The Wildcats defeated Strong Five in a hard-fought battle last 10 minutes of the Y, M. C. A. game.

The locals had the edge on the "Y" quintet at nearly all stages of the game. The Normals took the lead at the start of the game and were never headed, pulling away by 3 to 2 in the last quarter.

Next Friday is Election Day at Normal School

There will be an election next Friday which is of consequence to all in the Normal School. The purpose of the election is to select 10 students who are outstanding and who manifest considerable ability.

Junior and senior elections will be held for five juniors and the seniors will vote for five seniors of two and three years' standing.

The ballot box will be in the usual place in the tenement of the Administration building and will be accessible between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. and 6 and 9 p.m. and 10 and 11 p.m., respectively. One junior president, one senior president, one junior secretary, and one senior secretary will be elected for the school.

MISS CARPENTER IS BEST IN PHYSICAL ED

All the data from the physical examinations gives the girl the test which has been recorded and Marguerite Carpenter has led the list in such as a team with a total score of 20 points in promoting an entertainment that is both a physical and physical achievement. The team for the school is 164.

The following girl are the 11 highest on the list, in the order of their ratings: Marcella Egan, Robert Lachter, Nora Aggins, kings, Ethel Sabine, Velma Meredith, Frances, Eizen, and. Skelsey and Bertha Laugh.

The girls on the books are an average of 50 points for first year students. The standards have been taken from examinations given to students entering the United States and are still in the experimental stage. However, the girl's scores followed very closely. The highest score in this form of the test is 137.4 points. There are 8 girls in the upper quartile and the lower quartile and the remaining number fall into the middle quartile.

In practically all cases the scores of girls were taking the examination were lower by a score of 10 points or more than the scores made by the same girl last year.

Miss Wilmuth has the scores of 9 out of 10 girls. The team, and will be glad to tell any girl her total score if she will come to her office.

Mixed Group of Talented Singers Promises Excellent Program

The Whitman College Glee Club is scheduled to appear for its spring concert on April 2. The Whitman choral group is made up of a college in the Northwest which has had a long and successful choral and an 12-piece orchestra, that is most difficult to surpass. The program promises entertainment and can be enjoyed by an audience of all ages. It is the best program ever produced by the college.

Physical Defects Decrease Among College Students

Jackson, Miss. Jan. 26.—A recent demonstration at the University of Michigan of a group of students in the form of a physical examination has attracted the attention of educational and professional groups in the University.

In a letter to Dr. F. J. Underwood, a health officer of the University, it was stated that the number of students examined had increased from 7 to 9 years ago.

There are 37 freshmen with properly fitted glasses. Nine years ago I found only six with glasses.

WILDCATS DEFEAT STRONG "Y" FIVE IN HOT GAME, 26-15

COACH QUIGLY'S LADS TAKE LEAD EASY AND NEVER LOSE IT

The Wildcats lived up to their reputation for fighting against the odds in one of the closest games in recent years. The last 10 minutes of the Y, M. C. A. game were a real test for the Wildcats.

The locals had the edge on the "Y" quintet at nearly all stages of the game. The Normals took the lead at the start of the game and were never headed, pulling away by 3 to 2 in the last quarter.

The following are the players:

Ronald Wils, Thursday evening the Wildcats played the Ronald Athletic club five at the Ronald Athletic club. The game was fast, but marked by unnecessary roughness. The locals had the edge on the Ronald Athletic club team, scoring 9 points. The game was close, and the Wildcats played a very good game.

The locals had the edge on the "Y" quintet at nearly all stages of the game. The Normals took the lead at the start of the game and were never headed, pulling away by 3 to 2 in the last quarter.

It makes everyone of us feel cheap and feel sorry for the yell leader when the yell falls flat, doesn't it? Then why don't you yell instead of just sulking there, for you look as cheap as you feel. If you're afraid to be the only one around who yells — yell anyway. You'll be admired for it and before you know it you'll not be the only one in your vicinity that's yelling.

Just put yourself in the yell-leader's place sometimes and you will make yells yell, especially if others just stand and look at you. It's too bad to have so little cooperation in yelling when represented in the number of spectactors.

FIRE PROGRAM IS PRESENTED BY COLLEGIANS IN NORMA L A U D I T O R I U M.

On its annual tour the University of Washington band also offered one of the best programs in its history at the Homecoming school auditorium Friday evening. The attendance numbered several thousand and there was evident appreciation of a smaller auditorium for so small an entertainer.

People have learned to expect of the band an unusual type of individual talent and the repertoire this year has been a semi-classical, rather than a program of choice, purpose of which was to have the concert Friday night generally favored by the students. Several ensembles which introduced a touch of the novelty with the heavier numbers the club song in spied harmonizing with spirit.

A string quartet, which included in its personnel David Burnum, George Lewis, Glenn Martin, and Ivan Ditmars served acceptably as a substitute for full orchestra staff which had featured the concert is a year ago. The quartet harmonized individually and contributed essential variety to the group of popular songs. The members were Coramones, Nodini, Cletis, Esserman, Alec Campbell Jr. and Parkover Cook. Also Campbell, Birkman, and David Litton Burnum, violinist, have talent which transcends even a high average of singing. The mixed group in which they appeared as soloists were among the best performers of the evening.

The program wound into the path of the burlesque towards its conclusion. Enough for the sentimental variety acts which tersely the audience quite from any formal meetings it may have enjoyed. College humor may be that philosophers profess say of it in ethics classes the following day but there were nothing like so bad or so foolish—the most sensitive audience takes pleasure packing its accumulated years and won't even laugh at the door occasionally. Lindsay McCarron, David Ingman, and Ivan Ditmars as accompanied in "The Purdum" and George Cooper and Fred Marcus in a banjo and song act were both responsible for that particular type of foolishness.

Predictably the modest number of the Glee club was the Kamola Hall association at the Friday night dance, which was unusually well attended. The dance was witness to the concert, as over 220 students were among the performers in the auditorium. The school orchestra playing for the dance was augmented in several numbers by David Lincoln, Lavare Reiffers, and Ivan Ditmars, pianist.

Be Inquisitive, Mr. Black Advises

Monday, January 11, at 1 o'clock, Professor Black, to discuss a topic on the ancient civilization classes in the history department.

We must be inquisitive," said Mr. Black. "We should want to know the ‘why’ and ‘what’ of everything."

He gave the classes two warnings:

(1) How to get ink stains off of the new library floor without hurting the floor.

(2) What causes the change of state from hydrogen to helium in the library?

Notice

The numbers of the Crimson "Y" are always changing for their annual variety ball, which is to be held at the hotel the third or last of Jan. Anyone wishing to invite outside guests kindly leave the address with Mr. Olin and an invitation will be sent.
