Enrollment Soars To All-time Peak

Enrollment figures at Central Washington College of Education have reached an all-time high. A 15% increase over last year's figure was announced by Perry Mitchell, college registrar. The official figures will be announced at a later date but approximately 1680 students were enrolled at the closing of the registration period.

The last all-time high was reached in 1950 with an enrollment of 1569 for the fall quarter. Last year's fall enrollment was 1443. The increase is accounted for through the larger freshman class and because the number of transfers for this year's enrollment was doubled. The men outnumber the women, carrying 61 percent of the total enrollment, leaving about 39 percent women.

The increase of better than 200 students brought about the scheduling of noon classes for the first time in the history of the school. Lack of classroom space and a limited number of instructors for the additional students was the reason given for the noon classes.

President Robert McConnell said the noon classes were scheduled because the college did not want to lower the school standards by overcrowding the classrooms. Neither did they want students kept from taking desired classes.

The lunch hour is staggered with the servings beginning at 11:30, noon and 1 p.m.

The class problem has not been completely solved. Two new sections have been planned for evening classes. The large number in each of these classes will make this necessary.

Centralites Vote Today For Queen

Today is the day to vote for this year's homecoming queen. Candidates are entered from each of the dorms and off campus. Girls vying for the title of Homecoming queen are Bernice Tormey, Donna Doering, Marilyn Grove, Darlene Allen, Donna Jinkens, Norma Woodard, Grace Keesling, Margie Beauchamp, Delores Mattingly, Marcia Raymond and Nancy Baker.

The Homecoming queen and her court are scheduled to make two television appearances, one in Seattle and one in Yakima.

Many activities have been scheduled for October 25, 26 and 27, when Central will swing into full force for the annual homecoming.

"This year's homecoming is to be full of activities for everyone and it is hoped many will take part," expressed Barbara Conrad and Don Mitchell, co-chairmen.

Stunt nights will be Thursday and Friday, Oct. 25 and 26, in the College Auditorium.

At 9 a.m., Saturday, the parade will start in front of the tennis courts. The committee is busy planning the floats and making other arrangements for the parade.

Saturday afternoon Central meets Eastern at the Rodeo Field. Starting time of the game will be 2 p.m. The committee would like to see a large crowd out to support their team.

The price has not yet been set for the Homecoming banquet, but it will be advertised as soon as possible.

The annual homecoming dance will be Saturday night, October 27, in the Men's Gym. Honored guests will be the queen and her court.

College Classes to Close For Homecoming Activities

There will be no classes after the fifth period on Friday afternoon, Oct. 26, it was announced by Dr. J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction. The half holiday will be given so students and faculty may spend the time after 1 p.m. preparing for homecoming activities.

'Laura' Slated As Fall Play

"Laura," a Caspary and Sklar mystery, has been selected as the all-college play for the fall quarter. It is being directed by Norman Howell and will be presented in the college auditorium the last week in November.

"Laura" is a murder mystery in which three men and a girl become involved while attempting to solve one murder and before this is accomplished are almost plunged into another. It possesses all the elements of suspense, conflict, and action to hold the audience's interest throughout the play, Howell said.

Tryouts were held October 10 and 11, and all persons who are still interested but were unable to try out those evenings should contact Director Howell. Those who wish to serve on the production crews for the play are also requested to see him in the Administration Building, room 404.

President's Secretary Leaves to Open Store

Mrs. Shelton, who has been with the president since fall of 1946, is planning to start a store on the site of a local bookstore in Ellensburg. She plans to leave as soon as a replacement has been announced. No replacement has yet been named.

Central Washington College Students Have Campus Traffic Problem

Numerous Cars Plus Speeding Plus Careless Driving May Equal Death for Pedestrians

(This is the first in a series of editorials on the traffic and parking problems on the Central Campus.)

Degrading is the word for the traffic problem on the Central Campus. This problem is brought about by the attitudes of the college students themselves. Pedestrians have the attitude that they have the right of way at all times and that they can cross any street at any place, without even looking to see if there is a car coming. They seem to believe that the drivers can just watch out for them.

Campus drivers also have a complex. They feel that they, having more power in their hands and under their feet, should have the right to highball down the street and let the pedestrians jump for their lives.

When the careless pedestrian and the reckless driver meet in the street, Mrs. Maxine Taylor, head of the infirmary, will have a chance to use her skill. Or, perhaps, she will not have to work after all, but merely call the nearest mortuary.

According to the Washington State Safety Council, during the month of September, 37 people were killed in the state. Speed is blamed as the number one violation in the fatal accidents reported.

Last year on the Central campus two college men were struck on a crosswalk in front of the CUB in two separate accidents. They were not hurt, only shaken up. Unless college drivers take more care and pedestrians look both ways, the next accident may be much more serious.

Lists in the Dean of Men's office show that 70 per cent of the men on campus drive cars, as do faculty members and some girls. It is estimated that there are 750 cars on campus, not counting faculty cars. This is an increase of 100 cars over last year. With more cars than ever on the campus, there is more danger of accidents resulting from careless or reckless driving.

It is not only college students who are in danger. College Elementary School students cross campus streets and play near the streets. These children have not learned to look carefully both ways before crossing streets and when they are playing they may be too interested in the game to remember safety rules. Parents of these children include college students, faculty members, and local townspeople. These children all have a right to grow up to attend Central Washington College of Education.

To help them live to grow up there is an organization, the School Safety Patrol, which is sponsored by the Washington State Patrol. These grade school students direct traffic and watch out for children near the school. But they cannot always be available to watch out for careless drivers. It is the duty of the drivers to watch out for the children.

There has been an outbreak of speeding and careless driving on campus this fall. Central students have been found driving 45 miles per hour and over in 20 mile zones.

Part of the job of stopping this speeding and reckless driving is done by campus traffic officers. Floyd Yost, day traffic officer, and Verlin Cox and Harry Hartman, night watchmen, wear deputy sheriff's badges and have full powers to arrest and impound cars.

Their job is to enforce the traffic code which every driver received when he registered. As the code provides, students may lose their permit to drive an automobile in Ellensburg. Permits may be revoked for:

- 1) Continued violation of parking regulations.
- 2) Resistance to the campus traffic officer.
- 3) The giving of false information on the permit application.

mation on the permit application.

4) Conviction in justice court of reckless or drunken driving.

5) Reckless driving in, or near the campus. This includes speeding on the campus and the adjacent streets.

6) Nuisance driving; the operation of an automobile in such a manner as to constitute a hazard or nuisance to other students. This includes excessive noise and careless driving.

Traffic officers cannot do the entire job of curbing reckless driving by themselves. They need the help and cooperation of the students. By watching out for the other fellow, courteous driving, obeying the traffic signs, obeying the school patrol, and following the traffic code, students can help keep accidents to a minimum on the Central campus.

Help promote WRECKLESS driving rather than reckless driving.

This Is Your College Life

Welcome back to Sweezy fellow students. And a special welcome to new students, freshmen and transfers. Another school year is beginning. A year which presents many opportunities for all. There are opportunities for earning recognition in campus activities, and in academic fields. There are even opportunities to earn MRS. degrees. All who want a chance to earn recognition in any field have an equal chance to do so.

New students have as much chance as the long established students. If you want to express an opinion or raise a question do so. There is no need to be afraid to open your mouth. The bugs will disappear with the advent of cold weather. And your ideas mean as much as do the next fellow's.

One way of expressing an opinion is in the Campus Crier. The Crier maintains a column for the students here at Sweezy. You the student body may write to the Campus Crier, Box 50, on any subject desired. It is your column. Use it.

The Campus Crier reserves the right to withhold from publication letters which fail to meet standards of truth, decency and fairness. The Crier also withholds the right to keep the letters on file, to publish names of the writers, and to print letters referring to both sides of controversial issues.

Misses Sullivan, Doering To Fill Council Vacancies

Since school started two new members have been appointed to fill vacancies on Honor Council. Donna Doering was appointed to fill Dorothy Barich's position while she is student teaching in Wenatchee. Diane Williams was appointed to replace Joanne Sullivan. These appointments were made by the Student Government Association.

Other members of the Honor Council are Ron Fry, Cheri Winnie, Dave Divilbiss, and Chuck Saas. Members of the honor council are elected by the student body at Central to serve for three quarters. Duties of the Honor Council are to uphold the Ethical Code or honor system of CWCE. Honor Council Code states that:

"The CWCE Honor System strives to establish and maintain a code of conduct as prescribed by the Constitution of our Student Government Association; Article VII, Section 1(a). This Honor System gives to each member of the CWCE community responsibility for his actions whether in individual or group activity so long as he is representative of CWCE on or off the campus.

"The ideal of this code is the optimum ethical development of individual character; this being represented in behavior evidenced by tolerance, cooperation, consideration and respect for others' rights, adaptability, self control, good and accurate judgment, courage of conviction, and appreciation for American ideals."

"This Honor System desires that students, faculty, and administration strive jointly, as well as separately, to uphold those ethics society demands of intelligent, educated American citizens."

The Honor Council is the Superior court of the CWCE judicial body. The Honor Council acts on cases referred to them by house councils. The Honor Council may issue reprimands, probations, suspensions and expulsions, depending upon the seriousness of the case.

Another part of the judiciary at CWCE is the Judicial Committee. This is composed of two students and three faculty members, appointed by the Student-Faculty Co-ordinating Board. The Judiciary Committee acts only on cases referred to it by the Honor Council except during summer term. It also acts as a reference and counseling body for the honor council.

The first no-hit World Series baseball game in history was pitched by Don Larsen Monday.

A new 'live virus' polio vaccine will be tested on volunteers from Chillicothe Reformatory in Cincinnati.

The vaccine will be taken by mouth. Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati, the vaccine's developer, stated that "this merely represents the next step forward in the experimental studies on an oral polio vaccine, rather than a transition to mass immunization.

Trials may not start until early 1957.

In the Suez Canal controversy, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi rejected the British-French plan for international operation of the canal.

Fawzi offered to negotiate with Suez Canal users on a system of cooperation that would, in his opinion, protect the interests of the users and the sovereignty of Egypt.

Egypt's objectives in the Suez issue, according to Fawzi are

1. Establishing a system of cooperation between Egyptian authorities operating the Suez Canal and the users of the canal, taking into full consideration the sovereignty and rights of Egypt and the interests of the users of the canal.

2. Establishing a system for the polls and charges which guarantees fair treatment and freedom from exploitation for the users of the canal.

3. Providing for a reasonable percentage of the revenues to be allotted especially for improvements.

Mrs. Wanamaker Speaks at FTA

Members of the Central Washington College chapter of Future Teachers of America heard the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker, as the speaker for the first meeting of the new college year in the College Elementary School auditorium.

Mrs. Wanamaker told the members of the importance of membership in the FTA organization and that one of their purposes should be to strive to raise the standards for teachers.

She told her audience that one purpose of FTA is "to develop a sense of solidarity of those young men and women planning to enter the teaching profession". In one of her closing remarks, Mrs. Wanamaker left the thought with her listeners that "we hold the future of America in our hands".

Paul Lambertsen, FTA president, in encouraging the members in their program for the coming year told them that "you get out of FTA just what you put into it".

The FTA chapter at CWCE meets the first and third Tuesday of each month in the C.E.S. auditorium at 8 p.m. On October 16, Miss Anna B. Shuck, vice-president of Washington State Classroom Teachers Association and an instructor in Ellensburg High School will be the speaker.

Don't Swat It Swallow It— Naturally

By JOAN SWANSON

Drop your hand, you murderer! Don't swat that homeless little gnat. He's got some rights too you know.

Just because she wants to raise a family in your best cashmere sweater or set up housekeeping in your crew cut is no reason to become alarmed. The odds are against these winged, black fellows and gals. The hardships of winter with no electric blankets will soon diminish their numbers.

When questioned as to the scientific reason for our friends' presence on campus, Curt Wiberg of the CWC Science Department explained that "the Russians sent them."

Whatever be the explanation for the gnats' homesteading on our campus—extremely warm fall weather or Russians—try to put up with them. Remember, they will be gone soon. Until then, don't go buggy—go Gnatty.

Box 50

Dear Students:

We would like to express our appreciation at this time for all the fine cooperation expressed thus far in working on the 1957 Hyakem. We are extremely proud to say that over 100 students have signed up to work on the annual.

Work does not come for 100 people all at once so we are having to ask for help when we need it. If you have signed up to work on the annual and have not yet been contacted, please be patient; we will use you in the very near future.

Sunday afternoon 20 students showed up to contribute time and talents. We were amazed to see such a turnout as we had contacted just 25 students. Thanks to these people for so generously helping us.

We feel that we have big plans for our yearbook this year and these plans can be carried out successfully only with cooperation such as has been displayed by you students.

Freshmen showed up 462 strong to have their pictures taken for the annual. We are extremely proud of this fact too as we want as many of our students displayed in the annual as possible. Upperclassmen, let's top this record!

Again, thanks for all the interest shown. If this interest holds up, we can guarantee you nothing but a top-notch 1957 Hyakem.

Sincerely,
Paul Lambertsen,

Pettit Requests New Inventory

Dr. Maurice L. Pettit, Professor of Education, has recently requested plans of a detailed inventory of every classroom, office, living quarters and dining facilities, from the American Associated Colleges of Teacher Education. Of the three hundred sixty-four state colleges and universities, Central has requested to be one of the first to try the plan.

It consists of seeing what facilities there are now to accommodate the number of students and what facilities will be needed to accommodate additional students.

President R. E. McConnell already has a master plan but would like to compare it with the results of the AACTE plan.

"One of the biggest problems facing institutions of higher learning is how to provide a good instructional program with limited facilities," comments Dr. Pettit.

Central Starts New Program

Nineteen senior Air Force ROTC cadets at CWCE will inaugurate a flight training program in light aircraft during the coming school year, according to President Robert McConnell, following the awarding of such a program to the institution by the USAF.

Central becomes one of the three colleges in the Pacific Northwest to be awarded such a program. The University of Washington and Oregon State are the other two schools with the flight training program.

Only 38 of the 180 colleges and universities with AFROTC have been given permission to start the actual flying program.

Under this program, cadets who take the flying training will receive 35 hours of flight instruction and the same amount of ground school training which included navigation and weather subjects. Successful completion of the light course will qualify the cadets to apply for private pilots licenses.

Flight instruction will be given in a four-place dual-controlled Navion plane, handled by Civil Aeronautics Administration approved flying schools.

Institutions selected for this flight program are those which expressed greatest interest in the program, have eligible cadets, and are located in close proximity of flying school operations.

Talent Rewarded At Frosh Show

By PAT MORRIS

With the climax of the Freshman Talent Show, Tuesday night the Class was $46.20 richer and had provided the campus with a sample of Frosh talent.

Fast patter and introductions were provided by the Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, Jerry Wenger and Shirley Willoughby. Produced by Jan Vinson and Chuck Libbey, the program drew upon talent from all dorms and off campus.

Representing off campus Barbara Hertz, who was accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Hertz, played "Concertino" by Chaminada.

Kathy Aldridge of Renton, a lyric soprano, entertained with "On the Street Where You Live" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Jan Schwartz of Kennewick played the background music.

A pantomime was provided by Sharon Brown, from East Wenatchee. This was followed by a sextette made up of Bernard Shoemaker, Chuck Cooney, Fred Steiner, Don Blasdel, Chuck Evers and Don Trumble.

Satire on college students was provided by Munson girls, Vida McHoes, Ella Johnson, Georgia Armentrout and Pat Morris.

Rich Venitti, "Elvis," styled "Don't be Cruel" and "Hound Dog" with background by Carmody boys.

Native of Hawaii, Carolyn Troy of Kamola demonstrated the Hula. Final on the program was "Mac" Maszeter from North Hall, pianist.

Faculty Donates Charity Money

Sweezy's College Good Neighbor Fund is soaring sky high, according to Eugene Kosy, the general chairman.

The fund was started last year, at faculty request, in association with the Kittitas Valley Appeal. It consists of faculty donations which can be made one of two ways:

The first option is a contribution of a lump sum, in which there is no designated receiver. This donation is distributed on a specific percentage basis to the receiving associations.

The second option is a donation for a named charity and amount. This option can include one or several Charity classifications. The agencies included to receive are: The American Cancer Society, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Heart Association, Orthopedic Hospital Association, Red Cross, Washington Children's Home, and YMCA. The Salvation Army has been added just this year as another receiving agency.

Mr. Kosy's hopes are high that the total donations will top last year's sum of $2,500 and expects a 100 percent faculty participation.

Lambertsen Tells Picture Schedule

Announcement of the Hyakem picture schedule was made this week by Paul Lambertsen, editor. Junior class pictures will be taken October 30, 31 and Nov. 1 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the CUB card room.

There were 462 freshmen pictures taken during orientation week and the sophomore pictures have been taken within the past week. The method of taking the Hyakem pictures on campus this year is proving very successful according to reports from members of the staff.

Students are requested to wear clothing conforming to the plan as outlined for the pictures. Girls are asked to wear sweaters and boys wear dress shirts, ties (no bow ties, please) and either a sport coat or suit coat, Lambertsen said.

The definite schedule for senior pictures will be announced at a later date.

Central Director Wins Air Scroll

A. Bert Christianson, the director of Central Washington College's marching and concert bands, was presented the Air Force Scroll of Appreciation for outstanding work in the organization, training and leading of the college's Air Force ROTC Band at a special ceremony in Ellensburg.

The presentation was made at a Wednesday Rotary Club meeting on August 29th. Lt. Colonel James L. Muller, commandant of cadets at Central Washington college, made the presentation.

The special award, given under Air Force regulations established by the Secretary of the Air Force, was presented to Mr. Christianson for his work with the band over the past five years.

Air Force Scrolls of Appreciation are given for meritorious

Hyakem Gets New Policy

A new policy that has been endorsed by the Administrative council of the college was announced by Paul Lambertsen, editor of the Hyakem.

The policy reads "If a husband and wife are both enrolled in college during the autumn and-or winter quarters each will pay all fees including the Hyakem fee but they may apply to the registrar's office for a refund on one Hyakem after the close of the registration period".

This becomes effective this quarter and both husband and wife will have to present receipts to the Registrar to receive a permit for refund.

The Hyakem is coming along nicely according to staff members. They report that the cover has been completed and this cover is unusual and to further interest the students, this particular type of cover has never been used on the Hyakem in previous editions.

Placement Test Make-up Set

E. exam at 6:30, the Nelson reading which starts at 7:45 and English placement at 8:45. All will take place in the College Auditorium.

Scheduled for the same day are the physical examinations in the college gym. Women are instructed to come at 7:00 p.m., men at 8:00 p.m. No additional fees will be charged.

Home Ec Girls Plan Mum Sale

Chrysanthemum Pom Poms for Homecoming can be ordered October 15 through 18 at the CUB information booth. The white mums are being sold by the girls in the Home Economics Club and can be purchased for 75 cents. The booth in the CUB will be opened from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Students are urged by officers of the club to place their orders early.

The first Home Economics Club meeting will be held in C 324, October 15 at 7:30 p.m. All girls interested in joining or attending the meetings are urged to attend. A worth while program is being planned for this year for both informing and entertaining the members, officers commented.

Library Booklet Features Rules

The purpose of this handbook is to acquaint students with the location of library materials and to help them use the card catalog.

Also included in the handbook are the library hours and the circulation rules.

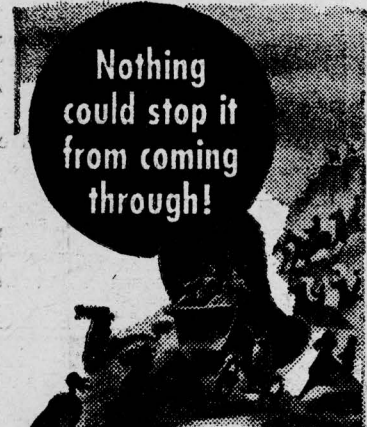

Beginning this quarter, the fine for each overdue book will be five cents a day. A two cent fine will be charged for each day a map, pamphlet, picture or magazine is overdue.

Cats Tangle With Glads Tomorrow

PERK'S PATTERN

By Dave Perkins
Sports Editor

How about those Wildcats?

Central Washington College showed what desire and fight could do last Saturday night up at Spokane, as they literally turned the league upside down by whacking the Whitworth Pirates in a game that was supposed to be easily won by the Whits. The last time that Central got by the Pirates was in 1951, that also by a 19-7 score, but for the last few years Central has fallen prey to the big boys from Spokane. Saturday night's exhibition was a beautiful show of teamwork and drive, and it brought out the potential power of our Wildcats.

Questions are now popping up all over campus. "Can the Cats keep it up? Was Saturday night just a flash in the pan? Or can the Cats take the conference this year?"

The answer, of course, lies with the team itself. There are plenty of other tough teams in the league who will be no pushovers. If our Central boys keep at it on the practice field, work to learn, and give all they've got during the coming games, then I'd say the Cats have a good chance to show this league that Central isn't a dead football power.

Team Managers Work Hard

While still on the subject of football, I'd like to point out three fellows that put in many hours of downright hard work toward helping out our football team, yet never seem to get any credit for it. Those fellows are the team managers.

Joe Venera of Cle Elum, Dick Wilson from Seattle, and Spencer Hinson of Richland are the men in mind, and from a lad who picked up twelve letters managing in high school, this writer gives a tip of the hat to those three for their fine job so far. Keep up the good work, men.

Attention Basketball Players!

Let's skip over to basketball a second, now, and mention something that may have cost the Cats a pennant last winter. That something was the loss of two of Central's finest basketball players because of ineligibility . . . due to low grades. The Cats have another team coming up this year that should give the conference a good run for their money—let's not lose anyone this year because of that old GPA. Basketball players: If you're close to the border line, dig in this quarter before it's too late.

Letters from Sports Fans Welcome

Before we close out this first column of the new school year, we'd like to extend a personal invitation to anyone to drop a line if they have something they'd like to see either in this column or on the sports page in general. Box 705 is your address for suggestions, criticism, or just plain chit chat.

WRA Plans Active Year

All girls interested in turning out for WRA this year are urged to do so now, according to Miss Vera Badorek, advisor for the group.

The organization, which is made up of all girls interested in turning out for sports, will meet in the Men's Gymnasium every Monday and Thursday evening from 6:30-8:00, with freshmen being granted late leave. Practice nights will be held for the first two weeks with regular competition between dorms to follow.

Volleyball will be the main sport this quarter, with basketball to take over during winter quarter and badminton, softball, and tennis as the main sports during spring quarter. A trophy will be awarded the women's dormitory that takes first place again this year, and all girls are urged to come out and support their living group, according to Miss Badorek. Munson Hall won the WRA trophy last year.

The most valuable Little All-American football player in 1948 was Bob Osgood of Central Washington College.

Central Aiming for Second Conference Win in Contest

By ERROL TEMPLE

Tomorrow afternoon on Rodeo Field the Central Washington Wildcats will tangle with the Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators in an Evergreen Conference tilt. "The best passing team in the league," were the words Coach Poffenroth used to describe the powerful Gladiators. They have proven this to be true by averaging 234 yards per game through the air. Tommy Gilmer, veteran quarterback for the Lutes has been doing most of the pitching with end Ron Storaasli on the receiving end.

In the rushing department the Gladiators have been led by John Fromm. This swivel hipped halfback led the conference in rushing last year as a sophomore. He wasn't too impressive in the Lutes' first two games, but if the passing attack should bog down this speedy halfback could be dangerous. Pacific Lutheran has tied the College of Puget Sound 19-19 and beaten the University of British Columbia 34-0.

Cats To Be Strong

Central, on the other hand, will be out to show their win over Whitworth was more than luck. The Wildcats have improved with every game. They have shown they can play heads-up ball, and they should be ready for the Lutes.

The Wildcats came back from Whitworth with no serious injuries, and should be at full strength barring any injuries this week. Coach Poffenroth said earlier this week, "After Saturday's victory over Whitworth, teams will no longer overlook Central."

The probable starting lineup for Saturday's game will be at ends, Jim Baggett and Joe Kominski; at tackles, Yarl Jensen and Dave Carnahan; at guards, John Liboky and Dave Tucker; and at center, Dale Lanegan. The Wildcats' backfield will probably be made up of Al Murry at quarterback, Bud Snaza and Amos Stitham at halfbacks and Jim Thrasher at fullback. Game time will be at 2 p.m.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

- Oct. 13 PLC at Ellensburg
- Oct. 20 CPS at Tacoma
- Oct. 27 UWCE at Ellensburg
- Nov. 3 UBC at Vancouver
- Nov. 10 WWCE at Bellingham

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Varsity basketball turnouts will begin on Monday, October 15, according to head coach Leo Nicholson in an announcement made early this week. All interested players are asked to be present at the gymnasium Monday afternoon for the opening session.

Physical education activities for underclassmen must include International Dance, Basic Skills, one individual, dual, or aquatic sport, and one team sport.

Wildcats Bounce Portland State To Avenge Loss

After giving up a 25-14 decision to the Whitman Missionaries the week before, the Central Wildcats bounced back to win over the Portland State College Vikings with a score of 23-6 at Rodeo Field, Saturday, Sept. 29.

Central's first score came four minutes after they opened the game with the kickoff to Portland. The quarterback for the Vikings, Harvey Neffendorf, fumbled the ball on his own 26 during the first play of the game. The ball was recovered for Central by tackle Dave Carnahan, and after five Wildcat plays halfback Bud Snaza circled right end for the touchdown. Chuck Ewer's try-for-point kick was blocked.

Shortly after the second Central kick-off the Cats picked up two more points when Viking player Curtis Knight fumbled and recovered in his own end zone.

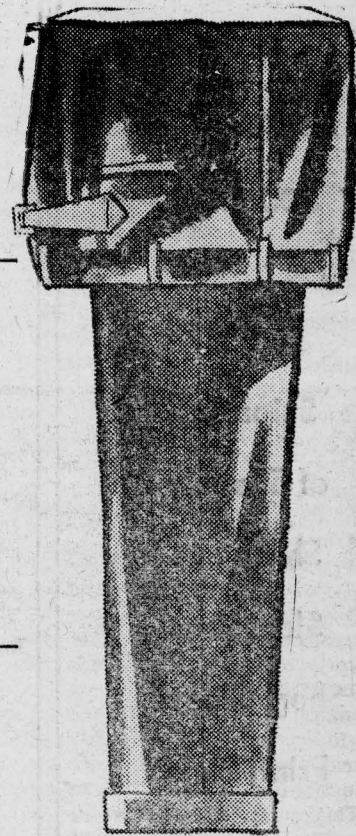

In the last four minutes of the first half the Cat team topped a 70 yard march with a 36 yard pass from Snaza to end Joe Kominski. Ewers booted the ball through the uprights to make the score 15-0.

Central's final score came in the fourth quarter when center Dale Lannegan's pass interception and a fifteen yard penalty against Portland cleared the way for the Cat touchdown machine to the one yard line. Halfback Bob Landon ran it to pay dirt on the next play.

The first time that the University of British Columbia played basketball here against Ellensburg Normal was in the 1932-33 season.

Wildcats Upset Whitworth Eleven to Gain Crucial Opening Victory

The fighting Central Washington Wildcats dumped the mighty Whitworth Pirates of Spokane last Saturday night by the score of 19-7. Thus ended a fabulous 20-game winning streak compiled by the Pirates, the second longest win streak in the nation.

The Pirates, 1954 and 1955 champs, had not lost a single game since way back in 1953. The inspired Wildcats, making their 1956 conference opening appearance after marking up a 1-1 non-conference record, played for the breaks, got them, and came out on top.

Determination Big Factor
Determination to win was the deciding factor of the upset. The "big red line" contributed greatly to the Central cause by hampering the highly-touted passing arm of Don Price, a fine passing letterman, and by standing out on defense. The Wildcat line was outweighed ten pounds per man by the Whitworthians but made up the difference in fight.

Thrasher, Snaza Spark Cats
Fullback Jim Thrasher played an outstanding game, if any of the Cats can be singled out of the tremendous team effort. Besides intercepting three passes at crucial moments, Thrasher "thrashed" through the tackle spot for a 46-yard touchdown jaunt in the third quarter for the second

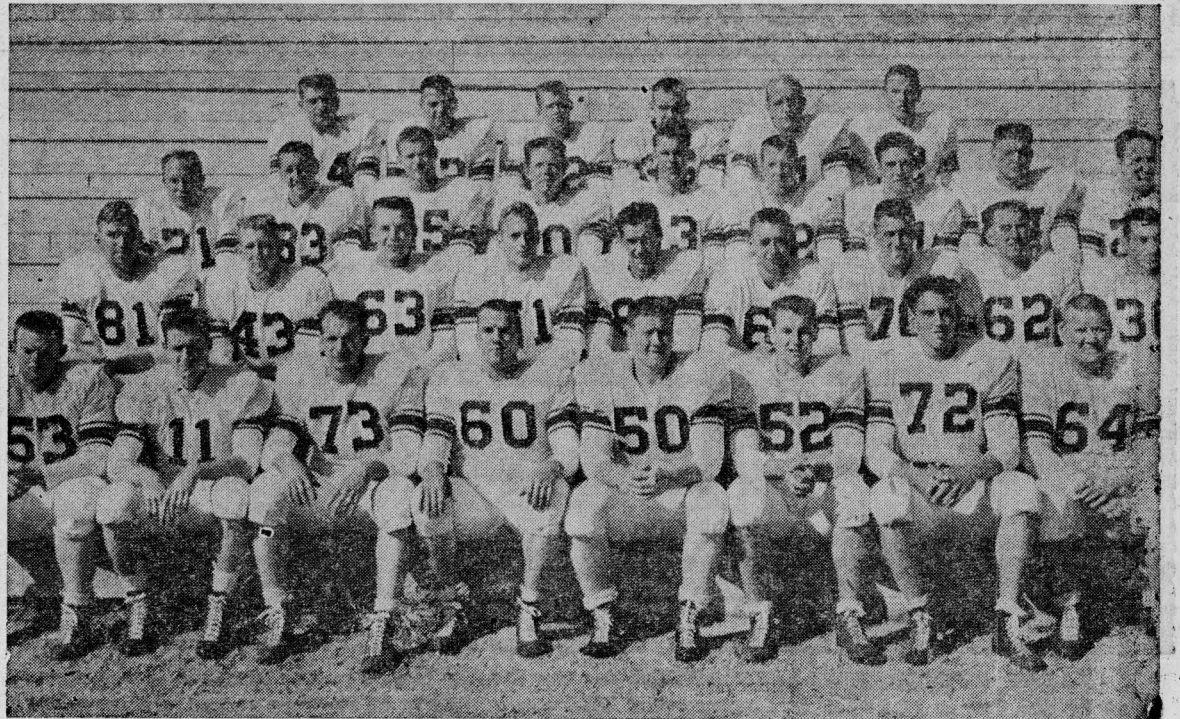

Wildcat TD. Quarterback Bud Snaza passed 30 yards to Joe Kominski in the end zone to open the Wildcat scoring in the first quarter and bucked over from the three-yard line to account for Central's third and final TD in the third quarter. Jim Baggett booted the conversion on the last six-pointer.

Whitworth's only score came in the third period and was set up when a bad pass from center fouled up a Central punt play on fourth down and the Whits took over on the Cat 29-yard line. Halfback Al Paulson rambled around end on the next play and went all the way to tally the Pirates' only touchdown of the game.

Popular girls' activities at Ellensburg Normal in the 1930's were dance drama, tennis, stunts and tumbling, basketball, golf, clogging, gymnastics, lawn bowling, archery, swimming, fencing, badminton, and hockey.

Ellensburg Normal won their opening game of their 1932 season by a 78-0 margin over the University of Spokane.

MEET THE WILDCATS:

Coach Leo Nichol's son, Dean, holds two basketball scoring records at Central, including the most points in four seasons, 1373, and the highest average for one season, 14.8 points per game.

In the 1940's, Central Washington College had an organized golf team coached by Leo Nichol.

Central's tennis courts used to be situated where the Student Union Building is now located.

L. G. "Clipper" Carmody was elected to play in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco on New Year's Day, 1947, and is the only Central player to ever gain the honor.

Portrait: Carnahan Tough In Wildcat Line

Central's big veteran tackle, Dave Carnahan, heads this week's Sportrait. The rangy lad is going for his second football letter in the crimson and black this season as mainstay in the Wildcat line. Dave prepped at Morton High School, where he won letters in every sport possible. On the gridiron, of course, he picked up three numerals, helped his team to the co-championship in 1951, and was elected All-Conference offensive and defensive tackle in his senior year.

Other sports came just as naturally to this big boy. He lettered twice as center of his basketball team, winning All-Conference honors as a senior; picked up three numerals in baseball as a catcher and first baseman; and added a letter in track as a senior, taking third in the county in the shot put. He was awarded the school Athletic Award in his final year at the Lewis County school.

Dave missed his football letter by just four quarters as a frosh at Central, but he came back strong last year to earn his big "W". This year, barring injury, he looks like a cinch to repeat. The big boy hits hard and is plenty tough in the line. He can also punt if needed.

"I feel that this year's team is a vast improvement over our last two teams at Central," Dave said, "both in ability and spirit and desire to win. We'll be giving every team in the league a battle this season," he added.

The 20 year old junior is majoring in industrial arts, with history and PE minors. He plans on pending a hitch in the Air Force after graduation, then teaching. Dave was married just this last summer to Donna Van Depitte.

The team which accomplished this in the shortest time won the event.
