POPULAR STUDENT AT NORMAL DIES

WALTER KRUSE, 19, IS TAKEN TO CENTRALIA TUESDAY FOR INTERMENT.

Walter Kruse, 19, of Centralia, a second year student at the W. S. N. S., died suddenly Monday morning of cerebral embolism.

Walter was well known on the campus and was popular among the students and faculty. He was a member of the class that will graduate next June. He resided at Eswin hall, the men's dormitory.

Walter was a graduate of the Centralia high school. He was born at Mt. Kitsa, N. Y.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Anna Kruse; a brother in San Francisco, and a brother in the navy.

His body was sent to Centralia Tuesday afternoon accompanied by B. A. Leonard, dean of men. Caryl Bingham, Marion Catron, and Ralph Jordan, his roommates at Eswin hall also accompanied the body.

To date funeral arrangements have not been received. Probably the body will be laid to rest in the Centralia cemetery the latter part of the week.

1,000 Mile Trip In "Galloping Zebra" Made By Students

NOTABLE JOURNEY AROUND THE LOOP PROVED FULL OF THRILLS.

Six of the notable high lights of our institution spent the spring vacation, between quarters, driving to the Sound by way of Portland. The trip covered some 1,000 miles of twists and turns which required six days to negotiate.

Horace Skelsey, Beryl Johnson, Adrian Duncan, James Osborne, Dick Krewow and George Keithahn were the representatives of the school on this wild trip.

Leaving Ellensburg Friday afternoon they flew to The Dalles, Ore., where they landed, and took time out for the much needed shut eye. This was necessary after spending the week before burning the midnight oil doing their quarter's studying. The following morning the flight continued, and Portland was the next stopping place. From Portland they journeyed north, passing through Kelso, Chehalis, Centralia and Tenino. Last but not least, Wilkeson, the home town of the great John Scoup, was visited.

Crowds in every town turned out to see the famous car, really only a gas propelled zebra, without brakes or ability to turn corners.

Tenino proved to be the downfall of our young heroes. They were asked to visit the institution of wickedness for speeding down Main street, which the boys really thought was a blind alley. Nevertheless they all enjoyed the trip; they state. Adrian Duncan caused the boys a lot of grief by fainting when the car, or gas propelled zebra, failed to make the curves on all four legs.

Visit in Yakima

Mrs. Beck and two small daughters spent a few days last week in Yakima at the home of Mrs. Beck's parents.

A young college graduate has learned one important lesson in the stern battle of life when he grasps the fact that his fraternity pin, even if conspicuously displayed, isn't going to get him anywhere. (Ohio State Journal.)

Whitman Mixed Glee Club Here Next Friday

WHITMAN PROGRAM TO BE EXCELLENT

TO BE GIVEN NEXT FRIDAY IN AUDITORIUM BY MIXED
CHORUS

The program for the Whitman Glee club which will be here next Friday, April 2, will be one of the best ever put on in the Normal school auditorium.

Howard E. Pratt, director of the organization, feels that the choral numbers on this year's program are the most interesting of any that have hitherto been chosen.

One of the most interesting choral numbers is "May Comes Laughing," a madrigal by May Strong, which won the award offered by an American composer for the past year.

The dance accompaniment by Thelma Shepherd and Sam Whittmore to the club's singing of "Gypsy Night" is an interesting and colorful specialty.

The Glee club is made up of nine sopranos, six altos, seven tenors and seven basses. They are accompanied by Agnes Little.

The orchestra, which is directed by Mrs. Esther Sundquist Bowers, consists of three violins, a viola, cello, flute, clarinet, cornet, trombone, drums and piano.

Admission to the concert will be 75 cents to all not holding A. S. B. passes.

Feminine Tells Practice Art On Normal Campus

ARCHERY CLASS OF 34 LASSIES
FINDS THE BULLS EYE
HARD TO HIT.

With the same self assurance as William Tell and the same love of sport as Robin Hood and his merry men, 34 girls turn out daily for archery. On some days the bullseye is actually hit three times. Such a lack of accuracy does not necessarily mean that the girls lack a strong will and a steady hand, for the class has just begun. Accuracy comes by way of experience.

Will those who think this is a mild sport witness the girls running after their arrows before they are used as a target by some impatient person, who is like a steed pawing the earth for action. Or look at the bruised wrists of the neglectful ones who have failed to provide themselves with a wrist protector.

Mock Marriage Features Party

An informal party was given on Tuesday evening by Lenore Mitty at the home of Mrs. Belle Pilcher. A mock marriage was the main feature in which Ruth Naught played the part of the sweet and gentle bride. Neola Lyle, the shy and obedient groom, made the bad mistake of wearing the globes as stockings. Kathryn Kelly won the first prize in singing paragraphs from newspapers.

Those present were Helen Kelleher, Peggy Eastman, Kathryn Kelly, Hallie Kuhnhausen, Grace Lewis, Neola Lyle, Ann Leland, Gertrude Garner, Grace Collins, Fern Brons, Bessie Morris, Ruth Naught, Janet Barclay and the hostess, Lenore Mitty.

NORMAL FACULTY ARE ON PROGRAM

WILL TAKE PART IN TEACHERS'
CONFERENCE AT SPOKANE
NEXT WEEK

Several members of the faculty are on the program for the Inland Empire Teachers' association which meets April 7, 8 and 9 in Spokane.

President Black is to be in charge of the health education section for which he has arranged a program. Miss Mary A. Grupe is secretary of the psychology section and will speak on the "Possibilities of Personality Study."

Mr. Fales will speak on "Modern Tendencies in Industrial Arts." An exhibit will be sent from the art department.

Faculty members who plan to attend are President Black, Miss Grupe, Mr. Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Gray, Mr. Fales and Mr. Stephens.

Enjoy a Picnic In Canyon Sneak Day

A group of faculty members and students took advantage of "Sneak Day" Friday afternoon by motoring down the river and eating a delightful picnic dinner around a camp fire.

Baseball, quoits and hiking were the chief entertainments of the afternoon. Those who made the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Quigley, Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stephens, and their families, and Albina Petrie and Florence Bounsall.

Later in the evening the party went to the Stephens home and played cards.

Guests From Tacoma

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gray entertained Mrs. Dr. Fredericks and small son of Tacoma. Dr. Fredericks and Mr. and Mrs. Gray were schoolmates at Cheney Normal. Mrs. Gray's father, Mr. Squibbs of Kennewick, visited with them over the week end.

"Sneak Day" Is An Event Long To Be Kept In Memory

A FEW "WISE" JUNIORS ARE PROPERLY PUNISHED FOR THEIR TEMERITY

Commotion reigned in Senior Hall at 12 o'clock last Thursday night.

The Seniors of Ellensburg Normal decided to have their annual Sneak Day on Friday, March 26. Unknown to anyone, they planned to sneak off to the Umtanum to eat, drink and be merry. Many gathered in Senior Hall on Thursday night to watch and wait for the approaching 5:30, at which time their train was to leave. A special car was ordered and their eats were taken to the depot on Thursday afternoon.

Although much precaution was taken by the Seniors to prevent the underclassmen and faculty from hearing of their departure, four wise young Juniors made their way to the train and hid.

Before leaving Ellensburg the Seniors had a few scuffles at the depot with the Juniors. Several Juniors were tied up and sent away in a taxi. The president of the Junior class was captured and taken with the Seniors.

Juniors Not So Wise

On arriving at Wymer the four wise young Juniors were found and started back to Ellensburg barefooted. While the breakfast, which was going to be served at the east end of the swinging bridge was being prepared, a practice game of baseball was played. The breakfast consisted of pork and beans, buns, ham and pickles.

As it was cold and everyone was excited, not much time was spent in eating breakfast. The crowd of about 150 Seniors soon coupled off and was seen hiking in all directions.

Mr. Harmon and Mr. Leonard, who were acting as chaperones, saw that the eats were taken to a nearby farm house. The lady of the house was introduced to Mr. Leonard and given orders to give no one except Mr. Leonard any of the eats. About noon, however, "Pop" Nelson was seen with half of the eats in a basket. How he got it, no one knows.

ORDER HYAKEM BY APRIL 1 OR NEVER

APRIL FOOL'S DAY POSITIVELY
LAST DATE; WILL BE A FINE VOLUME.

At a recent meeting of the Hyakem staff it was decided that April 1 would be the last day that subscriptions for the Hyakem would be accepted. This means that all who expect to receive a Hyakem must make a deposit of $1 on or before April 1.

It is necessary that immediate action be taken at this time, for all material must be sent, to the publishers, and the exact number of Hyakems to order determined by the first of the month. If 200 subscriptions are sold, but 200 Hyakems will be ordered, so upon the finality of this campaign which terminates April 1 rests the success of the Hyakem.

This book is expected to be the best ever put out in the history of the school as over 400 students and the entire teaching staff will be pictured. The cover and back will be stiff, made of the best imitation leather obtainable, partially covered with redish copper (Indian bronze color.) The insert pages are to be in crimson and black. In addition the book will contain pictorial and historical sections that will portray clearly the development of the school until the present time, the Normal school campus and nearby scenic places. In all the book will be highly valuable on account of its many pictures. "A picture on each page combined with satisfaction and the best annual of the year," is the staff's motto.

Remember the date. Avoid any unnecessary results by subscribing today before April Fool comes along.

TYPISTS

Senior Sneak Day for this year is now a thing of the past. We all had a fine time and enjoyed a day of relaxation from our studies.

But there are two significant things about Senior Sneak Day. In the first place it is not entirely a thing of the past, and, in the second place, it meant much more to all concerned than simply a day's good time.

The events of last Friday, and of the previous night, will live on long in the memories of all of us who participated. In future years when we look back upon our school days at W. S. N. S. that day will stand out as one of the high points. Long after all we learned in the classroom has been forgotten, we will remember the events of that long day. It may not take us long to forget the lessons Mr. Leonard has attempted to teach us, but it will be a long time before we forget how he knocked flies and played quoits. And, though we often frantically search for books in the library such events will hold small places in our memories in comparison to the search for the falls.

And the meals we eat at Kamola we will soon forget, but the breakfast we ate on the Yakima, and the dinner some of us didn't eat will long hold a place in our memory.

Vivid pictures, reproduced by kodak and in our memories, will long come back to us of the good times of that day. It is one of the big things we will remember of our Normal school days. It is one of the events that make school interesting, that makes us really love our Alma Mater.

Rival of Rip Is Inmate of Eswin; Try to Find Him

THIS GOOD LOOKING LAD IS ALSO KNOWN AS BOOK STORE SHEIK

Gather around closely, students, and we will tell you the story of how one young man of this institution acquired fame. You have all heard of the old saying regarding the matter of some men achieving greatness while others have it thrust upon them. This is not true of this young man's greatness. It grew on him.

We have class presidents aplenty and many similar officers of this institution, but we at Eswin have the longest sleeper in the school. We have statistics to prove this statement. We often wonder if he's running opposition to "Rip" in story. Don't laugh, we're serious. If this is not true we are open for conviction. I well know that you, who have not had the opportunity to meet this distinguished gentleman, would welcome an opportunity to do so. We certainly do wish that there was some way whereby we could make it possible for you to realize this ambition.

But, he's such a busy fellow that he never eats breakfast, never can be seen about the campus before 10:30 (these statements are the result of three months' observations). You might make a date to see him at Eswin, but don't come before noon. It's better to be safe, for he might be in bed, for he generally is at all times. Don't come when it's his turn to clean up the room for he doesn't do such things. The room might not be presentable for company. Now you might have a chance to lamp him in the Blue Room of Kamola. He's generally there between 6:30 and 10 Saturday and Sunday evenings.

If it's impossible for you to avail yourself of this opportunity you have but one chance left; call around at the book store and you will generally find him there in the absence of Mr. Boyes.

Now remember this when you do see him and are sure you have the right person, introduce yourself in

More Records To Be Shattered When Normal School Teams Meet On May 22

Track is a comparatively new sport among the normal schools of this state, but is speedily coming to a position of importance in the activities of the three schools. The imperative value of the training received is sportsmanship, individual excellence and demands that track receive the support and cooperation of all admirers of good, clean and wholesome athletics.

Only three times have the normal schools of the state met in this branch of athletics. Very creditable records have been established, but each year finds many of the previous records being broken. First year records were broken in 10 of the 14 events. The Wildcats broke four while Cheney and Bellingham were content with three each.

When the three teams vie for honors at Cheney on May 22 we will probably see more of the records broken.

ADVANCED RIDING CLASS PROGRESSING

TWO CLASSES OF FIVE EACH RIDE FOR HALF HOUR EVERY AFTERNOON.

The first advanced class in riding began March 8. Previous to this, only beginners' classes were conducted but only advanced classes will ride this quarter. Every girl in school who can ride horseback and likes to do it has the privilege of further developing her equestrienne accomplishments by joining the advanced riding class. Two classes with five girls each ride every afternoon for a half-hour under the direction of Frank Woods. The classes are for two weeks only. The girls are learning the art of jumping ditches and hedges.

Those who are in the present two-weeks class are Gladys Erickson, Betty Crosby, Jeanette Sloan, Josephine Mandell, Margaret Carlot, Martha Davis, Hazel Ellis, Bernice Sloop, Bernice Rice, Virginia Malloy and Betty Brown. Those who took it the last two weeks were Marie Lowe, Isobel Crow, Calla Whitely, Marcia Brewer, Mayme Wells, Betty Duffy, Dorothy Harm, Marion Happer.

A Dreamer's Dream

By D. Lerium Tremens
ESWIN HALL IN QUARANTINE

Not that the boys are dishonest but they get several prizes for being quick, and it seems that their fingers are always sticky and continually picking up something.

Well, the day is did, and so are the rest of us. Things learned:

1—We believe in the principle of "the survival of the fittest," after watching the inmates get in line for lunch.

2—An Edison record is as hard to break as Henry Ford after observing the men down on their prayer-bones giving English lessons to them.

3—Glover's actions knocked out the old idea of being cave men just because our whiskers are long.

Daylight came but no one saw it. The breakfast was here before anyone was up. It was some time before we could get down to assimilate the vitamins and then it was rather stale. Byers cut his hand on an icicle that was hanging to his coffee cup. This on top of having to stay away from school nearly broke the poor man's heart and he can't figure out how school can keep going on without us.

The mouse slept the sleep of the dead, but Hartman heard Scroup last night and got up before noon and the rest of the boys, and deposited the cute little rodent in the hip pocket of Hale's trousers. Lee then acted as a hearse until the air began to get blue, so the funeral services were held at once. It was too bad but we can expect most anything when in quarantine.

All the men who can grow whiskers have a little misplaced eyebrow this morning. Samson found some shoe-blackening and they resemble so many Turks now, not only in looks, but if the Turks are any wilder than this bunch—God spare the Armenians.

Cute? That is no name for the way that the boys look today in all their glory, with mustaches flying in the breeze. Mr. Don Samson Frenchy Ranny Renfro takes the cake and will qualify for a cake-eater if the shoe-blackening holds out.

The pool tournament was staged today. It was a bloody battle from start to finish, with many upsets in the dope. The two left are Krekow and Renfro; we are predicting a victory for the little fellow tomorrow when the final playoff is over and the scores announced. It took all day, and so far is the best known way of killing time. The excitement waxed high throughout, and Hale in his rooting costume kept the stands in one mad uproar consistently. Various colored beer bottles of yesteryear were used as decorations. The prize will be a caustic styptic pencil for the inmates to burn off their whiskers and eliminate shaving.

Papa Harmon led the choir in some religious singing this evening that makes tears come to our eyes whenever we think of it. It was a little late for services, but this gang is always late. Even Dick Krekow was born the second of April. But no fooling, the choir WORK was excellent and Miss Miller would be wild, but not with joy, if she had heard them.

Kuest called up to let us know that he was K. O., and favored the boys with a selection from Wageman's, where he was moved to Saturday. He had Clayton play the Alma Mater on the cornet and we fixed the Edison horn to the telephone receiver and had a top-notch of a radio concert. Oh, we are buggers, all right!

And this is Monday, and all is still well. Who knows what might have happened today had we been out of this asylum? Ask Sandy Claws. But don't forget the fifteenth of April—a nice surprise for you and a chance to laugh your fill.

We have begun to think that this is a leper colony, maybe, if they don't let us out soon. No one seems to have any authority on just when we will leave, but we like it here. That is, we would like to leave here at once, i. e., with all possible speed. This makes me think of a S. O. S. call, only we are not at sea. We should use P. D. Q., I guess.

The dusk fell—but it didn't hurt us any. Things learned:

1—All is not gold that glitters; try and imagine those mustaches.

2—Stevenson says that this is a whale of a place to be; even a mouse won't live here.

3—Quarantine is like a faint heart, in that it will never win a fair lady.

4—If ontogeny recapitulates piliogeny, We are living in the Dark Ages.

Tuesday: We were met with the news that we might be let out on probation. This met with violent refusal on the part of all the lepers and to quell the dissatisfaction Bill had to promise us another quarantine next quarter. There will be keen competition for rooms in the hall then, so when you read this please don't tell anyone else about it.

Scroup, Seppi, Hale and Renfro were absent at breakfast this morning. Two of them slept, but McNeilly thought that Scroup rang for tea, and when Mac brought it to him he found that there was some mistake, and as Scroup wouldn't take it internally Mac gave it to him externally.

The pool tournament ended this afternoon and Krekow is the winner. It was the most hotly contested battle of the whole affair and the final score was 50 to 48. Renfro put up a brave battle and at one time had his opponent, 26 to 16, but was unable to hold the lead.

We also had a track meet this morning and Iles far outclassed the rest of us. His form was superb, and he high-jumped about .300 and bowled 5 ft. 6 in. He put the shot in 10 flat, and ran the mile in 1 hour and 3 seconds. Being an all around athlete, he had to run all around the house for the mile.

EQUESTRIENNE HAS BROKEN ARM

While horseback riding on Sunday afternoon Miss Margaret Summers sustained a very painful compound fracture of her right arm. At the time of the accident were with her Betty Crosby, Marion Hopper and Alyne Miller of Tacoma.

The girls were returning from their ride on the old Yakima road when the horses broke into a gallop. Miss Summers lost her stirrups and in trying to regain them and stop her horse lost her balance and fell on her right arm.

People who were passing at the time rushed her to the Ellensburg general hospital. She was moved to the infirmary on Monday. She is suffering very much with the extreme pain. Miss Alyne Miller is with her.

Miss Summers is a popular student at the Normal school. She is a Junior Ace, an officer of the Music Majors' club and a feature writer for the Student Opinion.

"Sneak Day" Is An Event Long To Be Kept In Memory

How About This?

Ivan McCollom, Dorothy Rechel, Allen Potter and Hermia Thomson left soon after breakfast to find Umtanum Falls, three miles away. They searched all day unsuccessfully. They arrived in Ellensburg about 6 o'clock Friday evening after a long walk over the hills. All the Seniors wonder at the fact that these four individuals searched diligently from dawn until dark for the rushing torrents of the leaping, foaming, dashing Umtanum Falls.

Dayton is the Hero

Manette Carr says that Dayton Glover played the part of the hero very well, while on their hikes over the hills.

Three couples who claim the title for hiking the longest distance are Harry Hensley and Dorothy Cope, Paul Nelson and Mildred Bowden and Rudolph Seppi and Bella Whitehouse.

About 12:30 146 Seniors were seen standing in line for their lunch, which consisted of pork and beans, buns, ham, pickles and coffee. A group of Juniors, who had come up in the early part of the day in a truck, were revengefully looking on.

After lunch many pictures were taken and flowers gathered. All during the day the chief occupation of some was sleepin'. Mr. Leonard spent a very restful hour on a pile of rocks. Although boulders of great size were being rolled down the mountainsides by some very energetic folks, Mr. Leonard slumbered on, despite the loud, crashing noises.

We Question This

Just before train time Dick Krekow and Ilda Mannering returned from a half-hour hike. They claimed they had found Umtanum Falls. Mr. Harmon says they should get the title for swift hiking. Sixteen miles in a half hour is very good work.

The train bringing the Seniors, who had spent a day that will always be remembered, arrived in Ellensburg at 3:55 p. m.
