VOLUME 29, NUMBER 1

ELLENSBURG, WASH. FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1955

Enrollment Set at 1,450

With enrollment substantially higher than last fall, Registrar Perry Mitchell estimates registration at "over 1450 students."

"We are pleased with the enrollment figures which show a steady growth in the student body at Central," Mitchell commented. Last fall 1366 students enrolled.

Approximately 565 students new to Central's campus are included in the "over 1450" estimate. Freshman number 457 and upper class transfer students another 108 to make over one-third of the student body new to this campus.

Again this year, Central's campus is a woman's world with the ratio at about one and one-half men to each Central coed. The dean of women's office estimates about 582 women while the dean of men lists about 875 men on campus this fall.

Veterans again flocked to the campus with the ex-servicemen totaling about one-sixth of the enrollment. The dean of men's office lists approximately 260 vets enrolled for this term.

"All enrollment figures at this time are unofficial with the official tally to be released at a later date," Mitchell explained. Registration ended Friday.

Channing Club Sponsors Film Festival Again

With the showing of "Specter of the Rose" this Sunday in the College Auditorium at 8:30, Channing Club opens its second annual Foreign film festival.

As an experiment Channing Club presented six foreign films for the first time in many years. They met with great success and this year the project has been enlarged to ten award winning films.

All the films will be shown on Sunday night at eight-thirty. Films to be included this year are: "Specter of the Rose," a melodrama concerning the ballet; "The Damned," a French picture concerning a German U-boat; "Angelo," an Italian film with a delicate racial theme; "Eternal Return," a French adaptation of the well known Tristram and Isolde; "Distant Journey," a Czech film telling the story of a Jewish family in a German concentration camp.

Others include "Lysistrata," a Greek comedy; "Ophelus," a French adaptation of the famous legend; "Symphony Pastorale," a moving French drama about a blind woman; "Winslow Boy," the movie version of the well known play by Rattigan; and "The Red Man," a mystery farce.

"I hope all students will take advantage of the service brought to them by Channing Club," Dan Appleman, club advisor encouraged. "Since sales are limited to five hundred, tickets should be obtained as soon as possible.

"Tickets may be obtained from club members or at the door for only two dollars.

Board Asks Students About Television in CUB

Whether or not a television set will be purchased for the CUB was placed in the laps of the students by the Union Board this week.

This decision was made by the board members after they received a petition signed by 350 students asking for a TV set for the CUB.

"What we want now is to hear from more students," Janet Lowe, board member, said today. "We want the opinions, pro and con, of a wide range of students. We feel that additional petitions should be circulated."

The necessary cable connection has been installed in the CUB so that all that is needed is purchase of a table model television set.

The Board will await further expressions of opinion from the students before any action is taken. Dean Stinson is Board chairman.

Group Selects Don Mitchell

Don Mitchell was elected president of the dining hall committee at the first meeting of the year held Monday in Mrs. Hitchcock's apartment.

Carla Libby was chosen secretary, and advisors for the year will be Mrs. Hitchcock and Mrs. Janet Marsh, director of dormitories.

Seating charts have been made, and the seating plan will begin Monday. Discussion was held on ticket checking, music for Wednesday night dinners, and conduct in lines.

Additional representatives include: Joan Pierce, Verna Osborne, Kamola; Shirley Willoughby, Sue; Georgia Kibbler, Munson; Mike Lacey, North; Dale Mitchell, Wilson; Jim Rusnak, Kennedy; Duncan Manning, Carmody; Gary Irvine, Alford; Dean Puryear, Munro; and Bob Olson, Montgomery.

Mel Beauchamp was elected class president at the first senior class meeting which was held on Thursday, October 6.

Others elected include: Bonnie Maitlen, vice-president; Sandra Taylor, secretary; Phyllis Monasmith, treasurer; Patti Clark and Walt Wilson, social chairmen.

Survey to Poll New Students

Now is the time when freshmen and transfer students will be urged to speak their minds. A survey which will attempt to sample opinions of freshmen will be conducted soon in dorms and among off campus students. Opinions on orientation week are being sought.

Mrs. Mary Ann Wining, graduate assistant in the personnel division, will be co-ordinator under the direction of Dr. E. E. Samuelson, personnel director.

"Besides information which would be valuable in itself, the college is interested in making contacts with new students and finding how they are getting along," Dr. Samuelson explained.

Comedy Chosen For Fall Play

The drama department will present its fall play, "Time Out For Ginger," a three-act comedy by Rod Alexander, directed by Norman Howell in the Little Theatre the first or second week in December.

The play, which calls for five men and five women, was a Broadway hit two years ago and toured the Northwest last year. The popular play has also been done extensively by many little theater groups.

Tryouts were held this Tuesday and Wednesday but the final cast selections will not be made till next week.

Howell encourages those willing to work on make-up and publicity to see him as soon as possible. Intensive work will not be started until after Homecoming.

'Harvest Moon' Dance Set by Sue Tomorrow

"Harvest Moon" was announced by Marsha Glen, decoration chairman, to be the theme of the all-college dance sponsored by Sue Lombard Hall this Saturday night.

The dance will be held in the Sue dining hall from 9-12 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

Admission will be 25 cents a couple and 15 cents stag.

SGA Makes Appointment

Committee appointments made up a chief order of business at the SGA meeting Monday night.

Janice Vinson and Chuck Libby were selected as co-chairmen of the initiation planning committee for next year.

Chosen as Union board members were Joy Barsotti, freshman, and Jim Webster, junior.

Named as class representatives to the Student-Faculty Coordinating board were Sandra Jolly, freshman, Donna Jenkins, sophomore; Ross, Simmons, junior; and Mel Beauchamp, senior.

Council members voted to accept all of the seniors on last year's suggestion list for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Names of the 23 students have been sent to faculty members for final approval.

Class of '59 Elects Alden Esping Prexy

Alden "Punky" Esping was elected president of the freshman class at their first class meeting, held October 6 in the auditorium.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Terry Jansen; secretary, Doris Jenkins; treasurer, Nellie Punch; and social commissioners, Dan Bosler and Joy Barsotti.

Hyakem Picture Schedule Given; Staff Positions Filled for Year

"Sophomores still have an opportunity to have their individual pictures taken for the annual today," Dick Wining, Hyakem editor, said this week.

Juniors will report to the Photo Center on Pine street for pictures next week, Oct. 17-21, and seniors and graduates will be photographed Oct. 24-28.

Women students are asked to wear light-colored sweaters, and men are to wear white shirts, ties, and suits or sportcoats. Seniors will be furnished with caps and gowns.

No opportunity will be provided for students to have their picture taken after the designated week, Wining warned. No proofs will be shown unless a student pays 50 cents for an additional personal order.

Assisting Wining this year are Paul Lambertsen, associate editor; and Lowell Erland and Chuck Evans, photographers.

A number of students have expressed an interest in working on the annual, Wining said, and several outstanding prospects include Nancy Grove, Mary Jo Woodhead and Lynn Forbes.

On Monday, ballots will be cast. The queen and her royal court of princesses will reign over four days of activities in honor of Central alumni.

The celebration, titled "Rhythm Rumpus," will begin Wednesday, Oct. 19 with coronation of the Homecoming queen and a broadcast over Ellensburg Radio Station KXLE. Dr. Robert McConnell, Central's president, will crown the queen.

Stunt Night

On Thursday evening, Oct. 20, students will present stunt night in the College Auditorium. Each dormitory and club on the campus will give a skit or act in the college-wide competition. Stunt night will be repeated Friday evening for the alumni and for the Ellensburg area residents.

Saturday, Oct. 22 is the big day which opens with the 10 a.m. parade through downtown Ellensburg. Prizes will be given for the best floats. Coffee hours and open houses in the dorms will follow.

CPS Game

At 2 p.m. Central's Wildcats will play their annual Homecoming football game, meeting the College of Puget Sound on Rodeo field. The alumni banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Commons will be followed by the dance in the gymnasium.

Co-chairmen for the affair are Darlene Brown, a Sue Lombard junior from Leavenworth, and Victor Olsen, an off-campus senior from Seattle.

Gump to Speak On Good Taste

Richard Gump, president of Gump's of San Francisco, one of America's most famous stores, will speak to a Central audience Thursday, Oct. 20 at 11 a.m. on "Good Taste Costs No More."

Gump, who made a visit to the Central campus last year, has traveled extensively about the world. He has visited Europe often, worked in the Hawaii branch of Gump's, bought rugs in Turkey, helped develop Mexican crafts for American markets and journeyed to Far East on buying trips. He is familiar with the art, history and speaks the languages of many foreign countries.

In his more than a quarter century of association with Gump's, he has been salesman, buyer, art gallery director, advertising manager, interior decorator and designer.

Classes will be dismissed Friday afternoon, October 21, so that students may work on Homecoming.

Late leave for Homecoming week will be 11 p.m., Wednesday; 10:30 p.m., Thursday; and 1:30 a.m., Saturday.

Home Ec Club Meets on Monday

President Kathy Cadieu conducted the first business meeting of the Home Economics Club Monday night in the study lounge at Kamola.

Chief order of business was planning the club calendar for the year. The November meeting will feature a panel discussion on "Vocations in Home Economics."

Popcorn and apple cider were served to the thirty-two girls who attended.

This organization meets on the first Monday of the month and is open to everyone who is interested, especially home economics majors and minors.

Spirit Remains Unchanged

Signs of steadily growing, swiftly improving Central are to be found everywhere as the sixty-fifth year of the institution begins.

Gone is the familiar administration building tower which, from the beginning of Washington State Normal School at Ellensburg, had watched over the campus. But shining over on top of the science building is the new telescope observatory, through which we will now be able to keep up with the increasing interest in interplanetary activities.

Now in a separate building, the bookstore is able to offer new and better service. On the other hand, with additional space the Snack Bar can accommodate more with improved service.

This year also marks the beginning of history for Wilson hall, the latest addition to the living groups. After many years of housing men, Munson has now opened its doors to women while men enter Kennedy (officially) for the first time.

Changes are also to be found in the faces around campus. Gone are several professors and graduated are the seniors, but in their place we see a fresh supply of instructors and an eager class of freshmen.

And yet mere physical alterations don't seem to affect the "spirit of Sweezy," which seems to sprout year after year . . . undaunted by time.

Miss Spurgeon Summers in Italy

The artist's dream—a summer in Italy—came true for Associate Professor of Art Sarah Spurgeon, who has just returned from a three months' tour of the fascinating country.

Traveling both ways by plane, Miss Spurgeon selected Milan as her "headquarters" after arriving in Italy. She spent a month in Milan, where she particularly enjoyed an exhibit, early Roman art.

Miss Spurgeon traveled to other cities by bus, and was impressed with the beautiful farms and gardens. A tremendous amount of re-building has been done, she added, and Italy is experiencing a boom economically.

Checking the prices of bread and eggs, Miss Spurgeon found them to be comparable to local costs. Wages haven't risen proportionately, she added, so the average farmer in Southern Italy makes only around $275 a year.

In Florence Miss Spurgeon saw Fra Angelico's collection, to which originals from all over the world had been sent. Besides seeing the traditional places of historic interest in Rome, Miss Spurgeon included a trip to an exhibit by Mirko, an outstanding contemporary sculptor.

Naples Fun

"Naples was fun," Miss Spurgeon said, explaining that the city and the surrounding area is now noted as a resort area. She made a trip to the Isle of Capri while she was in the vicinity, which she compared to southern California.

"I can see why everyone goes to Naples," Miss Spurgeon continued. The weather was "wonderful" and the picturesque setting insured her of perfect pictures, which she promises to show at the "drop of a hat." Miss Spurgeon has ready explanations why others of the slides are not perfect.

Foreign Film Festival showings in Venice interested the Central faculty member, and she especially enjoyed the films for children. The American entry in the festival was a Gerald McBoing-Boing cartoon, while films from other countries were less entertaining and more educational.

"Venice is a wonderful place," stated Miss Spurgeon, and in addition to an "expensive" ride in a gondola, she visited a Giorgione show which was held in a Venetian palace.

Art Attractions

Both contemporary and ancient art were attractions for Miss Spurgeon, who found Italy to have more stimulating contemporary art than any other place. She explained that the Italian artists are daring and completely experimental in their approach.

On the return trip, Miss Spurgeon stopped at Frankfort, Germany, to see two former Central pupils, Jim McGrath and Bernice Kerr, who are teaching there.

Now that she has made her first trip to Italy, Miss Spurgeon has returned with such enthusiasm that she is thinking of what she will do "next time."

Wesley Club to Sponsor Car Wash Tomorrow

A cleaning job on campus cars, inside and out will be done for $1 by Wesley Club members all day tomorrow at the Methodist Church.

Sweezy Society

The opening of school brought talk of much more than classes and summer jobs. Many Central students became engaged or married over vacation.

Lela Clark and Chuck Hazen were married a few weeks ago. Other newcomers to the wedded ranks are Joyce Barnhart and James Ziegenhagel, Arlene Stokes and Bill Pearson, Margaret Stobbs and Bob Poutt, and Shirley Ostrom and Don Hayes.

New engaged couples are Paul Guay and Marcella Johnson, Al Stevens and Shirley Gannon, Jack Garvin and Loleta Farrar, Margie Hendrickson and Mel Beauchamp, Shirley Richards and Wayne Heisserman, and Janice Kannenwisher and Jack Mulligan.

Frances Powers and Lou Richards, house councilors at Kennedy Hall, were married in the CUB this summer. Joan Fullaway and Jim Hoon, house parents at Wilson, were also recently married.

Other new engaged couples are Kathy Spurgeon and Bob Dalton, Pat Thomas and Dean Wake, Barbara Heppner and Bill Wells, Joan Tomlinson and Leo Basset, Florence McCracken and Ron Frye, Delores Filleau and Rollie Dewing, and Janet Green and Deane Robinson.

New young marrieds are Joanne Anderson and Bill Scholen, Peggy Conway and Lionel Haywood, Ivetta Morgan and Bob Eylar, Carolyn Koski and Hugh Albrecht, Charlene Springer and Bob Salisbury, Daryl Chellis and Allan Wall, Mary Hemenway and Dick Wining, Doris Faudree and Aris Frederick,

Chevaliers Welcome Eligible Members

Any student who qualifies for membership in Chevaliers, a honorary for the Order of DeMolay, is asked to contact Wally Sibbert, Box 645.

The Central Washington Court of Chevaliers was established on the campus last year, and members will form a service group this year.

Election of officers will be held at a luncheon tomorrow.

The FTA meeting scheduled for Oct. 18 has been changed to Monday, Oct. 17, from 4-5 p.m., due to a conflict with Homecoming activities.

Fall convention plans will be made at the meeting, and all members are urged to attend according to Larry Bowen, president.

Claudette Sullivan and Earl Ungerecht, Dolly Howard and Reul Werner, and Donna Davenport and Leroy Nelson.

Changes Seen on Campus

After serving as a landmark since 1891, the tower on the Ad building was removed this summer as a safety measure. Wind vibrations had gradually loosened the anchor framework of the tower, which is being replaced by a four-foot parapet of brick and stone.

Other changes in the building are the additions of lavatories and remodeling the north entrances. Two lavatories are being constructed on each of the first, second and third floors. Vestibules are under construction beyond the present north entrances, and all-glass doors bordered with aluminum have been planned.

Workers on scaffolds outside the building have been repointing and replacing the bricks, according to Cliff Moorehouse, foreman for the Gilbert Moen company of Yakima, general contractors.

Other improvements by the company include placing the roof drains inside, creating new storage space, and adding firedoors in Kamola, Sue Lombard and Munson. Work should be completed before January, Moorehouse said.

Wilson Ready

Wilson Hall, the new men's dormitory, is providing space for 102 students this quarter. Four singles are included among the 52 rooms, according to counselor Jim Hoon.

Wilson was generally patterned after North Hall, but various interior changes have been made. An upstairs lounge, kitchenette, sliding-door closets and new color schemes give the hall individuality. Occupying Wilson are students who formerly lived in Munson, and the pre-fabs, as well as 19 freshmen.

Other Dorms Remodeled

Minor changes were made in remodeling Kennedy for male occupancy this year. New tile floors were laid in Munson, which has been converted to a women's dormitory.

Telescope

Atop the Science building roof is an 8-inch reflecting telescope, which was installed this summer. The telescope is enclosed in a 14-foot dome, and both the telescope and dome are motor-driven to follow a given star despite the rotation of the earth.

Lights and electricity are now being added and a platform is being erected for observers.

"We have been thinking about the telescope for a long time," Carl Johnson, Assistant Professor of Physical Science, said, "and we are very fortunate to have it. In time we hope to have visitations from the students and faculty."

Classes Offered

This quarter a two-credit class, Exploring the Sky, is being taught by Dr. Wilfrid Newschwander on Tuesday. This course is open to townspeople as well as college students.

Another course, with classes during the day, and observations at night, will be taught by Johnson spring quarter.

PIGEONS ARE HOMELESS with the removal of the administration building tower, which was done this summer as a safety precaution. Besides taking the tower off, various improvements are being made in the building as part of a campus-wide betterment program.

Social Science Club Celebrates Buffet Dinner

Fifteen members of the Herodoteans Club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Mohler for a buffet supper on Monday evening, October 10.

Plans for the autumn quarter were discussed as well as plans for Homecoming.

The Herodoteans Club is the history honorary founded in 1923. Members are selected on the basis of superior work done in upper division courses in history and other social sciences.

AWS to Sponsor Float and Crown For Homecoming

The Associated Women Students start their activities this fall by sponsoring the decoration of the Queen's float and purchasing her crown for Central's 1955 Homecoming, October 22.

Deloris Filleau, senior, is president of the Associated Women Students. The organization includes all women students enrolled at Central.

Among other activities for the year will be the Sno-Ball Tolo to be held in the men's gym December 3. This annual formal dance is one of the biggest dances on the campus each year.

Arnold Air Society is a national honorary society for advanced AFROTC cadets.

Pictures Taken For SGA Cards, Student Records

Inaugurated this year at Central is a system of photographing all students at CWCE. A Seattle firm is taking the pictures and will furnish one for the personnel files and for SGA cards.

The firm hopes to sell enough packages of pictures to students to pay for operating expenses and to make a profit. A package of eight wallet sized pictures will cost one dollar.

Individual pictures will also be available at 15 cents each. These pictures will be sold at the CUB the last of October.

The pictures were taken during registration. Late registrants will have pictures taken Oct. 27. New permanent SGA cards will be issued with pictures on them and the present temporary SGA cards will be invalidated.

Mitchell to Tour High Schools

With this year's crop of freshmen nearly settled, the Office of Public Service is beginning its campaign for recruits for the class of 1960.

Perry Mitchell, registrar, will visit high schools on the Olympic Peninsula during the week of October 24, together with college representatives.

Itinerary stops will include Bremerton, Poulsbo, Winslow, and several high schools in the Tacoma area.

Mountain Slides Set At Tuesday Meeting

Slides of Mt. Rainier and Mt. Stuart will be shown by Gene and Bill Prater at a joint meeting of the Whitbeck-Shaw club and the Outdoor club at 7 p.m. Tuesday in C-130.

Having climbed Rainier this summer, the brothers will tell of their recent mountain climbing experiences, and climbing equipment will also be displayed.

The meeting is open to all interested students.

summer on extending the Snack Bar to the space formerly occupied by the bookstore.

"Because of such a large amount of industrial work, we were able to secure only campus employees to start the remodeling this summer," Mrs. Olive Schnebly, Union director, said. "The Snack Bar is only partly finished, and we will close down immediately after school closes spring quarter to complete the job."

Combined with the booths are new tables and chairs which will accommodate 100. Pool tables will be added to the enlarged basement recreation room, which will soon be ready.

By next fall new kitchen equipment will be added in the Snack Bar, and faster service will result. The addition of a plate glass window in the south wall and some repainting are also being planned.

Bookstore Roomier

With the additional space in the bookstore, which was opened in June, more room is available for display. Space has also been provided for offices, rest rooms and storage. Several new lines have been added, and candy and cigarettes are now on sale.

"The book-buying rush went smoothly this year," Mrs. Louise Oien, manager, said, "and we think the store is just wonderful."

Phremms was organized in 1953 for women who are physical education, health and recreation majors or minors.

Kennedy Elects Hall Officers

Central's newest men's living group, Kennedy hall, held election of officers for the 1955-56 school year at a dorm meeting Tuesday night.

The new officers are—Chuck Booth, president; Bob Neilson, vice-president; Walt Barnard, secretary; John King, treasurer; Gale Marrs, social commissioner; Dick Luce, assistant social commissioner; Bill Leth, SGA representative; Fred Hoff, MIA representative; Jim Rusnak, freshman representative to the house council; and Jerry Yeager, Henry Mehus and Bob Booth, wing sergeant-at-arms.

A constitution has been drafted and the members of the dorm will vote on it in the near future.

Outdoor Club Holds Weekend at Lazy F

Outdoor Club will hold a mass outing for Central students today, Saturday and Sunday at the Lazy F Ranch, which is 15 miles outside of Ellensburg.

Activities will include a discussion of the problems of outdoor activities, a hike on the Teanaway snow field, and demonstrations of climbing techniques.

Regular meetings for the group are held on the first and third Tuesdays of the month.

Dr. McConnell has been Central's president since 1931.

IA Club Makes Ash Trays For Student Union

"We would like to thank the Industrial Arts club for making and giving to the Union the new ash trays which you see in the main lounge," Mrs. Olive Schnebly, CUB director, said this week.

Working on the ash trays was a project of last year's group, explained George Sogge, club adviser. Wood was provided by Lou Richards, and various members of the club worked on the five ash trays.

Ed Bettine is president of the club this year, and other projects are being planned by the club. Membership is open to students who are majoring or minoring in industrial arts.

The Student Government Association constitution was adopted at CWCE during spring quarter, 1942.

A fee of $5 per quarter is charged of all Central students for the redemption of building bonds.

Orientation Week Features New Events, Traditional Activities

Several new events were added to the usual freshman orientation activities this year to provide entering students with a complete introduction to campus and community life.

Beginning with the opening assembly on Sunday night, September 25, which featured administrative officials, a PHREMMS mixer on Monday and a field day at Kiwanis Park on Thursday were planned with new students in mind.

Clubs and organizations set up booths at the park for the field day so that freshmen could learn of activities first-hand. Organized games, talks, and refreshments were also part of the afternoon.

On September 29 the new students were welcomed in an assembly in which student leaders were introduced. Church groups held open house Friday night, with programs geared to welcoming new members.

Climaxing orientation week was "College and Community Day", co-sponsored by SGA and the Chamber of Commerce. After a barbecue beef lunch in the rodeo grounds grandstand, trick riding, calf roping, cow cutting and team roping contests were given for the benefit of students and faculty.

A highlight of the afternoon was the college calf roping, which saw Roger Salisbury and Dale Mitchell turning in the fastest time for the sophomore class. Representing the juniors were Lou Richards and Harley Brumbaugh, and Chuck Schmutz and Gary Brown roping for the seniors.

Over 500 enjoyed the "Levi Hop" which was held in the national guard armory Saturday night. Dude Smith and his band provided the music for the dance, which was attended by college students and townspeople.

STA Organizes For Active Year

Holding their first meeting of the quarter recently were members of Sigma Tau Alpha. The club, which is for present and majority members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, meets every first and third Tuesday of the month from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 in the East Room at Kamola Hall. The Rainbow honorary is a service organization at CWCE.

Officers for the present year who were elected last year were introduced and four more officers were elected. Officers are Bev Laudon, president; Pat Martin, vice president; Wilma Provost, secretary; Darlene Allen, treasurer, and Jan Norling, publicity chairman. Others include Janice Kanenewisher, assistant publicity chairman; Roberta Pickering, social commissioner; Jama Goodman, chaplain, and Kathryn Campbell, musician.

"We plan to have many activities this year," Wilma Provost, secretary, commented. She added that the first one would be making place cards for the homecoming banquet.

Shirley Pierce Wins OES Award

Shirley Pierce, junior, was awarded the Eastern Star scholarship for the year, according to the Director of Public Service, Ed Rogel.

Scholarship committee members selected three candidates from applications last spring, and the final choice was made by the state order of Eastern Star.

Miss Pierce, who was judged for scholarship, personality and character, is from Yelm.

Due to the six month's contract that the CRIER has with the Associated Press, the wire news page will not appear until the November 4 issue.

Physical examinations for all winter quarter student teachers will be given in the gym on Monday, October 24, at 7 p.m. for women and 8 p.m. for men.

Pirates Down Cats

WILDCAT END JIM BAGGETT grabs a chunk of Whitworth halfback Bern Rakes' jersey in an attempt to pick up some more yardage after catching one of Bill Harriman's passes. Babe Bates No. 45 and Dave Martin No. 11 are coming up to give Rakes a hand if necessary.

Central in Third Loss, Pirates Still Undefeated

The Whitworth Pirates continued their merry voyage in the ranks of the undefeated by handing the Central Washington Wildcats their third straight loss 21-6 on rain-swept Rodeo field last Saturday night.

The Wildcats gave the Pirates all the football they could handle for three quarters but ran out of gas in the final stanza.

Sparked by the passing and running of quarterback Bill Harriman, the Cats drew first blood in the first quarter with a 65 yard drive to pay dirt. Harriman boot-legged the ball around the Whitworth end twice for nice gains, hit end Jim Baggett with a pass and climaxed the drive by lateralling out to halfback Don Trombley who carried the mail over from about 20 yards out. The kick was blocked and the score stood 6-0.

Pierce Intercepts

The Pirates immediately started a drive of their own but had it cut short when halfback Don Pierce grabbed a pass off Pirate Bob Bradner's fingertips.

Shortly after Pierce's interception Whitworth again took possession. This time the Pirate's smooth quarterback, Don Price hit end Ward Wood with a 35 yard pass that carried to the Central 15. From there the Pirates ground over on a series of running plays with Babe Bates scoring on a short plunge. Dave Martin plunged through the Central line for the extra point and the Pirates took command 7-6.

Harriman started another Central drive in the second quarter with two long gainers around end. When the stocky quarterback tried the old reliable bootleg on a fourth down play on the Whitworth 35, Bradner was there to stop him and the drive was over.

Martin Rambles For Pirates

After an exchange of fumbles Martin intercepted a Harriman pass on the Central 45, galloped toward the far side-line; reversed his field and loped into the end zone untouched. The point after touchdown was good and the score read Whitworth 14, Central 6.

The teams fought it out in the middle of the field throughout the third quarter with neither threatening seriously but both showing some sharp passing.

Pirates Score Again

The Pirates went out and sewed the game up fast in the fourth quarter. With Martin carrying and Price throwing, Whitworth was on the march against the game but tired Central team. Price snuck over from a yard out for the score and the placement was perfect to give Whitworth a comfortable 21-6 lead.

Coach Jim Lounsberry called off the Pirate starters in the middle of the quarter and neither teams threatened the rest of the contest.

The victory gave the Pirates their twelfth straight win.

Lanegan Hurt

Wildcat center Dale Lanegan received a head injury early in the game and may not make the trip to Tacoma this Saturday.

Harriman, George Argelan and Dave Carnahan were outstanding for Central. Argelan was especially tough on defense.

Price, Bradner, Martin and Bates made the Pirate attack roll while little All-American center Bill VanderStoep ripped up the center of the Central line both on defense and offense.

Veteran Back Leads Central

Bill Harriman very deservedly heads this week's Sportrait. Bill is playing his fourth straight year of football with the Central Washington Wildcats and is piloting them for his third year as starting quarterback.

The 5' 10" blue-eyed Centralite displays a quiet nature in conversation, but leaves it behind on the football field, where he displays not only fine ball handling and good passing, but good sportsmanship and team leadership as well.

Bill Harriman

Although Bill actively took part in baseball, basketball, and track in high school, his main love was football. He quarterbacked his Ferndale high school team for three years and not only made All-County from the Whatcom County League for two years, but also made All-State in his senior year,

Wildcats Meet PLC Tomorrow

The Central Washington Wildcats take on another big foe tomorrow in Tacoma when they meet the Pacific Lutheran Gladiators in the second league game of the season for both squads. Central was beaten by the league champion Whitworth Pirates, 21-6 in their only league tussle while PLC marked up a 19-0 win over UBC in their only Evergreen outing.

The Lutes, who boast one of the heftiest lines in the conference this year, are slight favorites in the eyes of the experts due to their great defensive record. In their three games to date, they have allowed their opponents only a little more than 100 yards rushing per game.

The visiting Wildcats, who gave the Pirates from Whitworth a real scare last week, will be at full strength for the important tilt with the exception of starting center Dale Lanegan, who received a badly broken nose in the Whitworth contest.

Probable starting lineup for Central will be Jim Baggett and Wayne Roe at ends; Del Goodpaster and either Don Lyall or Dave Carnahan at the tackle spots. At the guards, it will be a tossup between these three: Bert Thompthe highest honor given to high school athletes.

Bill says he likes Abe Poffenroth "fine" and thinks that Central's team is a bit better than last year's outfit. Although the Wildcats had a bit of bad luck during the opening season games, he says, "We played tough teams and it was good experience for us all. We should do better as the season goes on."

Bill will be displaying his athletic wares again this spring. This time as a catcher on the Wildcat baseball team.

son, Jim Fletcher, and George Argelan. Bob Parsons will probably take over for the injured Lanegan at center.

In the backfield for the Crimson and Black will be Harriman at quarter. Don Trombley and Don Pierce will hold down the halfback spots.

At fullback, coach Abe Poffenroth figures to use Jim Thrasher.

Cats Lose Opening Two

Central's Wildcats got off on the wrong foot this year as they dropped two non-league contests to start off the 1955 football season. The Cats lost their opener at Rodeo field to Whitman on September 24, 26-7, and dropped a second tussle at Portland on October 1, bowing to the Lewis & Clark Pioneers, 41-13.

Whitman cracked over for a touchdown in each of the first two quarters at Rodeo field to take a 12-0 halftime lead, then added two more in the 4th to rack up a 26-0 score before Central finally hit the scoring column. With 3 minutes remaining in the game, Quarterback Bill Harriman faded back on his own 38-yard line and passed to halfback Don Pierce on the 50-yard line. Pierce gathered in the ball and galloped down the sideline to hit pay dirt, shaking off three tacklers on the way. Harriman lugged the ball around right end to score the extra point.

Central found Lewis & Clark a tough outfit, too, as the Pioneers scored in every quarter and piled up six big touchdowns. The second quarter saw the Wildcats score their first TD, as Harriman passed five yards to Jim Baggett in the end zone for the tally. Baggett made a spectacular catch of the ball, leaping high into the air to pick off the pigskin.

FOCUS ON CENTRAL..... Frosh Initiation Becomes Memory As Class of '59 Receives Welcome

CHEERFUL LITTLE WORKERS at a shoe shine stand in the Student Union building were Anna Lee Clark, Karen Ludlow and Jo Ann McDonald, Munson freshmen. Receiving shins, for a dime, are Gene Luft and Bob Calverly. As part of the Munson initiation, freshmen were required to wear name cards, shine shoes and buss dishes in the Snack Bar.

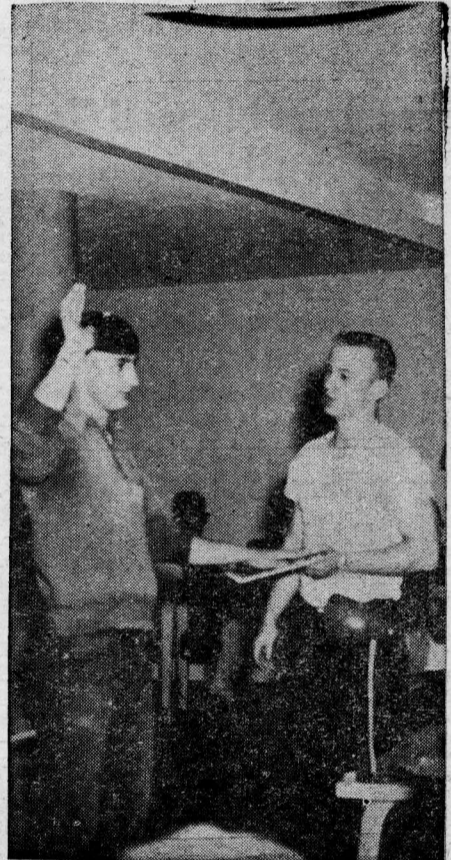

VARIETY OF PAJAMAS were on display at the annual PJ party which is given by Sue Lombard Hall to welcome the freshmen. No lipstick, pin curls and along with the prescribed beanies are other yearly traditions of the Sue frosh. Celebrating the end of initiation Wednesday night with cake and punch were both upperclassmen and freshmen of Sue Lombard. Bordering the freshmen, which are centered above, are upperclassmen Kay Rennie, Colleen Campbell, Donna Nelson, and Mary Pennington, Patsy Martin, Laverne Roberts (pouring), Donna Bell, Karen Savage, Micky Robertson and Beth Beckman.

FINAL INITIATION ACTIVITY for the Kamola freshmen was a comparatively formal induction which was held on Wednesday night. Leading the ceremony, at right, is Darlene Pawlak, initiation co-chairman. Initiates, from left, include: Margery Murphy, Thelma Meuller, Nellie Punch, Marlene Mansperger, Patsy

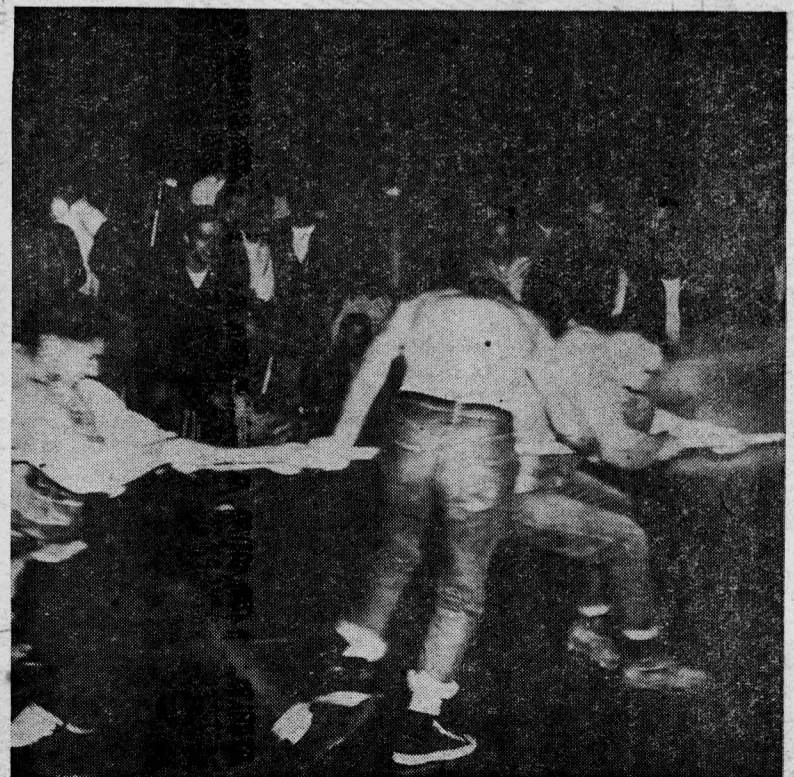

Evans, Joan Issacson, Diane Bishop, Karen Cole, Pat Campbell and Susie Gray. Carrying stuffed animals and making like apes through the dining halls and CUB were other required activities of the Kamola freshmen this year.

PLEDGING ADMISSION OATH in the name of the Lone Ranger on a comic book is Wilson freshman Bill Duncalf. Administering the oath is Oscar Lindahl.

CONTINUING A TRADITION the Kennedy freshmen, male this year, sent out an invitation to a 6 a.m. dance in the Kennedy courtyard. Invited to the dance, which was held Tuesday morning, were Munson freshmen, female this year. The Kennedy men are actually wearing swimming suits under their suit jackets, while the signs on the backs of the Munson freshmen give tips on etiquette in the CUB. Supervising upperclassmen favored the initiates with a jitterbug at intermission.

THROUGH THE SPRAY goes Wilson Hall freshmen as North Hall frosh, on the other end, put on the power. Kennedy Hall won the tug-of-war, which has been held previously across the irrigation ditch on upper campus. This year the rope-pull was held in the street in front of the CUB, with the same wet results.
