MOCK POLITICAL CONVENTION — Tonight at 6 p.m. and continuing tomorrow Central students will participate in the second mock political convention. The convention will be held in Nicholson pavilion.

Mock Political Convenes Today

BY HOWARD JOHNSON

Several hundred "novice politicians" will get their feet wet this weekend as the second SGA Mock Political Convention gets underway tonight.

In actuality, two conventions will be held at Nicholson pavilion. Republican delegates will gather in the varsity gymnasium and Democrat delegates will convene in the field house portion of the pavilion.

Key interest in the convention centers around the nomination of a Republican presidential candidate and a Democrat running mate for President Lyndon Johnson.

Keynote addresses will kick off the action this evening, with Dan Evans, Republican state representative from 43rd district of King County, and John J. O'Connell, state attorney general, speaking to all the delegates in a joint session at 8 p.m.

Convention delegates will gather at 6 p.m. to draw up platforms for their respective parties.

Tomorrow morning will find the delegates engaged in a joint session at 9 for the formal opening of the convention. After the invocation, the national anthem, the presentation of colors, and introduction of dignitaries, at 10 a.m. William Stinson (R) congressman from Washington's seventh congressional district, will present "A Critical Analysis of the Kennedy Johnson Administration." Stinson is also expected to discuss the major Republican presidential candidates.

Immediately following Stinson's speech, the joint group will hear Ralph Harding (D) from Idaho's second congressional district. He is expected to deliver a "Democratic 'Call-to-Arms or Rally' speech," according to Tom Sokol, convention chairman.

Following the Saturday morning speeches, the delegations will separate for a day or heated action which should culminate in the nomination of presidential tickets for the two parties.

Nominating speeches will be delivered by students at the convention.

Two veteran legislators, Norman Ackley, (D) from Seattle, and 31st district representative to the state legislature, and Donald Moos, (R) from the eighth district, will preside as chairmen of the Democratic and Republican conventions respectively.

The convention will end with a semi-formal dance in the CUB tomorrow night from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Sokol announced that spectators are welcome at any of the convention activities.

Potluck Dinner Slated

The awarding of a hind quarter of beef will be the main event of the Student Wives potluck dinner Paula Grant, vice president of the group said.

The dinner will be held at the Methodist church March 8 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Coach Selected To Hall Of Fame

By Mike Ingraham
Crier Sports Editor

Leo Nicholson, Central basketball coach will be inducted into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Basketball Hall of Fame next Friday in Kansas City, Mo. This is the second high honor bestowed on the veteran coach in recent years. In 1961, the Central Washington gymnasium was named in his honor.

Dr. James E. Brooks, President, said, "we here at Central Washington are very proud that a greatly respected member of our faculty has been honored by the National Association of

Coach Leo Nicholson

Intercollegiate Athletics by being elected to the NAIA Hall of Fame as a coach of basketball.

"Coach Nicholson has made a great number of contributions to this institution, to our conference, to the NAIA District No. 1, and to the success of the NAIA on the national level. He has served this state, this institution and his profession with great distinction for thirty-four years. He has brought great recognition to this college, not only because of his fine record in basketball but because of the excellent example that he has set in college teaching and leadership."

A. H. Poffenroth, chairman of the department of health, physical education and recreation echoed similar sentiments concerning Nicholson's honor.

"Mr. Nicholson has given so much of himself not only to Central Washington but also to coaching and the men who have played under him. He is very deserving of this honor. Our division has the greatest respect and admiration for Mr. Nicholson and we are all very happy over his selection," Poffenroth said.

Bob Logue and Erling Oakland, Central administrators both competed in athletics under Nicholson and expressed

Board Approves 'Clean' Day Loses Fight Fees Increase

A change of special student fees was approved by the Board of Trustees at the meeting last Saturday at Central.

The change includes a student fee increase to $8 per credit with a minimum of $16, and definition of part-time or special student as those who enroll for six or less credits. Previously the cost was $10 plus $3 per credit hour, and the special or part-time student was one enrolled with five or less credits.

The combination spring-scrub and Sweezy Day plans have been dropped.

The action was taken on the advice of the Social Activities Council, which noted that the date set for Sweezy Day was too late in the school year for the cleaning activities to be of much benefit. Sweezy Day will again be a day of fun and games and freedom from any "scrubbing" activities.

If a scrub day was held, it should be early in the quarter so that it would be beneficial to Parents' Weekend, Senior Day, and Sweezy Day the council said. The SGA Council expressed a desire that either the Social Activities Council or a Student Planning Council plan a clean-up day for earlier in the quarter.

A proposal for combining clean-up activities with Sweezy Day activities was recently approved by SGA. This decision reverses the earlier one. The "spring scrub" was originally proposed by SGA representative Bev Devine.

Two Positions Filled

Allen Named By Student Publications Board For Campus Crier's New Editor-In-Chief

Paul Allen has been named Editor-in-chief of the Crier for fall, winter, and spring quarters of the 1964-65 school year.

"I feel that as editor I could put out an effective and interesting newspaper for the student body in a manner compatible with the best journalistic traditions," Allen said.

Members of the Student Publication Committee met Feb. 27 to elect the new editor. Those vying for the job were Paul Allen, Mike Ingraham, and Howard Johnson.

All candidates submitted formal applications listing their qualifications, and information pertaining to the operation and function of the Crier as a successful college newspaper. They also were present for a question and answer discussion put to them by members of the Student Publication Committee.

Members of the committee are: Joyce Russell, editor of the Crier; Anthony Canedo, advisor of Hyakem; Laura Hewins, secretary of student publication committee; Thelma Wilson, dept. of education; Soren Sorenson, SGA treasurer; Mr. Quann, director of student activities; John Herum, advisor of the Crier; Don Sharp, business manager of Crier and Hyakem and Terry Eade, editor of Hyakem.

Voting was done by quarters with Allen, Ingraham, Johnson running for Editor-in-chief fall quarter; Allen and Ingraham for winter and Allen, Ingraham, and Johnson for spring quarter.

Other staff positions, filed through application, will be selected by John Herum, advisor of the Crier; Paul Allen, editor-in-chief; and Don Sharp, business manager of Crier.

Students Accused Of Apathy

What have you personally done to destroy segregation? Last quarter the Crier published an advertisement by the Dallas County Citizens Council asking what you had done to maintain segregation.

Have you personally done anything to destroy or maintain segregation? You may feel that there is nothing that you can do in Washington where you are so far away from the problem of segregation. This is a mistaken idea. Have you written to your senators urging the passage of the Civil Rights Bill now in the Senate? Have you even discussed the Bill with your parents or any of your friends?

If you have done nothing to destroy segregation, you have made it easier for those who wish to maintain segregation. Those who disagree with the Civil Rights Bill have sent in more mail to the legislators from this area than those in favor of it. Those against something will fight to defeat it, but those in favor will sit back and assume that it will pass without their help.

Are you personally in favor of segregation? If you are not, why not do something to show where you stand?

Loyalty Oath Repeal Asked

Loyalty is based upon ideas and cannot be legislated or created by slogans. Historically loyalty oaths and disclaimer affidavits have been a source of much abuse.

They are subject to disapproval because they do not serve their purpose. No subversive bent on destroying the government would have any qualms upon signing a loyalty oath. On the other hand, loyal Americans who refuse to sign because of principle are singled out by the oaths.

There is also a threat to academic freedom because the requirements of signing a loyalty oath implies that a college student or faculty member is disloyal until he makes a positive statement expressing his loyalty. This requirement does not indicate a belief in the basic loyalty of American college students and faculty members.

A student's or faculty member's refusal to sign because of principles unfortunately results in suspicion of disloyalty. This has happened to 60 University of Washington professors who refused to sign the oath.

The loyalty oaths are discriminatory. College students and faculty members are singled out to sign loyalty oaths to receive federal aid, whereas other recipients such as farmers do not have to sign such oaths.

State and municipal laws requiring loyalty oaths as a condition of employment of either student or faculty employment should be repealed.

Zack Time . . .

Well Zack made it through that traumatic and expensive experience, the Military Ball. He had a good time, but is broke for the rest of the quarter, or at least until a CARE package from his parents arrives.

Zack has found a new cause to fight against—"creeping IBM-ism." In this election year with all the creeping "ism's" being detracted, deplored and downright having nasty things said about them, Zack searched and found an "ism" on Central's campus. It seems as though the age of machines is pushing into the province of art—or at least into the oil painting studio of the art department.

The spacious, well-lighted, roomy studio in the basement of the Ad building is being invaded en masse by chattering, whirring, clanking members of IBM's finest. Students in the art department are reportedly forming an underground resistance force with the aid of English majors who are likewise afraid of being replaced by machines.

However, like all fear-formed alliances the resistance force has its problems. Some art majors feel that computers can write better than the English majors. The English majors feel that by attaching brushes properly, the machines could turn out better art than any they've seen in the CUB.

Nevertheless, both camps feel the domain of the literati is being invaded and are presently appealing to the SPCA (Society for the prevention of cruelty to artists). They can't find the honor council.

On the national scene, Zack feels that this "Beatlemania" has gotten completely out of hand. Being an average, late sleeping student, Zack is sometimes unable to comb his hair before going to class. In the past, nobody noticed such a minor detail, now, he is subjected to all sorts of cutting remarks about following the crowd, being a conformist, and continually being told how silly his Beatle wig looks.

Although he is modest about his organizational ability, word has leaked out that Zack is planning a big party for all the old and new SGA executives. He got the idea from WWSC. The party calls for lots of drinks, lots of noise, one irate neighbor, and lots of police, and lots of suspensions. (Zack still feels student government is corrupt since he didn't get elected and is setting out to prove it.) Formation of a bachelor club to throw the party is now in progress.

Resort Plea Heard Here

To the Editor:

The city of Seaside welcomes all visitors. We are a resort town and a large part of our economy depends upon the tourists. However, like any other community, we have certain rules and regulations that must be observed to maintain order and decency within our city.

During the past spring vacation and Labor Day holidays, numerous arrests of students were made. Some of these arrests could possibly be attributed to ignorance of the law, but the vast majority were caused by carelessness and thoughtlessness.

All persons arrested by our police department for crimes other than traffic violations are fingerprinted and photographed and copies are sent to the FBI in Washington. Later when persons that have been arrested, attempt to obtain employment or officially enter a profession, this record will inevitably come to light and it may well be the cause of failing to obtain the position sought. Our police department frequently receives letters from young people who were arrested here, requesting that the record of their arrest be destroyed so that they will be accepted for whatever position they are applying. Unfortunately, we are unable to do this.

This letter is being sent to you in the hope that you will read it, understand it and appreciate the viewpoint of we who are sending it to you. The following are some of the rules and regulations that are included in our city ordinances as laws, violations of which caused the arrest of the greater number of young people. These laws are not directed at any specific group of people, but are laws that everyone residing in or visiting our community must obey. In the interest of brevity, these are listed as DO NOTS:

1. Do not drink intoxicating beverages on streets or sidewalks.
2. Do not have intoxicating beverages in your possession if you are under 21 years of age or attempt to obtain any by use of false identification.
3. Do not mark your car with any writings, designs, figures or pictures that could be considered obscene or indecent or dress in a manner that could be so considered.
4. Do not trespass on private property such as motels or hotels without the consent of the owner or manager or gather in crowds on public property so as to obstruct the free flow of vehicular and pedestrian traffic.
5. Do not drink to such an extent that you become intoxicated.
6. Do not litter the beach or street with beer cans and other rubbish.
7. Do not use profane and indecent language in public.
8. Do not injure or destroy either public or private property.
9. Do not come prepared to camp out on the beach while you are here as this is not allowed.
10. Do not attempt to obtain lodging at motels or hotels if you are a juvenile and unchaperoned.

The traffic ordinances of the city of Seaside are for the most part similar to those in your

'Where Are We' Asks L. Lomax At Conference

Five representatives from Central were among the more than 300 college students who attended a conference on civil equality at Pomona College in Claremont, Calif. last week.

Listening to addresses by well known civil rights leaders, and participating in seminar discussions on civil rights, were Joyce Russell, Charles and Elizabeth Abney, Howard Johnson and Dr. Virgil Olson. The Central delegation left Ellensburg by car Wednesday afternoon and returned the following Monday evening. Central's NSA sponsored the group.

Highlights of the conference were speeches by James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE); James Forman, executive director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC); Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, semanticist from San Francisco State College; Louis Lomax, author of "The Negro Revolt;" and Peter Countryman, youthful founder of the Northern Student Movement.

Conference delegates spent the three days on the Pomona campus listening to 10 major addresses and discussing various aspects of civil equality in more than 36 seminars on such topics as "Apathy of the Negro," "Where do Whites Fit into the Civil Rights Struggle," "Adult Education for Citizenship," and "Why has Civil Rights Exploded Now."

Keynote speaker Louise Lomax addressed himself to the question "Where are We?"

"We are a few hamburgers and bathrooms down the road from where we were three or four years ago," Lomax commented.

Discussing the southern white, Lomax commented that he has been doing wrong so long he thinks it's right to do wrong.

"Where are we?" Lomax asked, "We are almost at the end of nonviolence." Prefacing his remarks that these were his own opinions, and that no one Negro speaks for the Negro people, Lomax remarked that the antithesis of nonviolence is self-defense, and that somewhere in the near future the Negro will defend himself thus abandoning the Gandhian role of passive resistance.

James Forman spoke to an audience of some 2,000 made up of delegates and spectators. His topic was "Demonstrations."

"The student movement and demonstrations galvanize pub-home area. The speed limits are posted on streets where a speed in excess of 25 miles per hour is allowed. Do not ride on any other part of a vehicle other than the seat.

We, the people of the city of Seaside, will be happy to have any of you visit here at any time. All we ask is that you respect the rights of others as we are sure you do in your own town.

H. K. Healea
Chief of Police

lic opinion," Forman stated. "The students have given America hope," he added.

Forman remarked the SNCC members have been beaten and jailed in their agitations against the "white power structure," but that their basic tenet of nonviolence still holds.

Forman himself has been arrested eight times, and only two weeks ago was released from jail in Atlanta where he had been arrested for participating in an SNCC campaign there against segregation in restaurants.

"This is not just the Negroes' problem. The Negro did not create the problem, nor can he solve the problem," Forman said.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, spoke on where the whites fit in the civil rights struggle.

"The most dangerous thing about prejudice in the north is that northern whites don't know that they have it," Farmer stated.

Farmer feels that the Negro's attitude toward whites has changed because his image of himself is changing. A feeling of anger and bitterness created during the war has grown. Negroes felt bitter during the war because they were fighting to defend freedoms they did not have.

Farmer stated his belief that fair housing laws should pass.

"When property right come into conflict with human rights, human rights must prevail," he said.

Peter Countryman said that the urban Negro ghetto breeds psychological and political powerlessness. The civil rights movements give the Negro the desire to be free.

Countryman noted a tremendous potential racism in the poor white.

"People with specialized skills who are willing to commit their lives, if necessary, are needed," he said.

The semanticist from San Francisco State College, S. I. Hayakawa, said that "Negro" is a word being disowned by both the black and the white. He noted that even those who are proud of being black will not call themselves Negro, but refer to themselves as Muslims.

"Television spread with great rapidity among the Negroes," Hayakawa said. It provided entertainment to take the place of the Jim Crow theaters.

Television addresses the entire community because it is too expensive to be supported by a minority, but it ignores the Negro. It does not tell them places they can not go because of their color, Hayakawa said.

Mattis Chooses Lundberg 'Top'

The outstanding SGA Council member for 1963-64 was announced at the SGA Inauguration Banquet last Monday.

"After much thought, I chose one who is often in disagreement with the rest of the Council because he speaks for the minority," Jim Mattis, former SGA president, said when he announced the selection of Ron Lundberg as the outstanding member.

Raising many questions on the reasons of student government, Donald Duncan, dean of men, spoke on "Why Student Government?" Dean Duncan stated that student government may be a learning experience for those in leadership positions, but was it worthwhile for other students? He questioned that those at the banquet were simply there for mutual admiration.

After the new officers were sworn in by Dr. E. E. Samuelson, dean of students, the outgoing officers presented the new ones with some symbols of their office.

Mrs. Linda Frost presented the new SGA secretary, Miss Cleo Kirkpatrick with the traditional pen and paper and then added a small bottle of aspirin that she would no longer be needing.

Roger Gray gave Mike Kysar, new social activities vice president, a chain of keys and a sign saying "Concert Cancelled" to wear in case of emergency.

The new executive vice president Terry Eggers received a book on political science from Jim Fielder who explained that Eggers would be in charge of the Political Affairs Commission in the coming year. He then gave him a freshman beanie which might help him while working on freshman orientation.

Jim Mattis gave the symbol of the president's office, a gavel, to Jim Fielder. He also gave him a copy of Robert's Rules of Order for times when things get "tense."

Spring Quarter Procedure Set

If students have not already prepared for spring quarter's registration, they should do so now. Enos Underwood, registrar, said.

According to Underwood about 3200 students will register next quarter, it is wise not to delay preparations for next quarter.

All students who have not seen their advisers must do so today, Underwood said.

At the same time students should take care of any financial obligations at the business office. Obligations must be cleared before grades will be sent out.

CWS Lists NWS Rally

The Northwest Student Association's spring convention will be held in conjunction with CWSC's third annual symposium this year, Jim Mattis, NWSA president, stated this week.

The two day convention will be held here on April 24 and 25. Opening the annual affair will be speakers Jim Mattis and Dr. James E. Brooks, president of CWSC, at a welcome and orientation assembly. Throughout the convention, delegates will have the opportunity to participate in the "Man Worshipping" symposium, Mattis said.

An orientation of executive officers and legislators and an orientation to the philosophy of student governments will highlight the convention.

Various seminars will be held in four main conferences. Topics for the seminars will be freshman orientation, campus judiciaries, elections, role and responsibility of the campus paper, college book stores and speaker's policies. Also to be discussed are community projects, inter-school exchanges (drama and music productions and college bowls) and the student's role in academic policy, including course evaluation, he said.

A general meeting for election of new officers and a NWSA banquet with speaker will end the convention.

The revised edition of the Concise Oxford Dictionary will include two new words, "sputnik" and "beatnik," it's announced. What about that other one we hear so often—"nogoodnik"?

CWS Ski Race Climaxes WUS

The climax to the WUS (World University Service) week festivities will be an Inter-living group ski race sponsored by the CWSC Alpine Club. The race is to be held to gain funds for the World University Service.

The race will be held at Stevens Pass, Saturday, April 11, at noon. The Giant Slalom will be set by Art Audett, ski-school director at Stevens Pass and in the Pacific North West. The course will not be difficult but will be scaled to meet the ability of all participating, Lee Jorgenson, Alpine Club president, said.

Each living group will be allowed a four man or woman team from their living group. The entry fee for each team will be $5 which should be paid by the dorm treasury. All persons interested in participating should contact their head residents for information and for entry blanks.

All entries should be completed and turned in to counselors no later than 5 p.m. Friday, March 13.

There will be two trophies awarded, one to the high scoring men's team and one to the high scoring women's team. Individual medals will be awarded to the No. one high scorers on each of the winning teams.

For further information come to the Alpine Club meeting to be held Tuesday, March 10, in the CUB Lounge at 7:30 p.m., Jorgenson said. Off-campus entries can be picked up and turned in to Mr. Quann's office in the CUB.

'White Incident' Union Program

An additional speaker in the Union has been added to the list for this quarter, Mike Kysar, SGA social vice president, said.

Humbert Williams will be speaking on "The Don White Incident." Williams is White's lawyer. White is scheduled to be executed for murder on March 25.

A documentary film on conditions surrounding the incident was made by KING TV. Williams will also have comments on the film.

Williams will be here Thursday, March 12 at 4 p.m. in the CUB Cage.

JB Tryouts Set 7 P.M. March 8

"Why should a righteous man suffer when it appears that some evil men don't?" "JB," the symposium play, attempts to answer this question when it is presented April 24 and 25.

Faculty, students and townspeople have the opportunity to perform creatively without previous experience in the play. "Twenty-one parts are available, nine male and twelve female roles," Earl Torrey, director, said.

Try-outs will be held on Sunday, March 8, in the HES auditorium at 7 p.m. Scripts are available on reserve in the library. The two act play stars JB, a rich modern business man who loses his wife, money and family. It is a modern version of Job in the Bible written by Archibald MacLeish.

Central's 'PAC' Faces Changes

The Central Political Affairs Commission is being restructured and will hold a meeting early in spring quarter, according to Terry Eggers SGA executive vice-president.

The PAC consists of the presidents of Young Democrats, Young Republicans, the NSA coordinator and a representative from the Crier.

The object of PAC will be to focus politics on this campus.

"This will be done by bringing more interesting speakers on various political topics to Central. Ideally, these speakers would be the candidates for public office. However, these men are limited, so more frequently the speakers will be persons who have been active in politics, but are now less active, such as ex-state senators or representatives," explained Eggers.

Student Displays Brighten CWS; Assist With Cultural Atmosphere

The art displays around school are often taken for granted, Reino Randall, head of the art department, recently commented. He also urged recognition of the amount of work put into the displays.

"The art department contributes to the school cultural atmosphere, and I can cite many examples of art work on campus," Randall added.

The CUB and the Grupe conference center are always decorated with a continually changing display of paintings from the art classes. Paintings are also hung for faculty functions. Several dorms have purchased some work done by students and the education department has purchased some for the offices.

The metal sculpture birds that stand in the CUB entrance were done by a former student, Don Coppock. Coppock is now doing work related to his field at Boeings. He plans to attend the University of Washington to get his Master of Fine Arts degree.

Bill Ritichie, a senior majoring in art, did the photographic mural covering an entire wall in the visual aids section of the library. Ritichie has also contributed photography pieces to Inscape and designed brochures for the school.

The library is now considering having a mural painted on another library wall by Rhys Court. He is also a senior art major.

Yet another piece of art work is on display in the library. A steel and bamboo mobile made by Central's Bob Purser, who is now in Peru for the Peace Corps, hangs in the music and art room.

Art work is always on display on the first and fourth floors of the Administration building. Jewelry, enameling, pottery and craft work are exhibited in the Industrial arts building.

The art department continually assists with arranging exhibits for the little gallery in the CUB.

CWSC Exhibits Japanese Arts

An exhibit of contemporary Japanese prints will be placed on display in the CUB Maze March 15.

The collection of 30 prints represents the work of 27 Japanese artists. The prints, circulated by the Japan Society, Inc. of New York, were lent to the Society by artists who entered prints in a contest sponsored by James Michener and the Charles E. Tuttle Company in 1960.

The exhibit is being sponsored by the CWSC Union Board.

UNDERGRADS, CLIP AND SAVE

AN UNDRESS REHEARSAL of a scene from "Pajama Game" presented by the CWSC drama department. The play started a five-day run on Tuesday. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Students are admitted free of charge. Admission for non-students is $1. Cast members shown are (L-R) Arnold Buntain, Les Lundberg and Ken Armitage.

Play's Cast Now Suave

"The Pajama Game" is in full swing now, giving smooth performances each night this week. But things haven't always been so smooth.

One minor worry all during rehearsals was the fact that the leading lady, Nicki Smith, had laryngitis. She didn't say or sing a word until the final week of rehearsals.

Sometimes she would mouth her words during practice. Other times the stage manager would follow her around the stage reading her lines for her. He would answer in dead-pan monotonous as the male lead, Martin Campbell, spoke impassioned words in tender love scenes.

More problems arose last week as the several directors got together for the first time.

Drama director Milo Smith insisted that everyone had to wear pajamas during the play. The cast would all be in pajamas, the ushers would wear pajamas, and so would the orchestra. But Robert Panerio, orchestra director, had other ideas. He flatly refused to have his orchestra wear pajamas for a performance. Smith suggested that they could at least wear pajama tops.

The orchestra is appearing in black tuxedos and black dresses. Miss Mina Zenor and Panerio also had a difference of opinion. Miss Zenor wanted the music for a finale number faster and Panerio wanted it slower.

He speeded up the music; she said well, maybe it didn't need to be much faster after all.

Hyakem On Schedule For Future Deadlines

Hyakem, the college yearbook, is progressing well and should be able to meet all future deadlines according to Miss Sue Swengel, organizations editor.

"All the groups have been turning in their pictures and copy on time this quarter," Miss Swengel said. "We had some trouble last quarter and have had to work hard to catch up this winter, but everything seems to be going smoothly now."

Sections completed thus far include living groups, fall quarter sports, and some of the various clubs.

Gustafson Sets Meeting Places

The time of registration and first meeting of the spring quarter student teachers with their college supervisors in the area of their placement has been released by Dr. R. D. Gustafson, director of student teachers.

Student teachers, outside of Kittitas county, register on the day of their first meeting in the centers. Students in Kittitas county register during the official college registration, Gustafson said.

Student teachers in Ellensburg-Kittitas will meet Wednesday, April 1, 9:30 a.m. in the conference center. Their spring vacation will be March 20 to 30.

Those student teaching in the Bellevue-Kirkland area will meet Monday, March 30, 1:30 p.m. in Central elementary school. Their spring vacation will be March 20 to 30.

Vancouver student teachers will meet Monday, March 23, 9 a.m. in the Public School Administration building. March 18 to 20 will be their spring vacation.

All student teachers in the Wenatchee - Eastmont - Cashmere area will have their first

Two, four, six, eight, prospective songleaders are going to congregate!

Donna Edwards, a member of the present Central songleading staff, announced that a meeting of all prospective song and cheer leaders will be held March 11 in room 213 of the CUB at 6:30 p.m.

CW Democrats Name Johnson

Adoption of a strong civil rights platform is among the plans of the Young Democrats for the Mock Political Convention, according to John Schroder, Young Democrats president.

Other plans include the nomination of President Johnson for the office of President. Main contenders for Vice President at this time are Adali Stevenson, Sargent Shriver, and Robert Kennedy, Schroeder said.

'Circle K's' Win Award

Circle K International, one of whose clubs serves Central, has been awarded the George Washington Honor Medal for its college campus citizenship and service program in 1963, Roger Asettine, president, said today.

This is the third time that Circle K International has been honored by the Freedoms Foundation.

Specifically, Circle K's work in promoting active citizenship by participating in service projects on the campus was singled out for praise by the Freedoms Foundation. A Freedoms Foundation award enjoys the same prestige and significance in the community service field that the "Oscar" does in the motion picture industry and the "Emmy" of the television world, Asettine said.

Circle K International is now in its ninth year and has more than 10,000 members on 525 college campuses in the United States and Canada. Seventy-six new clubs were chartered in 1963. Central's started December 17, 1963.

Winners Listed In 'Brain Battle'

Third through eighth place holders have been established in CWSC College Bowl competition, Bill Katri, College Bowl Chairman, said. Sixteen teams originally began. After seven weeks of games, only one more competition remains. First and second place holders will be determined March 10, 7 p.m., in the CUB Ballroom.

Placements are as follows: Circle K, 3rd; ROTC, 4th; Herodoteans, 5th; Munson, 6th; Jennie Moore, 7th; and Munro, 8th.

Barto and Off-campus have won the right to go on to the first and second place battle. Their game will be the only one played during the eighth and final week of the Bowl.

Mike Ingraham Reports

LOCKER ROOM

With winter sports over except for tournament competition, let's take a look at the spring sports outlook. We will start with the Baseball Team.

Wildcat baseball Coach Jim Nylander has 14 lettermen among the 40 candidates for the varsity squad. Heading the list is senior outfielder Bob Moawad, last year's leading hitter, with a .382 average, and junior pitcher Jim Clifton. Clifton, a right hander, posted a 3-2 season record, with 42 strike outs and a 1.80 ERA last season.

Nylander also has seven other starters back from last year. They include catcher Art Ellis, first baseman Doyle Hill, second baseman Joe Miller, third sacker Dale Lambert, short-stop Larry Snyder and outfielder Bob Werner. The only letterman pitcher is right hander Joe Buckley. Back from two years ago is outfielder Pete Ensley, who lead the club in hitting, third baseman Norm Bland, second baseman Dennis Oxway, and outfielder Jim Parker.

Nylander also has several outstanding junior college transfers and freshmen, including pitcher John Bumstead, from Everett and Yakima Junior College and catcher Gene Crater, a transfer from Columbia Basin Junior College. The freshmen include pitchers Don Martin, Mike Duey, Rich Stanford, and Earl, and catcher-first baseman Gordon Prentice. Also turning out this year is first sacker Rod Gilman, an outstanding high school player, who played in the Hurst sponsored All-State game three years ago.

The Wildcats will be playing in the eastern division of the Evergreen Conference again this year, along with Eastern Washington and Whitworth. The University of Puget Sound, Pacific Lutheran University, and Western Washington comprise the western division of the loop. The way the league is set up, the teams in each division play each other four times, and the teams from the other division twice during the regular season. The winners of each division will meet in a best of three play-off for the conference title at the end of the regular season.

Nylander looks for Eastern to be the Wildcats' top threat in the eastern division. The Savages are the defending division champions. In the western half of the league, Nylander feels that Western will be strong, pointing out that the Vikings are reportedly strengthened by the addition of two pitchers from the east coast.

The Wildcat baseball squad opens season play on March 31, entertaining the University of Washington in a single nine inning game on the college field, located behind Nicholson pavilion.

* * * * *

This corner would like to tip its hat to the Central swimmers. Coach Tom Anderson and his squad deserve a real pat on the back for their effort in last weekend's Evergreen Conference swimming meet in the Nicholson pavilion pool. The Central mermen placed second in the meet, behind the University of Puget Sound, who won the title for the second straight year. Central swimmers Gerry Malella and Jeff Tinius each broke three conference records to pace the Wildcats. Malella broke the standards in the 200 and 400 individual medleys and the 200 yard butterfly, and swam on the record setting 400 medley relay team. Tinius set his marks in the 500 yard freestyle, and 100 and 200 yard backstrokes. Tinius was also a member of the record setting relay team.

Coach Tom Anderson will take four swimmers to the NAIA National swimming meet at Hamline University, St. Paul, Minn. They include Malella, Tinius, Jack Ridley, who set a new conference record in the 1650 freestyle last weekend, and Tom Mitchell, who was second in the 500 yard freestyle, and third in the 200 yard freestyle, and he also came from behind to win the medley relay race for the Wildcats. There men will swim in their specialities and also in the 400 yard medley relay race in the national meet.

* * * * *

Congratulations are also in order to the Central wrestlers. In last weekend's NAIA District 1-2 competition, Ed Benson, heavy-weight and Dallas Delay, 177-pounder placed second in the two day meet. Eric Olson, 191-pounder placed fourth.

Coach Eric Beardsley will take Benson and Gerald George to the Pacific Coast Championships today and tomorrow at Cal Poly. George did not wrestle last week because of an arm injury, but is expected to be ready for the coast meet. Delay is not eligible for the tournament because of his freshman standing.

Cat Swimmers Place Second In Conference Meet

Central's swim team climaxed the most successful season in the college's history, placing second to defending champion UPS by only 36 points in the Evergreen Conference swimming championships last weekend in Nicholson pavilion pool.

The Cats took eight first places to UPS's six, and scored 136 points to UPS's 170 in the two day meet. Both of these represent the highest marks any Central squad has accomplished in the school's limited (four year) history of participation in the sport on a varsity basis.

The meet itself will go down in the books as one of the most exciting and competitive in the history of the conference. Over the two days, every record was broken with the exception of the one and three meter diving.

Leading the Cats climb into the contention for the championship were the two freshman who have stood out the entire season, Gerry Malella and Jeff Tinius.

The two tied for the individual high point total in the meet, scoring 24½ points each, with three first places and a part in the winning medley relay team. Next in the point standing were Byron Stauffer and John Jewell of UPS, with 22½ and 20½ points respectively.

The other winner for Central was Jack Ridley in 1650 yard (approximately one mile) freestyle. Ridley was sixth in the point standings with 16½ points for the meet.

UPS won the championship where it was predicted they would, exhibiting superior depth. They were content to allow the Cats to take the first places, and won the meet by taking 15 second place ribbons to Central's four.

The only winners besides the Cats and the Loggers were Eastern's Dick Griffith in both Diving events and Western's Dave Emory in the 100 yard butterfly.

Thus ended the 1964 season for the Cat swimmers. The only competition remaining will be at St. Paul, Minn. for the NAIA national championships. Making the trip will be the four freshmen who have formed the nucleus of the Cat squad, Gerry Malella, Jeff Tinius, Tom Mitchell and Jack Ridley. The meet will be held March 19-21.

Women Finish Basketball Play

Central's women's basketball team closed out their season last weekend, with a record of one win, one loss and one tie in the Pacific Northwest Women's Basketball Tournament at the University of British Columbia last weekend.

This brought their season's record to 12-1-1, completing what Miss Dorothy Purser, team coach, calls their most successful season ever.

The one win in the tournament was over the UBC Thunderets, a team which represented Canada in the Pan-American games last year. The Thunderets had been averaging over 60 points per game, but the Cats held down the high scoring team and pulled out a verdict of 16-15.

Although the defeat at the hand of Western was only the second loss that Central team has suffered in the past seven years, Miss Purser called this season the best because of the excellent defense the girls have played all season.

Coming up on the WRA spring sports schedule will be intra-collegiate Track and Field. Central will be the first college in the state to offer this sport on this basis.

Central Team Votes Honors To Three

Two seniors and a junior were honored by their teammates on the Central Washington State College basketball team and the conclusion of the 1963-64 season.

Bob Moawad, Kalama senior, was chosen the team captain, Jim Clifton, Puyallup junior was given the inspirational award, and Bob Werner, Seattle senior was chosen as Mr. Hustle.

Moawad completed his third season at Central averaging 3.1 points per game, but was team leading playmaker.

Clifton, averaged 13.7 points per game.

Werner completed his second and best season for the Cats, averaging 13.9 points per game and hitting 58.6 per cent of his shots. His aggressive play made him a natural for the award.

The squad also picked their all-Evergreen opponent team. Leading the selection was Tom Walen, PLU at center, with Bob Sprague, UPS and Bob Thomas of Western at the forward spots. The selected guards were John Utgaard and Jack Pelander, both of Whitworth.

Matmen Travel To Coast Meet

Gerald George and Ed Benson are representing Central Washington this weekend at Cal Poly in the annual Pacific Coast Wrestling Tournament.

George, the defending Pacific Coast champion in the 147-pound division will wrestle at 157 this year, while Benson is listed in the heavy-weight class. This is George's second appearance in the coast meet, and Benson's first.

Last weekend, four grapplers, Ed Benson, Eric Olson, Dallas Delay, and Rick Leifer participated in the NAIA District 1-2 tournament at Portland. The Central contingent, short on man-power because of injuries, placed seventh in the competition. Benson and Delay both placed second in their divisions.

George was also slated to wrestle, but an arm injury shelved the 157 pound star. Coach Eric Beardsley feels, however, that he will be ready for this weekend. Delay, a freshman, is through for the season because of his freshman status. He would lose a year's eligibility if he participated in the Coast tournament.

Following this weekend, the wrestlers will likely participate in the NAIA National meet at Spearfish S.D. March 19-21. Their showing today and tomorrow will be the determining factor on whether they go back to Spearfish.

Michigan State's new baseball coach, Danny Litwhiler, pioneered the idea to use an unbreakable mirror for pitchers. They could throw at it and still observe their form.

Honor Nicholson

pleasure when they received word of the selection.

Logue played basketball under Nicholson in 1954-55, and remembers him as always being willing to go to bat for any player.

Oakland noted that Nicholson has contributed not only to the college but to the community of Ellensburg, the Evergreen Conference and the NAIA as well.

"Nick always wanted his men to be citizens first and athletes second," Oakland continued.

Nicholson completed his 34th season as basketball coach last week, and has compiled a record of 505 wins against 271 losses. His 1950 team gained the Quarter-Finals in the NAIA Tournament.

He was president of the NAIA during the 1961-62 school year and has been a member of the NAIA executive committee for 10 years. He served as athletic director as Central from 1931 through 1962, and has coached every sport except baseball during his 34 years on the campus.

Nicholson is a graduate of Washington School of Law, and played football and basketball at the University in the mid 1920's.

Things have changed a lot since a Chevy was only a Chevy. Especially your ideas of what you want a Chevy to be.

So now you have the Jet-smooth Chevrolet—17½ feet of pure luxury, bumper to bumper. The size makes it a luxury car. But not the price.

Or you can choose the thrifty Chevy II, a 15¼-foot family car with all kinds of passenger and luggage space.

This year, your choice might be the new 16-foot-plus Chevelle, sized to fit nicely between Chevrolet and Chevy II (and between parking meters, with five whole feet left over).

Then, too, there's the sporty 15-foot Corvair, so right for so many people (you girls, in particular) that we've never touched an inch of it. And finally, Corvette—still 14½ feet and still too much for any true sports-car lover to say no to.

The long and short of it is, you don't have to go to any length to find exactly the kind of car you want. Just see the five different lines of cars at your Chevrolet dealer's.

ROTC Men Honor Coed

A long white carpet was rolled from the door to the queen's throne, the Air Force ROTC drill team marched smartly in and stood at attention on either side of the gleaming carpet, and Group Commander Stan Johnson and his date walked up to the throne between dozens of flashing rifles.

Each of the candidates walked up the white carpet with her escort and stood beside the throne.

Terri Burke was elected Coed Colonel! Johnson announced the news of the evening and crowned the surprised and elated queen of the 1964 Military Ball during intermission at the dance last Saturday night.

Miss Burke received the congratulations of the other finalists, said she was "too overwhelmed" to say anything, and was serenaded by her sponsors, the Advanced Corps, who sang "U.S. Air Force Blue."

Following another flashy display by the drill team as they marched out, the Coed Colonel and her escort started off the dancing.

Claude Myhre's band provided danceable music throughout the evening.

Social Vice President Mike Kysar reported that Myhre said he was "quite impressed with the facilities for the dance in the CUB ballroom."

CW Group Sets Broad Platform

The first meeting of the Central Washington State College Foundation, a non-profit incorporation, was held last Saturday and the Board of Trustees accepted bylaws and appointed a secretary to conduct the business of the Foundation.

Established to aid in its purpose of providing a quality education, the Foundation will provide a means for accepting gifts and grants which can be used by the college in meeting its goals.

Attending the meeting were Dr. Roy Patrick Wahle, Bellevue, Mrs. Frank Therriault, Ephrata, and Dr. Archie Wilson. Missing the meeting were Victor Bouillon, Ellensburg, and Mrs. Frederick Davis, Kirkland.

These five were appointed by the incorporators to conduct the initial business of the Foundation, until such bylaws were approved and an acting secretary named. Perry Mitchell, director of institutional research at Central, was named acting secretary.

The trustees of the Foundation will meet each month on the 21st day to conduct business.

The bylaws show membership in the Foundation includes the President of the College; the Director of Alumni; not more than five members of the College Board of Trustees; at least four members of the alumni association, not members of the College Board of Trustees, as nominated by the alumni board; and other as nominated by the membership and approved by a majority of the membership.

No woman, declares Zadok Dumkopf, ever went broke buying candles for her own birthday cake.

Candidates File For Legislature

At-large-candidates will file for six numbered positions on the SGA Council at the beginning of fall quarter 1964.

Persons representing on and off campus need a 2.5 GPA and two quarters of residence in college.

The candidates may not file for more than one position. They file for position number one through position number six. The top candidate for each position will be named in a general election.

"This system will provide qualified individuals a chance on the SGA council," Jim Fielder, SGA president said.

Four Attend WEA Meet

Members of the local chapter of SNEA attended the annual business meeting of WEA's Department of Classroom Teachers in Olympia on Feb. 28-29.

The voting delegate was Nancy Poremba, the co-social commissioner of SNEA, she was assisted by Mary Agnew, Judith Kennedy and Jim Madill, co-social commissioner of SNEA.

Friday evening the delegation attended a banquet at the Tye Motor Inn. The guest speaker was Dr. Thompson, president of U.P.S., who gave an address on the "Quest for Quality." Dr. Thompson emphasized the need for quality in today's teachers.

Saturday the business meeting was called to order at 9 a.m. in the House Chamber of the Capitol building. Included in the agenda was the election of the new DCT president, Mrs. Margaret Pratt of Clover Park.

The main part of the meeting was concerned with voting on resolutions which were formulated by the Resolutions Committee on Dec. 14, 1963.

Some of these resolutions are pertinent to student teachers for they pertained to the relationship between the student teacher and the cooperating and supervising teachers. Other resolutions concerned resolutions on salaries and certification of cooperating teachers.

Bits And Pieces . . .

A student at the University of Southern California started a bomb scare in an attempt to concentrate on his studies. He designed a time safe in which he placed his car fare and dinner money while he studied in the library. He couldn't quit studying and go home or get a snack until the safe opened. However, the ticking sound of the safe alarmed someone who called and reported a bomb in the building. The entire library was evacuated.

The following suggestion for catching a husband is written in an 1864 best seller, Hints on Husband Catching; "If you have good teeth, manage to display them as much as possible. Men like good nature in women and whatever your temper may be, a constant smile—especially if your teeth are beautiful—is very apt to produce a conviction in the male victim that your temper is really a very sweet one."

Student Loans Available Business Office Reports

The coffers are empty in the business office for the student loan fund, but Kenneth Courson, Central business manager, reports that several other loan funds are still available to qualified students.

The student loan fund, as of January 31, had $19,949 on loan to students. With loans up to $400 for seniors and $300 for other students, the student loan fund has a list of 16 students waiting for money to be repaid by borrowing students. Mr. Courson stated that the greatest portion of the fund is repaid during the summer.

National Defense Education Act loans are still available according to Mr. Courson. These loans are open to students with a grade point of 2.7 or above and a definite need for a loan.

United Student Aid Fund loans are also available at this time and are available to sophomores, juniors and seniors. Requirements for this loan are a grade point of 2.0 or better and a need for the loan. Loans are made through the students hometown bank, working in conjunction with the college. Interested students should contact the dean of men or dean of women.

Symposium Book Display Seen In CW Bookstore

Several hundred books, including the entire Harper cloister and additional Harper torch books, form the symposium book display at the bookstore.

Over 1,000 books representing more than 100 publishers were selected by Dr. Elwyn Odell and David Burt, symposium co-chairmen; and the faculty. These books will also be at the bookstore, James Allison said.

These books all relating to the symposium theme "Man Worshipping" include authors T.S. Eliot, Albert Schweitzer and Richard Ullman. Almost every type of religion, philosophies of general religion, and books by the scheduled speakers are part of the exhibit.

The bookstore is keeping a continuous inventory of the books to keep them available to the students, he added.
