary-treasurer. Advisors are Dr. Funderburg and Dr. Kaatz.

Whitbeck-Shaw welcomes everyone interested in Geography—especially majors and minors. The next meeting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge of the CUB. Chuck Booth will present slides and a talk on Alaska.

Tom Knutson, art major at CWCE, designed drapes of grey, charreuse, coral, and brown, which were hung this week in the card room in the Student Union Building.

Knutson is a graduate student who was recently accepted into the National Serigraphic Society.

Istomin Concert Set for Thursday

First of this season's Community Concert series will be presented next week when pianist Eugene Istomin, a young American artist, will perform Nov. 4 at 8:15 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Istomin, 28-year-old native New Yorker, has won critical acclaim throughout the United States and Europe. He was the recipient of the Philadelphia Youth Contest, granting him an appearance with the Philadelphia Symphony in 1943.

EUGENE ISTOMIN

In 1943 Istomin won another award, the Leventritt award, which entitled him to a New York debut with the Philharmonic Symphony under Arthur Rodzinski. In 1950 Istomin made his first European tour, being selected to appear at the Bach Festival at Prades, the youngest artist to be chosen.

Channing Club Schedules Foreign Films for CWCE

For the first time in many years, foreign-made films which have been international prize winners are returning to the college campus, offered as a public service by the Channing Club, College group for Unitarian fellowship, and to be presented on a subscription basis one Sunday evening a month for the next six months.

Among the coming year's attractions, beginning the last Sunday in November, are an Alec Guinness or comparable British comedy, the French classic "Grand Illusion"; "Torment," from Sweden; Italy's "Open City"; "The Affair Blum", from Germany, and the Japanese production, "Rashomon." In the event that the Japanese film is unavailable, a second French drama or comedy will be shown.

Central students and their friends will have an opportunity to see some of the finest films that have been made in the past decade, all of which have received international film festival awards at Cannes, Paris, Venice, and Brussels. Those familiar with these imported productions are aware that although the sound may be in French, Italian, German, Swedish, or Japanese, the English captions for each speech are printed directly on the bottom of the film, making it easy to follow.

"In many cases, the dramatic forces are so well displayed that translations are often disregarded."

Colleen Moore, president of the Channing Club, stated during an interview this week. Miss Moore said further that a good student response to the ticket drive this quarter will insure an even longer and better program next year.

Traveling Exhibit Here This Month

Central is offering the people and students of this area an opportunity to visit the traveling exhibit of panels from Columbia University, New York, celebrating their bi-centennial anniversary.

There are twenty six panels, 40 by 40 inches, illustrating the theme "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof."

These panels depict the history of knowledge traced through many centuries, emphasizing five vital aspects of man's effort to know: the inclusiveness of man, the values of knowledge, man's right to knowledge, man's right to the free use of knowledge, and the responsibilities of knowledge.

These art panels will be on display in the administration building and the Library from Oct. 15 through the 28. Guided tours will be provided to interested groups between 3 and 5 p.m. daily. Arrangements for group visits may be made by calling 2-3431. Individuals are welcome any time the buildings are open.

Student groups assisting with the guide service include Kappa Pi, Kappa Delta Pi, Meisner chapter of ACEI, Sigma Mu, FTA, Herodoteans, and Whitbeck-Shaw Club.

Ellensburg is one of six cities in Washington having an opportunity to this exhibit and everyone is encouraged to take advantage of it.

Editor Begins Story of Trip

By LILA MALET

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles concerning Miss Malet's recent trip to Washington, D.C. where she attended an Associated Collegiate Press National Conference.

Washington D. C. I don't know how many times I said those words over and over again to myself. Since summer quarter when I first learned that I was going to be allowed to attend the Associated Collegiate Press National Conference in Washington, D.C. Oct. 21-22 my excitement had been mounting.

I had never been further east than Spokane and of all the places in the East that I wanted to see, Washington D. C. ranked first. Then, too, the prospect of the conference itself was exciting. To meet and exchange ideas with college editors from all over the United States as well as hearing the journalists that were slated to address us was a splendid opportunity for me to learn things that might help the CRIER and therefore the college.

Loaded with going-away presents—a cake of soap, a Willie Mays Comic book, self-addressed post cards, apples, potato chips and a beautiful chrysanthemum corsage (given me by the Sue gals) I boarded a West Coast plane for Spokane where I transferred to the plane that was to be my home for the next 15 hours.

Up and down, land and take-off as we stopped at Billings, Great Falls, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh and finally Washington, D. C. All places I had heard of but never seen. Coming into Washington over the muddy Potomac with the Washington monument jutting into the sky made me gasp with pleasure and awe. Finally all the pictures and posters I had seen were coming true.

Arriving in Washington after 23 hours of flying, (due to the 4-hour time difference) I went straight to conference headquarters, The Hotel Statler, and registered for my room. I had the least expensive room in the hotel and it still had a TV set and hi-fi radio and various other luxuries that reminded me of good old Sue Lombard.

Welcome, Honor Classes!

'29 Graduates Held Posture Day, Drove Model A's, Won Games

BY DOROTHY BARICH

Well, grads of '29, how does the college look to you now?

Twenty-five years ago, when two hundred and eight of you were graduated from the Washington State Normal School, many of the buildings were non-existent. The gymnasium was just being completed. The steam plant was also finished, and you were debating the possibilities of having a new administration building.

During that last year of the twenties, you held a "Good Posture Day," and numerous dances, both formal and informal. That year, the sophomore girls won the hockey championship.

You produced hit plays, and you went to see Charles "Buddy Rogers in Red Lips, plus Greta Garbo in "The Mysterious Lady," ((A Knock Out Mystery Drama!). You were attracted by the New Ford Model A, "IT'S brilliant performance enhanced by the following accessories . . . two bumpers, speedometer, windshield wiper, . . ."

And your achievements in athletics amounted to three tri-normal championships: basketball, football, and baseball. You witnessed the Wildcats winning the basketball game from the Vikings, 22-19, before a howling mob of more than a thousand in the Fairhaven Gym in Bellingham.

You read Pete Wick's column in the CAMPUS CRIER and laughed at his allusions. . . "in my heart there was a song of mad joy like an old maid's first visit to Craig's Hill."

You were graduated Saturday, May 28, with the commencement exercises held out of doors between Eighth Street and Wilson Creek. And the "Burying of the Hatchet" between you and the lower classmen was a highlight of the activities.

You did all these things and many more. For who can recall the experiences better than you.

We can only welcome you back, and say that we are proud and happy to have you here.

Activities on Campus Dominated by Women Students in 1944

BY SYLVIA STEVENS

Girls in Munson, girls as club presidents, and girls in sports earmarked Central during the school year 1943-44. With the boys scattered all over the world in the Armed Forces due to World War II, the female population at Sweezy took over the leadership of student affairs.

The war did not completely strip the campus of boys, however, for Uncle Sam used the college as a base for training air cadets on a 5½ day week basis.

No football, no basketball, and, in fact, no sports for the class of '44. To overcome this lack, the girls developed a system of intramurals. The talk was of "what a swell forward Marilyn is" took over in place of "Gee, John made 17 points in last Friday's game."

Homecoming, 1944 style, presents a great contrast to this year's celebration. There was no traditional bonfire, no frosh-soph competition, no parade. The program consisted of a simple dinner, reception, and dance.

One of the memories of the class of '44 is the morning they ate breakfast by candlelight. A power failure meant having the first meal of the day Liberace style for the 700 students who ate in Sue Lombard.

"I think that the girls around here is what's wrong with the boys . . ." Dr. E. E. Samuelson answered in a 1944 CRIER poll when he was asked what his opinion was on the Central fellows.

One of the highlights of the year was the all-faculty play "Spring Again." Kenneth Courson, college business manager, and Wayne Hertz, of the music department, had prominent parts.

"I'll Get By" and "Sometime I'll Meet You Again" were the records played most in the student lounge.

The postoffice was kept busy sending out and receiving mail, for the Sweezy girls took it upon themselves to keep in touch with all the boys who had gone to school here.

All social activities were geared to the girls, but they still spent time with the cadets on weekends.

Even though the class of '44 worked under a great many handicaps, it emerged in the spring with memories that it would never forget.

Miss Hebler Receives Safety Project Award

Representing the Friday Club, a women's organization of Ellensburg, Amanda Hebler, principal of the College Elementary School, went to Chicago Friday, October 15, to attend the National Safety Congress.

At this convention, Miss Hebler received the Carol Lane Award for traffic safety projects carried on in Ellensburg during the last three years. The Carol Lane Award is made possible by a grant from the Shell Oil Company, and is a symbol of outstanding achievement and honor.

Miss Hebler arrived home by plane, on October 21.

Mass Choirs To Present Messiah

A three hundred voice, massed choir, including members of the choirs of the college, Ellensburg high school, and Ellensburg churches, will present the Christmas portion of George Fredrick Handel's Messiah on December 5 at the Morgan gym.

The group will be directed by Central's Wayne Hertz and Ellensburg high school's Ed Camealy. Soloists, not yet selected, will be chosen from the personnel of the high school and college choirs.

The Messiah, written in twenty-four days in the year 1741, is the musical setting of the story of the life of Christ, from the prophecy of Isaiah to after His resurrection. In its entirety, the Messiah is composed of 53 separate pieces, and every word is taken directly from scripture.

An oratorio, a musical classification into which Handel's immortal work falls, is a dramatization by chorus, soloists, and orchestra, without benefit of costumes or scenery. Musical literature is graced by a number of oratorios, but Handel's Messiah remains the best-known.

Alumni Reception To Follow Game Saturday

The Alumni Association of CWCE will sponsor a coffee hour and reception from 4-5 p.m. following the Homecoming football game Saturday, Oct. 30 in the faculty lounge of the CUB.

Honored will be the classes of '29 and '44. Faculty members are invited to attend.

Board Chooses Nominees, Allots $600 for Grant

The annual meeting of the board of the CWCE Alumni association was held on campus October 16 to discuss the annual alumni scholarship fund, and the selection of candidates for the offices of president and vice-president for the organization.

The board voted to appropriate $600 for the scholarship fund. The three year-old fund has amounted to $500 for the past two years and has risen to $600 and $700 by the contributions of individual alumni.

The fund is administered by the college scholarship committee to deserving students already enrolled and who would not be able to continue without financial aid.

Nominated for the office of president was George Brain, class of '46, superintendent of schools in Bellevue. Gene Craig, '47, is the board's candidate for vice-president. He is principal of the Henry Ford Elementary School in Renton.

Election of officers will be held at the annual noon luncheon meeting during Homecoming.

President Robert McConnell met with the board to discuss the budget any requests which will go before the state legislature.

Ed Rogel, executive secretary of the association presented his annual report concerning the association's activities for the previous year.

Also discussed were several constitutional amendments concerning: election of board members; recommendation of the election of a second vice-president; provision for the filling of vacancies on the board of directors; recommendation of the lowering of the life membership fees.

Wildcats - Savages Clash Tomorrow

Central Out for Revenge; EWC Won 33-9, Last Year

EVERGREEN CONFERENCE

Pacific Lutheran	3	0	51	7
Puget Sound	3	1	70	33
Eastern	1	2	13	49

CENTRAL	0	3	13	41
British Columbia	0	3	12	53

By BILL LACEY

Coach L. G. Carmody reaches into his bag of running "T" tricks tomorrow afternoon at the Cow Palace with the hope of producing, for the weekend Homecoming crowd, the scalp of the Eastern Washington Savage.

If Carmody's magic comes through, he will have coached his aggregation of luckless Wildcats to their first win of the 1954 season with a possibility of climbing out of the Evergreen conference cellar. The local's 6-0 loss to CPS last week made them co-occupants with UBC on the bottom rung of the circuit ladder.

But the Savages from Cheney are ready for this Saturday's powwow. As Carmody phrases it, "they are out to ruin the Homecoming."

Carmody wasn't all smiles in making that statement for his scouting of the EWC-PLC game of a week ago revealed plenty of power in the Savage attack. The Easterners came out on the short end of a 25-0 count, but gave the observers plenty to think about. It will take a handful of tricks, coupled with considerable stamina, to handle the Savages.

Coach Ed Chissus brings to Ellensburg a capable squad loaded with backfield talent. Keith Mortensen, sophomore fullback, has been a standout this season. His 73 yard romp with an intercepted pass set the stage for the Savage win over UBC. Mortensen, pressed closely by halfback John Ditz, is Eastern's leading ground man. Filling out the rest of the backfield are Myron Rasmussen and George Foster.

The Eastern forward wall outweighs the Wildcats on an average of eight pounds per man. Right Guard "Tiny" Graves, who tips the scales at 340, leads in the beef department. Willard Julum, 200 pound all-conference tackle, is considered one of the outstanding players in the Evergreen circuit. Gene Siegel, Ron Sperber and Harley Allen, who have maintained permanent positions in the Savage line, average slightly over 200 pounds.

In the Carmody camp the injury list is not lacking names. The training table this week has seen the ailing knees of tackle John Startzel and ends, Jim Hansen, Wilbur Lucas and Don Iverson. However, these injuries aren't new. Provided no practice mishaps occur, the Wildcats will go into Saturday's game with the same lineup as used on two previous week-ends.

The conference scoreboard shows three losses and no wins for Central. Cheney will be working for its second victory of the year tomorrow, after taking it on the chin from both Whitworth and PLC.

The 1954 scores, for comparative purposes add up like this:

PLC—25	PLC—20
EWC—0	CWC—7
Whitworth—27	Whitworth—15
EWC—0	CWC—6

Statistic-wise Central takes the edge.

But football isn't all statistics—especially on Homecoming Week-end.

Cat Hoopsters Begin Turnouts

Practically obscured by the thunder of King Football, practice sessions for the coming basketball season have quietly gotten under way.

With work still going on in the college gym, turnouts are being held at night in the Morgan Junior High gymnasium. The candidates have been divided into two groups and are turning out in two shifts.

Coach Leo Nicholson has nine returning lettermen plus other members of last year's Junior-varsity squad and several transfers turning out in the "A" group.

The lettermen and their home towns are: Bill Baber, Yakima; Bob Dunn, Kirkland; Jim Hanson, Vancouver; Don Heacox, Auburn; Bob Logue, Renton; Don Lyall, Richland; Bob Maynick, Cle Elum; Clem McCallum, Montesano; and Don Myer from Wapato. McCallum returns to the maples after several years in the service, he lettered here in 1951.

Wood, Jim Nelson and Freddy Hauff.

Lyall, Hanson and Lanegan are members of the football team and won't join the team until the end of the football season.

Dancoisne and Onwang are transfers from the University of Washington and won't be eligible until February. Kiehn, who transferred from Washington State, is also ineligible until February.

"This year's squad should have good depth but will be short on height, so will have to rely on speed, good ball handling, and accurate shooting to go any place this year," was Nicholson's brief comment on the team's potentialities.

Florin Baldriga from Richland will be the manager of this year's team.

Accidents kill 12,000 U.S. children a year and injure more than 30,000, the National Safety Council estimates.

Writer says "civilization is staggering onward and upward." There is no doubt about the gait, but the rest must be taken on faith.

Homecoming Programs Sold by Letterwinners

Programs for the Homecoming football game are again being sold by the "W" Club. Tickets for the programs went on sale Wednesday of this week.

Included in the programs are pictures of the Homecoming Queen and her court; the Central starting lineup; the coaching staffs of both Central and Eastern; individual pictures of some of Central's football players; and statements from Central's President, Dr. McConnell, and Sweezy's coaches, L. G. Carmody and Del Peterson.

The price of the program is twenty-five cents each. The tickets are to be presented at the gate of the rodeo grounds and you will receive a program.

New Globe Purchased For Library Room

Purchased during the first week of school this year, a new 24-inch physical-political globe now stands in the reference room of the library. It is placed on a 47-inch wood stand.

"The globe will be useful to geography students," states Miss Margaret Mount, CWCE head librarian, "as well as to others interested in geographical locations."

MY POINT OF VIEW

Bill Leth

Sports

Editor

Tomorrow's Homecoming game at the local Cow Palace will be the Wildcats last chance to show the local fans that they do have a football team this season. Carmody's boys have run up an unimpressive record of five straight losses so far this season and they have only three more games in which to beat last year's record of two wins and six defeats.

Western, UBC Next

After the Eastern game the Cats will travel to Bellingham and Vancouver on successive weekends to play the Western Washington Vikings and the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds. Central has a good chance to beat these two teams and if they down the Savages tomorrow their stock should go up again.

In last year's Homecoming game the CPS Loggers came from behind to edge the Cats 20-19 in the last few seconds of the game. Tomorrow's game should prove to be as close with Central holding a slight edge if both teams play ball like they should. Two years ago the Cats were edged, (when the home team is beaten it is polite to say edged even though they are thoroughly whipped), 45-9 by the PLC Lutes in the classic on Grad's Day.

Sports in 1928-29

Back in the fall of 1928 the Washington State Normal School at Ellensburg, now commonly called Central Washington College, Sweezy or just plain Central, was a football powerhouse. Led by "Tex" Robinson they ran up a string of seven straight wins after losing their opening game to CPS 23-14. Some of their impressive scores that year were—WSNS 46 and USS Tennessee team 6; WSNS 38 and WSC Frosh 7; WSNS 52 and Spokane University 0; WSNS 12 and University of Idaho 0.

During the school year of 1943-44, Central was run by women as most of the men were away in the army. Betty "Butch" Higley was sports editor of the CRIER that year and she had a column called KOEDS IN KEDS. Most of her news was about girl's sports. Central did have a basketball team and a track team but they didn't play very many games. The all-star basketball team was made up of service men stationed at Sweezy.

Women's Sports

By LYNNE FAIRMAN AND DONNA DUNN

At 6:30 a.m., if any of you early-birds happen to be strolling by the practice field behind the men's gym, you will see 13 "up and at 'em" gals playing field hockey.

In shin guards and the other equipment common to girl's field hockey, you would see them polishing up on their game, for the Field Hockey Play Day which is to be held at Oregon State College, on November 5, 6 and 7.

Under the leadership of Miss Lee Zion, physical education instructor, the hockey enthusiasts are Beverly Crumpacker, Anne Coulston, Montie Wallis, Beverly Farmer, Olive Wilbur, Areta Dewalt, Heler Argus, Jackie Heines, Carol Dailey, Carol Garringer, Sally Shaw, Darlene Brown and Janet Homer.

A swimming party was given by the WRA for its new members on October 21 at the local YMCA pool. The gym and the lounge were open to the WRA members and their guests and refreshments were served following the swim.

Volleyball turnouts will begin as soon as the men's gym is open for athletics again. If the gym does not open in sufficient time, the turnouts will be held in the spring.

Dates to remember, sports fans ..... November 5 and 6, Washington State Recreation Society meets in Seattle for the fall Conference. November 4, 6 and 7, the Field Hockey Sports Day at Oregon State College. November 17, 18 and 19, the Washington State Convention at WSC for Health, Physical Education and Recreation students.

From other colleges—Modern dance classes are now asking the help of English, history and chemistry departments for their programs. Last year, Meridian Junior College put on a dance entitled "Forces in the Life of Elizabeth B. Browning."

Off Campus Flagball Team Shows Power

In the opening game of the MIA flagball football season Oct. 21, a speedy Off Campus team downed North Hall II, 18 to 6. Ray Adams, Off Campus' triple threat halfback scored one touchdown and passed for two more to pace the winners. Off Campus' smashing victory labled them as the team to beat in the National League.

The first game of the season in the American League saw Carmody Hall take a 6 to 0 forfeit win from Alford, Alford failing to field a team.

Monday, Oct. 25, Munson II defeated North Hall III 12 to 6 in

Florida Athlete In CWC Lineup

Denny Anderson, tall lanky junior end from Lakeland, Florida has proved to be one of the most outstanding ballplayers ever produced on the Central gridiron.

An exceptional and unique privilege has been awarded Denny. He is one of the few football aspirants to make the varsity squad in his frosh, sophomore, and junior year consecutively.

During the recent PLC tussle at the cow palace this versatile footballer proved his worth. Time and again the Gladiator fullback rambled around right end, but to no avail. Even the local bird-watchers on Craig's Hill could hear the sharp crack of Denny's tackles.

As far as the offensive game is concerned, Denny is no dimwit either. Consistently playing good ball, Anderson has snagged almost unbelievable catches. It is rumored that the opposing teams of the Evergreen Congerence nicknamed him "Old sticky fingers." He has the uncanny record of catching 10 out of 11 passes this season. Denny got his jaw broken in the first tilt of the season, but has played every game except Lewis and Clark.

This 190 lb., 6 foot 3 inch gent is a commercial art and drafting major. His lifetime dream is to be a commercial draftsman.

a hard fought battle at College Field. Ron Keller and the Mitchell twins, Don and Dale led the way for the Munsonites. Don Mitchell passing for both Munson scores. At Rodeo Field North Hall I breezed past Munson I, 18 to 0. Jerry Jones was the shining light as he figured in all three of North's touchdowns, passing for two TD's and by catching a pass for the other. North's easy victory could put the finger on them as the favorite for the American League Crown.

The Central Washington Wildcats turned in their best football performance of the season last Saturday even though they were beaten, in a 6 to 0 thriller, by the tough CPS Loggers.

Central turned their defense into high gear and stopped the highly touted Loggers on several occasions including two stands on the 1-yard line. The Puget Sounders were inside the Central 15 yard line four times before finally pushing across a scoring effort in the third.

The Loggers earned their touch-down late in the third period when Rich Dodds, hard running fullback, grabbed a 25 yard toss from quarterback Don Egge on the Central one yard line. The Cats held for two down but Dodds finally plunged over the remaining yard into the end zone.

After the CPS score Central launched a drive which carried them to the Logger 28 yard line but the drive was halted by an intercepted pass. The Central passing game was clicking on this drive with Bill Harriman, junior quarterback, doing the throwing. Dick Trombley, freshman fullback, and Bob Spearman, junior halfback, each received a Harriman pass for long gainers on this drive.

The contest for the most part a defensive affair with each team compiling little net yardage gain. Central netted only 132 yards during the contest with the Loggers taking a little more ground with 219 yard total gain. The coast team had an edge of 14 to 8 in the first down department.

Work Progressing On Store, Dorm

"Work on the bookstore, and new dormitory is progressing nicely," stated foreman of construction, Mel Weimer.

Weimer and his crew have been pouring cement along the front and rear of the building this week.

Work is also being done on the steel roof. Next in line is construction of the window frames, and completion of the wiring.

Weimer stated that the $367,000 buildings, which were started in August, will be finished on schedule. The bookstore should be ready by the first of December, and the dormitory by March.

Class Representatives Discuss Announcements

To standardize or not to standardize, that is the question being investigated by a committee composed of two representatives from each class.

The committee investigating a standard graduation announcement to be used by all classes graduating from Central now and in future years according to Mary Ann Wojahn, secretary of the committee.

The committee asks that students watch for the voting date when they will be able to choose between several sample graduation announcements selected by the committee.
