GIVING IRENE ENZ, SUMMER secretary, a few pointers on the letter she is typing is Soren Sorenson, general chairman of the student government association for the summer quarter. During the rest of the year Sorenson is the SGA treasurer.

Sorenson Heads New SGA Group

Student government at Central is in what could be called hibernation for the summer. Heading up the organization during this period is Soren Sorenson, summer chairman. Sorenson is the SGA treasurer during the rest of the year.

"About all that I have to do is to take care of the mail, requisitions and projects which will be completed during the summer," he said.

Aiding Sorenson in the position of summer secretary is Irene Enz.

Presently an activities booklet covering all the organizations which a new student may join and the Frosh Handbook are in the works, Sorenson said.

Other business concerning Sorenson is preparation for the National Student Association's National Congress. The congress will be held at the University of Indiana in Bloomington, Sorenson said.

Those attending the Congress will be Jim Talbert and Joyce Russell, NSA co-coordinators, Sorenson, SGA treasurer, Jim Fielder, SGA executive vice president, Roger Gray, social vice president, and Linda Mahler, SGA secretary.

Several Buildings Gain New Names

New names were announced for four buildings on campus at the graduation ceremonies on June 8, Dr. James Brooks, college president said.

The new name for the College auditorium is the Robert McConnell auditorium. McConnell was college president from 1931 until 1960. The address at the graduation ceremonies was given by McConnell.

The Amanda Hebler college elementary school is the official title for the college elementary school. The newly remodeled old library has been named Seldon Smyser hall. The old classroom building adjoining Seldon Smyser hall has been named Reginald Shaw hall.

Hours, Purposes Given For Counseling Center

Counseling for students who face decisions or experience difficulties in educational, vocational or personal areas is available at the Counseling Center located in room 106 of the old music building, John Silva, director of testing and counseling said.

A career information library is maintained at the Counseling Center. Summer office hours for the Counseling Center will be 7:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m. daily.

SGA Council Approves Budget Under New Procedural Policy

The Student Government Association Council approved the budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year at the last meeting of the Council spring quarter, Soren Sorenson, SGA treasurer and summer chairman, said.

The method and form of budgeting for the newly completed SGA budget has changed this past year, Sorenson said.

Budget Passes Groups

Under the new system those groups who seek SGA monies must submit and have passed by the SGA Budget Committee a complete line item budget based on those submitted by the departments of the college.

Those areas like varsity sports which receive money from the college budget as well as SGA must pass both the college budget committee and the SGA committee, Sorenson said.

Another change in the system is that it is now planned on a biennium. In the past it has been on a year to year basis.

"This change was made to allow for more long range planning," Sorenson said.

Money Use Shown

With the new system it allows both the SGA and the college to know just how much of their money is being used and where it is going, he said.

It is estimated on figures from the Business office that the income for the first half of the biennium beginning July 1 will be $119,250. For the second fiscal year of this biennium beginning July 1, 1964 the total is expected to increase to $130,827, Sorenson said.

For the first half of the upcoming biennium $100,000 of the income will come from the SGA fees and $19,250 from other sources like athletics, $6,500; homecoming, $1,500, and drama, $1,000.

Sports Get Share

As in the past the athletic department got the biggest share of the SGA monies with a total of $42,082. The one big change was in SGA General, Sorenson said. Last year this section of the budget totaled $32,830. For the first biennium of the new budget, this section will equal only $13,325.

The reason for this drop is that sections like homecoming, Community Concert, entertainment, and the Mock Political Convention, which were in the past lumped into SGA General, no longer are a part of it, Sorenson said. These sections of the budget now are entities unto themselves.

Frosh Exhibit Roll Depletion

The latest enrollment statistics released from the registrar's office show that things are getting rough at Central. Rough staying at Central that is.

From the record total of 1,072 freshmen who enrolled fall quarter in 1962, the number went down to 656 by spring quarter.

On the other hand, sophomore enrollment increased from 463 fall quarter to 515 winter quarter and took a drop back down to 450 spring quarter.

Juniors Maintain Level

Junior enrollment maintained the steady level with 530 students fall quarter to 515 winter quarter and is up to 572 for spring quarter.

Senior enrollment, doing a turn about from freshman enrollment increased steadily throughout the year from 395 fall quarter to 484 winter quarter to 531 spring quarter, a total increase of 136 enrollments.

From 1955, certain trends seem to have been established in enrollment figures. Freshman enrollment steadily decreases every quarter with a drop out of approximately 200 students every year until this year's record drop of 416 students.

Sophomore Trend Given

The trend in sophomore enrollment seems to be a slight increase or decrease in enrollment winter quarter, and then a drop spring quarter, sometimes more than 100 students, below the other two quarters' enrollments.

Junior enrollment figures show a definite trend of increase of students winter quarter over fall quarter and then a slight drop spring quarter.

Senior enrollment has increased every quarter every year from 1955 to 1962. This could possibly be attributed to student teaching and the credit system of determining class standing.

Under the credit system of determining class rank, many students who are seniors in residence or quarters attended would not reach senior standing until winter or spring quarter of their fourth year.

Failure To Question Injures U.S. Evolutionary Progress

Fear of change is a disease which seems to be present in the makeup of many of the members of the American society. If one were to say in public that he felt 100 years from now the United States would be very difficult to recognize, the shouts and cries of Communist, traitor and un-American would rise thick and fast.

A feeling seems to have evolved that the United States is perfect or near perfect. Nothing can be done to change it to make it better, therefore, to seek or expect changes are considered bad. If there is a disease connected with this kind of feeling, it is the feeling itself.

The world today is changing very quickly. Almost all will agree with this statement, but when they direct the thought of change to the U.S. they deny change. This is absurd. Why should the world change with the exception of the U.S. A country changes whether its populace wants it to or not. The only question that needs to be answered is in what way will this change occur.

To help make the changes the best possible, people should not be dissuaded from questioning and working for a change they feel would be beneficial. It is only through questioning and re-evaluating that improvements can be made.

This procedure of questioning should be instilled in the populace so that the process is automatic and continuing. It should be taught in the schools and homes.

Central's Ad Building Needs New Fire Safety Equipment

Fire safety and prevention are taught to people from the time they are old enough to comprehend what fire safety means. At Central, however, fire safety seems to some extent to have been forgotten.

The Administration building, one of the oldest structures on the campus, is a good example of what a building should be to be dangerous. Although mostly wood and four stories high, there is no fire escape on the building. On the fourth floor there are not even any fire hoses or extinguishers.

The stairwells in the building are made of wood and will make almost perfect drafts for any fire. With fires coming up the stairwells, just where are the people in the top of the building to go? Out the windows! Jumping from a fourth story window does not give a person much chance for living.

It can be argued that there is not money to do the remodeling necessary to add the required equipment, but is this an answer. Somewhere that money must be found. If it is not and the required work done, a fire some day in that building could lead to a disaster which could do immeasurable harm to life as well as property.

It is time to get the Administration building equipped with the proper safety equipment before something happens which everyone will regret.

Club Forms Plans

Firsthand opportunities in the studying and investigation of various securities and a vote in the selection of the securities will be given to the members of the Business and Economics Club and some classes with the formation of the CWSC Business and Economics Scholarship Fund, Inc., Ted Walters, president, said.

The purpose of the corporation is to gather funds, either loans or gifts of money or securities, and invest them in securities.

Central's Student Wives Form New Organization

The newly formed Student Wives club will meet Tuesday, July 9, in room 208 of the CUB at 7:30 p.m., Sharon Marble, club president said.

A guest speaker will be present at the meeting. As of this time the speaker has not been decided upon, Mrs. Marble said.

Any wife of a Central student is welcome to come to the meetings of the organization, she said.

Teacher Program Tests Scheduled For July 11

The teacher education screening tests have been scheduled for Thursday, July 11, John Silva, director of testing and counseling said.

All students planning to take these tests should sign the rosters posted in the education-psychology division, Black hall, 2nd floor. Students in doubt as to whether or not they need to take these tests should check with the teacher education secretary.

CWSC Grad Club To Hear Speaker

Reverend Donald Cramer of the Ellensburg Methodist Church will be the featured speaker at the first meeting of Central's Grad Club, July 8 in the Grupe center.

"This will be the beginning of summer activities for the club," James Quann director of student activities said.

The group under the chairmanship of Allen Gustafson has also scheduled a picnic on August 7. This will be from 5-7 p.m. at a location as yet undetermined. All grad students, alumni, faculty and their families are invited to attend, Quann said.

The group plans to hold a dance with live music and a night club atmosphere, however the date for this event is as yet undetermined.

This club will give graduate students an opportunity to mingle with their colleagues and the faculty, Quann concluded.

Time Change Set For CUB

The College Union Building serves as a "home away from home" for many Central students throughout the college year. Summer is no exception.

The CUB will offer a variety of activities for the summer student including bingo, bridge instruction, square dancing, art exhibits and cycling.

The CUB is one of the few air-conditioned buildings on campus which possibly explains part of its popularity. Students with any questions concerning summer activities should contact the CUB activities office, James Quann, student activities director said.

Summer hours for the CUB are:

INTERESTED IN THE COMING ASSEMBLY on the Korean dance are Karen Lambson (left) and Sandy Hertz. This assembly presenting Kyung Cho, is one in a series planned for the summer session. The Korean dance assembly will be Wednesday, July 10 in the Robert McConnell auditorium at 8 p.m.

Summer Fun Set By CUB

Special emphasis is being placed on the family in this summer's recreation program, James Quann director of student activities said.

Family features include swimming every afternoon from 3:30-4:30 p.m. in the pavilion. In addition the pool will be open for the family Wednesday from 6:30-8 p.m. and Saturday from 3:30-5 p.m.

A CUB summer feature is the Bingo games held Monday and Thursday in the Cage. The Monday date is reserved strictly for children, no adults allowed. On the same token, the Thursday night games are only for adults.

Bridge lessons will be offered in the CUB, room 204 on July 9, 11, 16, 18, 23 and 25. A professional instructor will provide the lessons for beginners.

Students and staff members are eligible to sign up for the lessons in the CUB office. A maximum of 28 students can receive instruction.

Special tournaments will be held throughout the summer (table tennis, billiards, chess, bridge, bowling). Children will be permitted to use CUB game room facilities (except the pool tables.) Bicycles are available to students any day during CUB hours.

Each Tuesday CUB visitors will be presented with a piano interlude complete with refreshments. The first program was given June 25 by Mike Kysar an undergraduate at Central. Following the Tuesday piano interlude will be an alternating program. July 9 a square dance will be held in the ballroom. The next Tuesday a Forthright Review will be presented. This will feature a faculty member discussing a best-seller, of his choice. The audience will be encouraged to participate in the discussion following the review.

Anyone having questions concerning summer activities may secure information in the CUB directors office, Quann concluded.

Crier Staff Selects Members

Patty Deane and Doug Anderson have been added to the staff of the Campus Crier for this summer session, Jim Talbert, crier editor said.

Miss Deane was a member of the copy desk of the paper spring quarter. Anderson is new to the staff.

The Crier will be tabloid size and come out every two weeks during summer session. During the rest of the school year, the newspaper is five columns in size and is printed once a week, Talbert said.

Those wishing to get stories into the Crier must have their informa-

Pool Reopens For Summer

The Leo Nicholson pool will be open Monday at 3:30 p.m., James Quann, director of student activities said. The pool has been closed since the final day of finals last Spring quarter.

Bearings in the underwater motor which runs the filtering system for the pool broke down, he said. Because the water no longer ran through the filters, the bacteria count in the water quickly rose to a level above the maximum standards set by the health department. Therefore, the pool was closed.

The pool will be open to children from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. on weekdays, 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Wednesdays, and 3:30 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, Quann said.

Adults will be able to use the pool from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays, 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Wednesdays, and 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Like most pools, the Nicholson pool has certain rules which must be followed, Quann said. These are: swimmers must supply their own suits and towels, and women must wear bathing caps. No food or drinks will be allowed in the pool area or dressing rooms. No smoking is allowed in the dressing rooms or pool area. Running around the pool is prohibited and no street clothing will be allowed in the pool area.

Further rules: horseplay is prohibited, non-swimmers must stay in the shallow end of the pool, no one can swim alone, one person on the diving board at a time, no diving off the side of the diving board, no conversing with the life guards, no swim fins, masks, beach balls, or other swim-aids in or near the pool, and admission to the pool will be by swim pass only.

Agate Search Valley Appeal

Central is not the only attraction in the town of Ellensburg! It is also the haven of rockhounds.

The Ellensburg blue agate is found northwest of Ellensburg. The agate became popular to collectors about 1930. Since then people have come from all around to search for the agate.

The history behind the blue agate dates back to the geologic period known as Eocene, when lava flows began to build up. This lava is known as Teanaway and is the host rock for the blue agate. This rock is clearly visible to the eye and appears a reddish brown on the outside. Once the reddish brown is taken off, a brilliant blue agate is seen.

The only known use of the agates has been for show and for jewelry. The first commercial use of the agate began in an Ellensburg jewelry store, in 1913.

Want to find an Ellensburg blue agate? Here are a few simple steps to find one.

Check out for a weekend . . .
Stock up with plenty of energy . . .
Get a car . . . optional
Drive to Reecer and Dry Creek road . . .
And Good Luck . . .

Sorry, but blue agates have no set value. The reward is owning the rare gem.

Summer Activities Slated For Students, Families

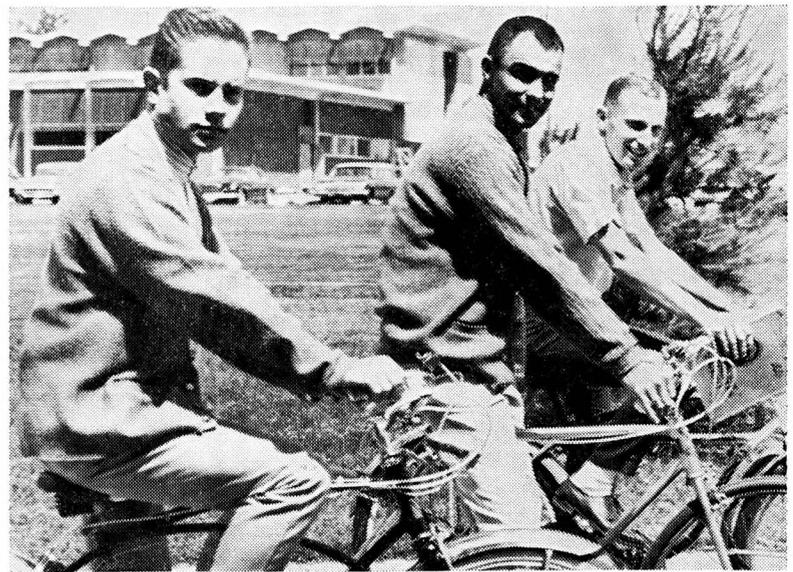

WHAT WAS ONCE NOTHING BUT OLD SHEDS AND CHICKEN COOPS will soon be the campus picnic area. The picnic area located north of Kennedy hall will include lawn picnic tables and benches, game areas and both indoor and outdoor fireplaces. A classroom will be enclosed in glass for the recreation classes. Looking over the area in hopes of planning a picnic in the near future is Charles Wiley. The picnic area can be reserved by signing up in the office of the director of student activities.

PRACTICING FOR THE START OF league play is Doug Anderson. Bowling is another aspect in the summer recreation program being coordinated by James Quann. The bowling leagues will run the entire summer session. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

ALL THAT THESE FELLOWS HAD to do to obtain these bicycles for the afternoon was leave their student government cards in the student activities director's office. Out to get their exercise by riding around the block are (from left) Kenny Krintz, Harry Nelson and Morris Pederson.

THE CAGE IN THE CUB IS A convenient gathering place for those who want to get together over a cup of coffee or glass of lemonade during summer quarter as well as the rest of the year. Relaxing after a class are (from left) Bob Torney; Stanley Dudley, assistant professor of industrial arts and Maynard Oliver.

AMONG THOSE USING THE GAME ROOM in the College Union Building this summer will be the sons and daughters of students and faculty at Central. Rallying for the serve in a new ping-pong game are Chuck Irwin (left) and Ty Koontz. Waiting to play the winner is Don Clausen. All equipment in the game room except pool is available free to children with a swim pass.
